PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

The Swami Swarupananda, the first President of the Advaita Ashrama, Mayavati, and late editor of the Prabuddha Bharata, compiled the Present edition of the Bhagavad-Gita, with the collaboration of his Brother-Sannyasins at Mayavati, and some of the Western disciples of Swami Vivekananda. The manuscripts were begun in 1901, and were ready for the Press by the end of 1903, but through unavoidable circumstances the publication was delayed. It was only after the passing away of the Swami Swarupananda, that the work was brought out in monthly instalments in Prabuddha Bharata, and this work is now presented to the public in convenient book form, after being carefully edited, and enlarged with additional comments.

The object of the compiler was to make accessible to the Indian public who are educated in English but have a limited knowledge in Sanskrit, and also to the Western world, an edition of the Celestial Gita, in which they will feel sufficient interest to follow the original text, and thus create a taste for the study and interpretation of holy Sanskrit literature. How far the compiler has been successful in his object can be gleaned from the following pages. His thoughtful comments following the commentaries of the great Acharyas, and illuminating sidelights thrown on intricate places, will, we trust, be of much help to the study of the Gita, especially to a beginner. An elaborate Index has been subsequently added.

PREFACE

A word of explanation as to the paraphrase, is necessary here : Though the literal meaning of each word is given, yet to avoid the awkwardness of language and confusion of sense to a beginner, the equivalents of case terminals of such words as are used to qualify some other words in the sentence, are omitted in most cases.

We hope this edition will meet a much-felt want, not only in India but in all English-speaking countries.

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

In this second edition little alteration has been made except a general revision of the book, and the substitution of the old Sanskrit Index by a new English one. It is hoped that the book will be more acceptable to the public in its present form.

FOREWORD

THE Srimad-Bhagavad-Gitâ occurs in the Bhishma Parva of the Mahâbhârata and comprises 18 chapters from the 25th to the 42nd. The discourse between Arjuna and Krishna on the battlefield, on the eve of the war which forms the subject-matter of the work, was strung together in seven hundred verses and put in its place in the body of his great history by Vyâsa.

The Gitâ opens with Dhritarâshtra's query to Sanjaya about the progress of events. In the second chapter of the Bhishma Parva, we find Vyâsa offering the power of sight to the blind king, that he might see the war. Dhritarâshtra declined to have it, saying he did not care to have eyes with which only to see the death of his own people ; but he would like to hear what was happening. On this the great Rishi Vyâsa said, that all the occurrences in connection with the war would be reflected in the mind of Sanjaya, and he would faithfully report them to Dhritarâshtra.

The Gitâ is called an Upanishad, because it contains the essence of Self-knowledge, and because its teachings, like those of the Vedas, are divided into three sections, Karma (work), Upâsanâ (devotion) and Jnâna (knowledge).

The first chapter is introductory. The second is a summary of the whole work, e.g., in II. 48 and the connected Slokas, self-less work devoid of desire for fruits, is taught for the purification of the heart ; in II. 61 and the connected Slokas devotion is taught to the pure-hearted, to qualify them further for the highest Sannyasa, which last is taught in II. 71 and the connected Slokas.

It is also usual to divide the work into three sections illustrative of the three terms of the Mahāvākya of the Sāma-Veda, "Thou art That" (Chhând. Upa, VI. viii. 7.). In this view the first six chapters explain the path of work without desire for fruits, and the nature of "Thou." The next six chapters deal with devotion and the nature of "That." The last six describe the state of the highest knowledge and the nature of the middle term of the Mahāvākya, in other words, the means of re-establishing the identity of "Thou" and "That."

The central teaching of the Gītâ is the attainment of Freedom, by the performance of one's Swadharma or duty in life. "Do thy duty without an eye to the results thereof. Thus shouldst thou gain the purification of heart which is essential for Moksha,"—seems to be the keynote of Krishna's teachings to Arjuna.

It is well-known why the Gītâ came into existence. It was owing to Arjuna's unwillingness to do his duty as a Kshatriya—to fight for a just cause—because it involved the destruction of his own people. Not that Arjuna did not recognise the justice and right of the cause, but he would rather renounce the world and try for Moksha than kill his relatives and friends. Krishna's characterisation of this weakly sentimental attitude of Arjuna is well-known. He called it "Un-Arya-like delusion, contrary to the attainment alike of heaven and honour" and exhorted Pârtha to "yield not to unmanliness" but to "cast off this mean faint-heartedness." (II. 2-3). "Could a coward who fails to do his duty, be worthy to attain Moksha?"—seems to be Krishna's rejoinder. Could a man not purified by the fire-ordeal of his Swadharma, could a renegade, a slave, attain Moksha? No! says the Lord. And this is the lesson we Indians have forgotten all these years, though we have been reading and discussing the Gitâ all the time.

INVOCATION*

O blessed Mother
Who showerest (upon us) the nectar of Advaita
In the form of (these) eighteen chapters!
Thou Destroyer of rebirth!
Thou loving Mother!
Thou Bhagavad-Gitâ!
 Upon Thee I meditate.

Thee, O Vyâsa, of lotus-eyes,
And mighty intellect,
Who hast lighted the lamp of wisdom
Filled with the oil of the Mahâbhârata,
 Thee we salute.

O Thou who art the Refuge
Of the (ocean-born) Lakshmi,
Thou in whose right hand is the shepherd's crook,
Who art the milker of the divine nectar of the Gitâ,
 To Thee, O Krishna, to Thee our salutation!

The Upanishads are even as the herd of cows.
The Son of the cowherd as the milker,
Pârtha as the sucking-calf,
And men of purified intellect the drinkers,
 Of this, the supreme nectar, the milk of the Gitâ.

*Another rendering of the "Meditation."

Him the All-blissful Mâdhava,
Do I salute !

To that Supreme One Who is bodied forth in Brahmâ,
In Varuna, in Indra, in Rudra and Maruts ;
That One Whom all divine beings praise with hymns ;
Him Whom the singers of Sâma-Veda tell ;
Him of Whose glory, sing in full choir,
The Upanishads and Vedas ;
Him Whom the Yogis see, with mind absorbed in perfect meditation ;
Him of Whom all the hosts of Devas and Asuras
Know not the limitations,
To Him, the Supreme Good, be salutation,—
Him we salute. Him we salute. Him we salute.

॥ प्रथमोऽध्यायः ॥

FIRST CHAPTER.

धृतराष्ट्र उवाच ।

धर्मक्षेत्रे कुरुक्षेत्रे समवेता युयुत्सवः ॥

मामका पाण्डवाश्चैव किमकुर्वत सञ्जय ॥ १ ॥

I. 1.

धृतराष्ट्रः Dhritarâshtra उवाच said :

(भोः) सञ्जय O Sanjaya धर्मक्षेत्रे on the centre of religious activity कुरुक्षेत्रे in Kurukshetra युयुत्सवः desirous to fight समवेताः assembled मामकाः my people च and पाण्डवाः the Pândavas किम् what एव indeed अकुर्वत did do.

Dhritarâshtra said :

Tell me, O Sanjaya ! Assembled on Kurukshetra, the centre of religious activity, desirous to fight, what indeed did my people and the Pândavas do?

[True it is that the two parties are gathered together for battle, but was the influence of Kurukshetra, the sacred centre of religious and spiritual activity from of old, barren of any result? Did not the spiritual influence of the spot affect any of the leaders in a way unfavourable to the occurrence of the battle?—is the purport of Dhritarâshtra's question.]

सञ्जय उवाच ।

दृष्ट्वा तु पाण्डवानीकं व्यूढं दुर्योधनस्तदा ॥

आचार्यमुपसङ्गम्य राजा वचनमब्रवीत् ॥ २ ॥

I. 2.

सञ्जयः Sanjaya उवाच said :

तदा तु But then पाण्डवानीकं the Pândava forces व्यूढं in battle-array दृष्ट्वा having seen राजा दुर्योधनः king Duryodhana आचार्यम् (द्रोणं) the teacher (Drona) उपसंगम्य approaching वचनम् word अब्रवीत् said.

Sanjaya said :

But then king Duryodhana, having seen the Pândava forces in battle-array, approached his teacher Drona, and spoke these words :

[Sanjaya's reply beginning with "But then" and describing Duryodhana's action is a plain hint to the old king that his son was afraid. For he went to his teacher (regarded as father) instead of to the commander-in-chief, as a child in fright would run to its parents in preference to others.]

पश्येतां पाण्डुपुत्राणामाचार्यं महतीं चमूम् ॥

व्यूढां द्रुपदपुत्रेण तव शिष्येण धीमता ॥ ३ ॥

I. 3.

आचार्य O teacher तव शिष्येण by your disciple धीमता talented द्रुपदपुत्रेण son of Drupada व्यूढां arrayed पाण्डुपुत्राणाम् of the sons of Pāndu एतां this महतीं mighty चमूम् army पश्य behold.

“Behold, O Teacher ! this mighty army of the sons of Pāndu, arrayed by the son of Drupada, thy gifted pupil.

[As a scorpion would sting even that whose protection it sought to be free from fear, so did the wicked Duryodhana insult his teacher. His meaning in plain words comes to this: just think of your stupidity in teaching the science of fight to the son of Drupada and to those of Pāndu. They are now arrayed to kill you !]

“Here (are) heroes, mighty archers, the equals in battle of Bhima and Arjuna—the great warriors Yuyudhâna, Virâta, Drupada; the valiant Dhrishtaketu, Chekitâna and the king of Kâshi; the best of men, Purujit, Kunti-Bhoja and Shaivya; the powerful Yudhâmanyu, and the brave Uttamaejas, the son of Subhadrâ, and the sons of Draupadi,—lords of great chariots.

[महारथः great-charioted : one who is well-versed in the science of war and commands eleven thousand bowmen.]

“Hear also, O Best of the twice-born ! the names of those who (are) distinguished amongst ourselves, the leaders of my army. These I relate (to you) for your information.

[However well-versed in the science of war you might be, you are after all a Brâhmana (best of the twice-born) a lover of peace, that is to say, a coward. It is therefore natural for you to be afraid of the Pândava force. But we too have, take heart, great warriors in our ranks—is the veiled meaning of Duryodhana’s words.]

“Yourself and Bhishma and Karna and Kripa, the victorious in war, Asvatthâmâ and Vikarna and Jayadratha, the son of Somadatta.

[Afraid lest he had said too much Duryodhana is flattering Drona, by mentioning the latter before even Bhishma and qualifying Drona’s brother-in-law with the phrase 'victorious in war,' a move likely to touch the heart of most mortals.]

अन्ये च बहवः शूरा मदर्थे त्यक्तजीविताः ॥

I. 9.

मदर्थे For my sake त्यक्तजीविताः determined to lay down (their) lives नानाशस्त्रप्रहरणाः having diverse weapons and missiles सर्वे all युद्धविशारदाः well-skilled in fight अन्ये च and other बहवः many शूराः heroes (सन्ति) (are).

“This our army defended by Bhishma (is) impossible to be counted, but that army of theirs, defended by Bhima (is) easy to number.

[In ancient Indian warfare, one commanding a force had for his main-stay a defender about him, whose position was no less important. Here are given the names of the chief defenders, and not of the chief commanders.]

The verse is often interpreted to mean that Duryodhana considers his army inefficient and that of the enemy efficient. But this view seems inapposite to the context.]

अयनेषु च सर्वेषु यथाभागमवस्थिताः ॥

“(Now) do, being stationed in your proper places in the divisions of the army, support Bhishma alone.”

[Since I cannot expect from you any initiative, do what you are told to do,—seems to be Duryodhana's intention.]

तस्य संजनयन् हर्षं कुरुवृद्धः पितामहः ॥ having sounded शङ्खं conch दध्मौ blew.

That powerful, oldest of the Kurus, Bhishma the grandsire, in order to cheer Duryodhana, now sounded aloud a lion-roar and blew his conch.

[All eyes were turned upon Duryodhana and the penetrating intelligence of Bhishma detected his fear; and since Drona took no notice of Duryodhana's words, knowing his grandson as he did, he had no difficulty in understanding that the latter had spoken to his teacher in a way which called forth Drona's coldness instead of his enthusiasm. The grandsire's heart was moved in pity and hence the action on his part described in the above verse. It should here be noted that this action, amounting to a challenge, really began the fight. It was the Kaurava side again which took the aggressor's part.]

Then following Bhishma, conchs and kettle-drums, tabors, trumpets and cowhorns blared forth suddenly from the Kaurava side and the noise was tremendous.

And the terrific noise resounding throughout heaven and earth rent the hearts of Dhritarâshtra's party.

[Verses 14-19 are full of hints about the superiority of the Pândava party and the consequent sure defeat of Dhritarâshtra. The figure to which Sanjaya draws the old king's attention as first taking up Bhishma's challenge, is described by him as the Lord of Fortune and the Pândava—the best of the Pându princes. Note also the details in which the chariot, horses and conchs of the Pândava party are described, and finally though the army of the Kauravas were more than a third as much again as that of the Pândavas, the noise made by the former was only tremendous, whereas that of the latter was not only tremendous but filled the earth and sky, with reverberations and rent the hearts of the former.]

Then, O Lord of Earth, seeing Dhritarâshtra's party standing marshalled and the shooting about to begin, that Pândava whose ensign was the monkey, raising his bow, said the following words to Krishna :

[In view of the sudden change of feeling that is to come over Arjuna it should be noted how full of the war-spirit we find him in this verse.]

What pleasure indeed could be ours, O Janârdana, from killing these sons of Dhritarâshtra? Sin only could take hold of us by the slaying of these felons.

[Felons: âtatâyi, one who sets fire to the house of, administers poison to, falls upon with a sword on, steals the wealth, land and wife of, another person. Duryodhana did all these to the Pândava brothers. According to the Artha Shâstras, no sin is incurred by killing an âtatâyin, even if he be thoroughly versed in Vedanta. But Arjuna seems to argue, "True, there may not be incurred the particular sin of slaying one's own kith and kin by killing the sons of Dhritarâshtra inasmuch as they are âtatâyins, but then the general sin of killing is sure to take hold of us, for Dharma Shâstra which is more authoritative than Artha Shâstra enjoins non-killing."]

Therefore ought we not to kill our kindred, the sons of Dhritarâshtra. For how could we, O Mâdhava, 'gain happiness' by the slaying of our own kinsmen?

Though these, with understanding overpowered by greed, see no evil due to decay of families, and no sin in hostility to friends, why should we, O Janârdana, who see clearly the evil due to the decay of families, not turn away from this sin?

कुलक्षये प्रणश्यन्ति कुलधर्माः सनातनाः

कुलक्षये On the decay of a family सनातनाः immemorial कुलधर्माः family religious practices प्रणश्यन्ति disappear धर्मे नष्टे spirituality being destroyed कृत्स्नं the whole उत also कुलं family अधर्मः impiety अभिभवति overcomes.

On the decay of a family the immemorial religious rites of that family die out. On the destruction of spirituality, impiety further overwhelms the whole of the family.

On the prevalence of impiety, O Krishna, the women of the family become corrupt ; and women being corrupted, there arises, O Vârshneya, intermingling of castes.

Admixture of family, indeed, is for the hell of the destroyers of the family ; their ancestors fall, deprived of the offerings of rice-ball and water.

[Verily, confusion of family is the hell of destroyers of family. (For then do) their own ancestors fall, deprived &c. This refers to the well-known Srâddha ceremony of the Hindus, the main principle of which consists in sending helpful thoughts to the dead relations, as well as to all the occupants of Pitri-loka (a temporary abode, immediately after death) accompanied with (to make the thoughts more forcible) concrete offerings. The poor are also fed to secure their good wishes.]

By these misdeeds of the destroyers of the family, bringing about confusion of castes, are the immemorial religious rites of the caste and the family destroyed.

We have heard, O Janârdana, that inevitable is the dwelling in hell of those men in whose families religious practices have been destroyed.

कार्पण्यदोषोपहतस्वभावः With (my Kshatriya) nature overpowered by the taint of weak commiseration धर्मसंमूढचेताः with a mind in confusion about Dharma (duty) त्वां Thee पृच्छामि I ask मे for me यत् which श्रेयः good स्यात् is तत् that निश्चितं decidedly ब्रूहि say अहं I ते Thy शिष्यः disciple त्वां Thee प्रपन्नं taken refuge मां me शाधि instruct.

With my nature overpowered by weak commiseration, with a mind in confusion about duty, I supplicate Thee. Say decidedly what is good for me. I am Thy disciple. Instruct me who have taken refuge in Thee.

[Dharma is the ness, the law of the inmost constitution of a thing. The primary meaning of Dharma is not virtue or religion, but that is only its secondary significance. Fighting in a just cause is the religious duty or Dharma of a Kshatriya, while the same is a sin to a Brâhmana, because it is contrary to the law of his being. Working out one's Karma according to the law of one's own being is therefore the Dharma or religion or way to salvation of an individual. The cloud of Karma hides the Self-Sun from the view. The means which exhaust this cloud without adding to it and thus help in one's Self-restoration is one's Dharma.

Thy disciple : Until this declaration has been made, the Master may not give the highest knowledge.]

Sanjaya said :

Having spoken thus to the Lord of the senses, Gudâkesha, the scorcher of foes, said, "I shall not fight, O Govinda !" and became silent.

[The object of Sanjaya in using these names is to remind Dhrtarâshtra—who may naturally be a little elated at the prospect of Arjuna's not fighting—that this is only a temporary weakness, since by the presence of the Lord of the senses all ignorance must eventually be dispelled. Arjuna's own nature also is devoid of darkness. Is he not the conqueror of sleep, and the terror of foes?]

विषीदन्तं sorrowing तं to him इदं this वचः word उवाच spoke.

To him who was sorrowing in the midst of the two armies, Hrishiksha, as if smiling, O descendant of Bharata ! spoke these words.

[Smiling—to drown Arjuna in the ocean of shame. Krishna's smile at Arjuna's sorrow is like the lightning that plays over the black monsoon cloud. The rain bursts forth, and the thirsty earth is saturated. It is the smile of the coming illumination.]

The Blessed Lord said :

Thou hast been mourning for them who should not be mourned for. Yet thou speakest words of wisdom. The (truly) wise grieve neither for the living nor the dead.

[Words of wisdom : Vide I. 35—44.]

It is not that I have never existed, nor thou, nor these kings. Nor is it that we shall cease to exist in the future.

[Of course Krishna here does not mean that the body is immortal, but refers to the true Self, behind all bodies.]

deluded.

As are childhood, youth, and old age, in this body, to the embodied soul, so also is the attaining of another body. Calm souls are not deluded thereat.

[According to this, the continuity of the ego is no more interrupted by death than by the passing of childhood into youth and youth into old age in this body.

Calm souls: Those who have become calm by Self-realisation.]

Notions of heat and cold, of pain and pleasure, are born, O son of Kunti, only of the contact of the senses with their objects. They have a beginning and an end. They are impermanent in their nature. Bear them patiently, O descendant of Bharata.

[They have a beginning and an end : as distinguished from the Permanent Self. The more one is able to identify oneself with the Permanent Self, the less one is affected by the agreeable and disagreeable conditions of life.

Impermanent in their nature : That is, the same object which gives pleasure at one moment gives pain at another, and so on.]

That calm man who is the same in pain and pleasure, whom these cannot disturb, alone is able, O great amongst men, to attain to immortality.

[Thus perfect sameness amidst the ills of life means full and unbroken consciousness of our oneness with the Immortal Self. Thus is immortality attained.]

नासतो विद्यते भावो नाभावो विद्यते सतः ॥

is not तत्त्वदर्शिभिः by the knowers of the Truth तु indeed अनयोः उभयोः of these two अन्तः the final truth दृष्टः seen.

The unreal never is. The Real never is not. Men possessed of the knowledge of the Truth fully know both these.

[Unreal : Real : The determination of the nature of the Real is the quest of all philosophy. Sri Krishna here states that a thing which never remains the same for any given period is unreal, and that the Real on the other hand is always the same. The whole of the phenomenal world, therefore, must be unreal, because in it no one state endures for even an infinitesimal division of time. And that which takes note of this incessant change, and is therefore itself changeless,—the Atman, Consciousness,—is the Real.]

That by which all this is pervaded,—That know for certain to be indestructible. None has the power to destroy this Immutable.

[That by which all this is pervaded, i.e. He that pervades all this as the Witness.]

Of this indwelling Self,—the ever-changeless, the indestructible, the illimitable,—these bodies are said to have an end. Fight therefore, O descendant of Bharata.

[Arjuna's grief which deters him from his duty of fighting against the Kauravas is born of ignorance as to the true nature of the Soul. Hence Sri Bhagavân's strong and repeated attempts to illumine him on the subject.]

य एनं वेत्ति हन्तारं यश्चैनं मन्यते हतम् ॥

उभौ तौ न विजानीतो नायं हन्ति न हन्यते ॥ १९ ॥

II. 19.

यः Who एनं this (Self) हन्तारं slayer वेत्ति knows यः च and who एनं this हतं slain मन्यते thinks उभौ both

तौ these न not विजानीतः know अयं this (Self) न not हन्ति slays न not हन्यते is slain:

He who takes the Self to be the slayer, he who takes It to be the slain, neither of these knows. It does not slay, nor is It slain.

[Cf. Katha Up. I. ii. 19-20.]

न जायते म्रियते वा कदाचि-

न्नायं भूत्वा भविता वा न भूयः ॥

अजो नित्यः शाश्वतोऽयं पुराणो

न हन्यते हन्यमाने शरीरे ॥ २० ॥

II. 20.

अयं This (Self) कदाचित् ever न not जायते is born वा or म्रियते dies वा or न भूत्वा not having been भूयः again भविता comes into being (इति) न (it is) not. (Another paraphrase) वा Or भूत्वा having been भूयः again न भविता ceases to be (इति) न (it is) not. अजः unborn नित्यः eternal शाश्वतः changeless पुराणः ever-Itself अयं this (Self) शरीरे the body हन्यमाने being killed न not हन्यते is killed.

This is never born, nor does It die. It is not that not having been It again comes into being. (Or according to another view: It is not that having been It again ceases to be). This is unborn, eternal, changeless, ever-Itself. It is not killed when the body is killed.

[This sloka refers in the sense of denial to the six kinds of modification inherent in matter : birth, subsistence, growth, transformation, decay, and death.]

अविनाशिनं नित्यं य एनमजमव्ययम् ॥

He that knows This to be indestructible, changeless, without birth, and immutable, how is he, O son of Prithâ, to slay or cause the slaying of another?

[How is he to slay?—referring to Arjuna. To cause the slaying—referring to Krishna's own part.]

वासांसि जीर्णानि यथा विहाय

II. 22.

नरः A man यथा as जीर्णानि worn-out वासांसि clothes विहाय casting off अपराणि others नवानि new गृह्णाति takes तथा so देही the embodied जीर्णानि worn-out शरीराणि bodies विहाय casting off अन्यानि others नवानि new संयाति enters.

Even as a man casts off worn-out clothes, and puts on others which are new, so the embodied casts off worn-out bodies, and enters into others which are new.

[As one only puts off the old, when one already possesses the new garment, so the embodied is already entering a new body in the act of leaving this. The Upanishad compares this to the movement of a leech, which has already established a new foothold before leaving the old.]

नैनं छिन्दन्ति शस्त्राणि नैनं दहति पावकः ॥

II. 23.

शस्त्राणि Weapons एनं this (Self) न छिन्दन्ति cut not पावकः fire एनं This न दहति burns not आपः waters एनं This न क्लेदयन्ति wet not च and मारुतः wind न शोषयति dries not.

This (Self), weapons cut not ; This, fire burns not ; This, water wets not ; and This, wind dries not.

अच्छेद्योऽयमदाह्योऽयमक्लेद्योऽशोष्य एव च ॥

नित्यः सर्वगतः स्थाणुरचलोऽयं सनातनः ॥ २४ ॥

II. 24.

अयं This (Self) अच्छेद्यः cannot be cut अयं this अदाह्यः cannot be burnt अक्षेयः cannot be wetted अशोष्यः च एव and cannot also be dried अयं this नित्यः changeless सर्वगतः all-pervading स्थायः unmoving अचलः immovable सनातनः eternal.

This Self cannot be cut, nor burnt, nor wetted, nor dried. Changeless, all-pervading, unmoving, immovable, the Self is eternal.

अव्यक्तोऽयमचिन्त्योऽयमविकार्योऽयमुच्यते ॥

तस्मादेवं विदित्वैनं नानुशोचितुमर्हसि ॥ २५ ॥

II. 25.

अयं This (Self) अव्यक्तः unmanifested अयं this अचिन्त्यः unthinkable अयं this अविकार्यः unchangeable उच्यते is said अस्मात् therefore एवं thus एनं this विदित्वा knowing अनुशोचितुं to mourn न अर्हसि oughtest not.

This (Self) is said to be unmanifested, unthinkable, and unchangeable. Therefore, knowing This to be such, thou oughtest not to mourn.

[This Self is infinite and partless, so can be neither subject nor object of any action.]

अथ चेनं नित्यजातं नित्यं वा मन्यसे मृतम् ॥

तथापि त्वं महाबाहो नैनं शोचितुमर्हसि ॥ २६ ॥

II. 26.

अथ च But if एनं this (Self) नित्यजातं constantly born नित्यं constantly वा or मृतं dead मन्यसे thinkest तथापि even then महाबाहो mighty-armed त्वं thou एनं this शोचितुं to mourn न अर्हसि oughtest not.

But if thou shouldst take This to have constant birth and death, even in that case, O mighty-armed, thou oughtest not to mourn for This.

[Krishna here, for the sake of argument, takes up the materialistic supposition, and shows that even if the Self were impermanent, sorrow ought to be destroyed, since in that case there would be no hereafter, no sin, and no hell.]

जातस्य हि ध्रुवो मृत्युध्रुवं जन्म मृतस्य च ॥

तस्मादपरिहार्येऽर्थे न त्वं शोचितुमर्हसि ॥ २७ ॥

II. 27.

हि For जातस्य of that which is born मृत्युः death ध्रुवः certain मृतस्य च and of that which is dead जन्म birth ध्रुवं certain तस्मात् therefore अपरिहार्ये अर्थे in an unavoidable matter त्वं thou शोचितुं to grieve न अर्हसि oughtest not.

Of that which is born, death is certain, of that which is dead, birth is certain. Over the unavoidable, therefore, thou oughtest not to grieve.

[This sloka concerns only those who are not yet free. So long as there is desire, birth and death are inevitable.

[Therefore thou oughtest not to grieve : Since you cannot control the inevitable and preserve the bodies of your relations, work out your own Karma and go beyond both birth and death.]

अव्यक्तादीनि भूतानि व्यक्तमध्यानि भारत ॥

भारत O Bhârata भूतानि beings अव्यक्तादीनि unmanifested in the beginning व्यक्तमध्यानि manifested in the middle state अव्यक्तनिधनानि एव unmanifested again in the end तत्र there का what परिदेवना grief.

All beings are unmanifested in their beginning, O Bhârata, manifested in their middle state and unmanifested again in their end. What is there then to grieve about?

[Beings : In their relationships as sons and friends, who are mere combinations of material elements, correlated as causes and effects.

The idea here is that that which has no existence in the beginning and in the end, must be merely illusory in the interim, and should not therefore be allowed to have any influence upon the mind.]

आश्चर्यवद्वदति कश्चिदेन-

माश्चर्यवद्वदति तथैव चान्यः ॥

आश्चर्यवच्चैनमन्यः शृणोति

II. 29.

कश्चित् Some one एनं this (Self) आश्चर्यवत् as a wonder पश्यति looks upon तथा एव च and so also अन्यः another आश्चर्यवत् as a wonder वदति speaks अन्यः च another again एनं This आश्चर्यवत् as a wonder शृणोति hears कश्चित् च and yet another श्रुत्वा अपि though hearing एनं This न एव वेद knows not at all.

Some look upon the Self as marvellous. Others speak of It as wonderful. Others again hear of It as a wonder. And still others, though hearing, do not understand It at all.

[The sloka may also be interpreted in the sense that those who see, hear and speak of the Self are wonderful men, because their number is so small. It is not therefore remarkable that you should mourn, because the Atman is so difficult to comprehend.]

देही नित्यमवध्योऽयं देहे सर्वस्य भारत ॥

तस्मात्सर्वाणि भूतानि न त्वं शोचिर्तुमर्हसि ॥ ३० ॥

II. 30.

भारत O Bhârata अयं this देही Indweller सर्वस्य of all देहे in the body नित्यं ever अवध्यः indestructible तस्मात् therefore त्वं thou सर्वाणि all भूतानि beings शोचितुं to mourn न अर्हसि oughtest not.

This, the Indweller in the bodies of all, is ever indestructible, O descendant of Bharata. Wherefore thou oughtest not to mourn for any creature.

[Krishna here returns to His own point of view.]

Looking at thine own Dharma, also, thou oughtest not to waver, for there is nothing higher for a Kshatriya than a righteous war.

[That is to say, it is the duty of a Kshatriya to fight in the interest of his country, people and religion.]

यद्ब्रूक्ष्या चोपपन्नं स्वर्गद्वारमपावृतम् ॥ battle सुखिनः happy क्षत्रियाः Kshatriyas च verily सन्ते gain.

Fortunate certainly are the Kshatriyas, O son of Prithâ, who are called to fight in such a battle, that comes unsought as an open gate to heaven.

[The Shâstras say that if a Kshatriya fighting for a religious cause falls in the battlefield, he at once goes to heaven.]

अथ चेत्त्वमिमं धर्म्य संग्रामं न करिष्यसि ॥

ततः स्वधर्मं कीर्तिं च हित्वा पापमवाप्स्यसि ॥ ३३ ॥

II. 33.

अथ चेत् But if त्वं thou इमं this धर्म्य' righteous संग्रामं warfare न करिष्यसि wouldst not do ततः then स्वधर्मं own Dharma कीर्तिं च and honour हित्वा forfeiting पापं sin अवाप्स्यसि shalt incur.

But if thou refusest to engage in this righteous warfare, then, forfeiting thine own Dharma and honour, thou shalt incur sin.

The world also will ever hold thee in reprobation. To the honoured, disrepute is surely worse than death.

[The present argument,—slokas 33-36, assumes that the cause in hand is already proved to be right. Hence it could only be from cowardice that Arjuna could abandon it. Even a hero may be weakened by the stirring of his deepest emotions.]

Dying thou gainest heaven; conquering thou enjoyest the earth. Therefore, O son of Kunti, arise, resolved to fight.

Having made pain and pleasure, gain and loss, conquest and defeat, the same, engage thou then in battle. So shalt thou incur no sin.

[It is always the desire for one of the pairs of opposites that binds. When an act is done without attachment either for itself or its fruit, then Karma can be worked out without adding to its store, and this leads to Freedom.]

The wisdom of Self-realisation has been declared unto thee. Hearken thou now to the wisdom of Yoga, endued with which, O son of Prithâ, thou shalt break through the bonds of Karma.

[Yoga :—Karma Yoga, or that plan of conduct which secures the working out of past Karma ; non-accumulation of new ; and the striving for Self-realisation with the whole of the will. In this discipline, one's sole object in life is Self-realisation ; hence no importance is attached to anything else. Thus all actions are performed without attachment, or care for results. So no new Karma is made : only the already accumulated is exhausted. And at the same time, the whole will is left free to devote itself to the achievement of Self-realisation alone.

In the preceding slokas, 11—25, Krishna has given the point of view of the highest knowledge, the ancient Brahmajñāna. In the 25th and 27th we have a purely materialistic standpoint. Slokas 28 to 37 give the attitude of a man of the world. In the 38th we have an anticipation of the Yoga. And in what is to follow, we have Sri Krishna's own contribution to the philosophy of life.]

In this, there is no waste of the unfinished attempt, nor is there production of contrary results. Even very little of this Dharma protects from the great terror.

[Waste of the unfinished attempt : A religious rite or ceremony performed for a definite object, if left uncompleted, is wasted, like a house unroofed which is neither serviceable nor enduring. In Karma Yoga, however, that is, action and worship performed without desire, this law does not apply, for every effort results in immediate purification of the heart. Production of contrary results: In worship for an object, any imperfection in the process produces positive loss instead of gain. As in cases of sickness, the non-use of the right medicine results in death. The great terror: Being caught in the wheel of birth and death.]

In this, O scion of Kuru, there is but a single one-pointed determination. The purposes of the undecided are innumerable and many-branching.

[In Karma Yoga, the one goal is Self-realisation. The undecided (that is, about the highest), naturally devote themselves to lower ideals, no one of which can satisfy. Thus they pass from plan to plan.]

भोगैश्वर्यप्रसक्तानां तयापहृतचेतसाम् ॥

व्यवसायात्मिका बुद्धिः समाधौ न विधीयते ॥ ४४ ॥

II. 42. 43. 44.

पार्थ O Pârtha अविपश्चितः the unwise वेदवादस्ताः taking pleasure in the panegyric statements of the Vedas अन्यत् anything else न अस्ति does not exist इति this वादिनः declaring कामात्मनः full of desires स्वर्गपराः with heaven as their highest goal याम् which इमां this (well-known) पुष्पितां flowery जन्मकर्मफलप्रदाम् leading to (new) birth as the result of their works भोगैश्वर्यगतिं प्रति for the attainment of pleasure and power क्रियाविशेषबहुलां exuberant with various specific actions वाचं word प्रवदन्ति expatiate upon भोगैश्वर्यप्रसक्तानां of (people) deeply attached to pleasure and power तया by that अपहृतचेतसां with their discrimination stolen away व्यवसायात्मिका set बुद्धिः determination समाधौ in the mind न विधीयते is not formed.

O Pârtha, no set determination is formed in the minds of those that are deeply attached to pleasure and power, and whose discrimination is stolen away by the flowery words of the unwise, who are full of desires and look upon heaven as their highest goal and who, taking pleasure in the panegyric words of the Vedas, declare that there is nothing else. Their (flowery) words are exuberant with various specific rites as the means to pleasure and power and are the causes of (new) births as the result of their works (performed with desire).

[Samâdhi has been rendered into 'mind' in the above. The generally accepted significance of the term (absorption in God-consciousness produced by deep meditation) would give an equally consistent and happy meaning : Persons attached to pleasure and power cannot have perfect steadiness of mind in divine meditation.

Panegyric words of the Vedas: The Karma Kânda or the sacrificial portion of the Vedas which lays down specific rules for specific actions and their fruits, and extol these latter unduly. Nothing else: Beyond the heavenly enjoyments procurable by the sacrificial rites of the Vedas.]

त्रैगुण्यविषया वेदा निस्त्रैगुण्यो भवार्जुन ॥

निर्द्वन्द्वो नित्यसत्त्वस्थो निर्योगक्षेम आत्मवान् ॥ ४५ ॥

II. 45.

वेदाः The Vedas त्रैगुण्यविषयाः deal with the three Gunas अर्जुन O Arjuna (त्वं thou) निस्त्रैगुण्यः free from the triad of Gunas भव be निर्द्वन्द्वः free from the pairs of opposites नित्यसत्त्वस्थः ever-balanced निर्योगक्षेमः free from getting and keeping आत्मवान् established in the Self.

The Vedas deal with the three Gunas. Be thou free, O Arjuna, from the triad of the Gunas, free from the pairs of opposites, ever-balanced, free from (the thought of) getting and keeping, and established in the Self.

[The Vedas deal with etc. : That is to say, the Vedas treat of relativity. Pairs of opposites : Dvandva, all correlated ideas and sensations, e.g., good and bad, pleasure and pain, heat and cold, light and darkness, etc.

Guna is a technical term of the Sankhya philosophy : also used in the same sense by the Vedanta. Prakriti or Nature is constituted of three Gunas ; Sattva (equilibrium), Rajas, (attraction), Tamas (inertia). Prakriti is the three Gunas, not that she has them. 'Guna is wrongly translated as quality ; it is substance as well as quality, matter and force. Wherever there is name and form, there is Guna. Guna also means a rope, that which binds.]

यावानर्थं उदपाने सर्वतः संप्लुतोदके ॥

II. 46.

सर्वतः Everywhere संप्लुतोदके being flooded उदपाने in a reservoir यावान् as much अर्थः use विजानतः of the knowing ब्राह्मणस्य Brāhmaṇa सर्वेषु in all वेदेषु the Vedas तावान् so much (use).

To the Brāhmaṇa who has known the Self, all the Vedas are of so much use as a reservoir is, when there is a flood everywhere.

[A man possessed of Self-knowledge has no need whatever of the Vedas. This does not, however, mean that the Vedas are useless ; only to the knower of Brahman they have no value, as the transient pleasures derivable from them are comprehended in the infinite bliss of Self-knowledge..]

कर्मण्येवाधिकारस्ते मा फलेषु कदाचन ॥

मा कर्मफलहेतुर्भूर्मा ते सङ्गोऽस्त्वकर्मणि ॥ ४७ ॥

II. 47.

कर्मणि In work एव only ते thy अधिकारः right कदाचन ever फलेषु in fruits मा not कर्मफलहेतुः the producer of the results of acts मा भूः shouldst not be अकर्मणि in inaction ते thy सङ्गः attachment मा not अस्तु let be.

Thy right is to work only; but never to the fruits thereof. Be thou not the producer of the fruits of (thy) actions; neither let thy attachment be towards inaction.

[Be thou not the producer etc.: That is, do not work with any desire for results, for actions produce fruits or bondage only if they are performed with desire.

Karma primarily means action, but a much profounder meaning has come to be attached to this word. It means the destiny forged by one in one's past incarnation or present: the store of tendencies, impulses, characteristics, and habits laid by, which determines the future embodiment, environment and the whole of one's organisation.

Another meaning of Karma often used in reference to one's caste or position in life, is duty, the course of conduct which one ought to follow in pursuance of the tendencies which one acquired in one's past, with a view to work them out and regain the pristine purity of the Self.]

योगस्थः कुरु कर्माणि सङ्गं त्यक्त्वा धनञ्जय ॥

सिद्धसिद्धोः समो भूत्वा समत्वं योग उच्यते ॥ ४८ ॥

II. 48.

धनञ्जय O Dhananjaya योगस्थः steadfast in Yoga सङ्गं attachment त्यक्त्वा abandoning सिद्धसिद्धोः in regard to success and failure समः the same भूत्वा being कर्माणि actions कुरु perform समत्वं evenness of mind (in regard to success and failure) योगः Yoga उच्यते is called.

Being steadfast in Yoga, O Dhananjaya, perform actions, abandoning attachment, remaining unconcerned as regards success and failure. This evenness of mind (in regard to success and failure) is known as Yoga.

दूरेण ह्यवरं कर्म बुद्धियोगाद्धनञ्जय ॥

बुद्धौ शरणमन्विच्छ कृपणाः फलहेतवः ॥ ४९ ॥

II. 49.

धनञ्जय O Dhananjaya हि as बुद्धियोगात् than work performed with the mind undisturbed by thoughts of results दूरेण by far कर्म work अवरं inferior बुद्धौ in evenness of mind शरणं refuge अन्विच्छ seek फलहेतवः seekers after results कृपणाः wretched.

Work (with desire) is verily far inferior to that performed with the mind undisturbed by thoughts of results. O Dhananjaya, seek refuge in this evenness of mind. Wretched are they who act for results.

बुद्धियुक्तो जहातीह उभे सुकृतदुष्कृते ॥

तस्माद्योगाय युज्यस्व योगः कर्मसु कौशलम् ॥ ५० ॥

II. 50.

बुद्धियुक्तः Endued with evenness of mind इह in this (life) उभे both सुकृतदुष्कृते virtue and vice जहाति casts off तस्मात् therefore योगाय to Yoga युज्यस्व devote thyself योगः Yoga कर्मसु in work कौशलं dexterity.

Endued with this evenness of mind, one frees oneself in this life, alike from vice and virtue. Devote thyself, therefore, to this Yoga. Yoga is the very dexterity of work.

[Alike from vice and virtue: A follower of Karma Yoga can have no personal motive for any action. Our action without motive becomes colourless, loses its character of vice or virtue.

Dexterity of work: It is the nature of work to produce bondage. Karma Yoga is the dexterity of work because it not only robs work of its power to bind, but also transforms it into an efficient means of freedom.]

कर्मजं बुद्धियुक्ता हि फलं त्यक्त्वा मनीषिणः ॥

जन्मबन्धविनिर्मुक्ताः पदं गच्छन्त्यनामयम् ॥ ५१ ॥

II. 51.

बुद्धियुक्ताः Possessed of evenness of mind मनीषिणः the wise कर्मजं फलं the fruit of action त्यक्त्वा abandoning जन्मबन्धविनिर्मुक्ताः freed from the fetters of birth अनामयं beyond evil पदं state हि verily गच्छन्ति go to.

The wise, possessed of this evenness of mind, abandoning the fruits of their actions, freed for ever from the fetters of birth, go to that state which is beyond all evil.

यदा ते मोहकलिलं बुद्धिर्व्यतितरिष्यति ॥

तदा गन्तासि निर्वेदं श्रोतव्यस्य श्रुतस्य च ॥ ५२ ॥

II. 52.

यदा When ते thy बुद्धिः intellect मोहकलिलं taint of illusion व्यतितरिष्यति crosses beyond तदा then श्रोतव्यस्य of what is to be heard श्रुतस्य च and of what is heard निर्वेदं indifference गन्तासि thou shalt attain.

When thy intellect crosses beyond the taint of illusion, then shalt thou attain to indifference, regarding things heard and things yet to be heard.

[The taint of illusion : the identifying of the Self with the non-Self, the ego.]

श्रुतिविप्रतिपन्ना ते यदा स्थास्यति निश्चला ॥

समाधावचला बुद्धिस्तदा योगमवाप्स्यसि ॥ ५३ ॥

II. 53.

यदा When ते thy श्रुतिविप्रतिपन्ना tossed about by the conflict of opinions बुद्धिः intellect अचला firmly established

समाधौ in the Self निश्चला immovable स्थास्यति will remain तदा then योगं Self-realisation अवाप्स्यसि shalt attain.

When thy intellect,—tossed about by the conflict of opinions—has become immovable and firmly established in the Self, then thou shalt attain Self-realisation.

अर्जुन उवाच ।

स्थितप्रज्ञः का भाषा समधिस्थस्य केशव ॥

स्थितधीः किं प्रभाषेत किमासीत ब्रजेत किम् ॥ ५४ ॥

II. 54.

अर्जुन उवाच Arjuna said :

केशव O Keshava स्थितप्रज्ञस्य of the (man of) steady wisdom समाधिस्थस्य of the (man) merged in Samâdhi का what भाषा description स्थितधीः (the man of) steady wisdom किं what प्रभाषेत speaks किं what (how) आसीत sits. किं what (how) ब्रजेत walks.

Arjuna said :

What, O Keshava, is the description of the man of steady wisdom, merged in Samâdhi? How (on the other hand) does the man of steady wisdom speak, how sit, how walk?

[Arjuna is asking, (1) what is the state of the mind of the man of realisation when in Samâdhi? and (2) how is its influence shown in his conduct when out of it?

Steady wisdom: Settled conviction of one's identity with Brahman gained by direct realisation.]

श्रीभगवानुवाच ।

प्रजहाति यदा कामान्सर्वान्पार्थ मनोगतान् ॥

आत्मन्येवात्मना तुष्टः स्थितप्रज्ञस्तदोच्यते ॥ ५५ ॥

II. 55.

श्रीभगवानुवाच The Blessed Lord said :

पार्थ O Pârtha यदा when सर्वान् all मनोगतान् of the mind कामान् desires प्रजहाति casts off आत्मनि एव in the Self alone आत्मना by the Self तुष्टः satisfied तदा then स्थितप्रज्ञः of steady wisdom उच्यते is said :

The Blessed Lord said :

When a man completely casts away, O Pârtha, all the desires of the mind, satisfied in the Self alone by the Self, then is he said to be one of steady wisdom.

[This answers the first part of Arjuna's question.]

दुःखेष्वनुद्विग्नमनाः सुखेषु विगतस्पृहः ॥

वीतरागभयक्रोधः स्थितधीर्मुनिरुच्यते ॥ ५६ ॥

II. 56.

दुःखेषु In adversity अनुद्विग्नमनाः of unshaken mind सुखेषु in happiness विगतस्पृहः without hankering वीतरागभयक्रोधः free from affection, fear and wrath मुनिः Muni स्थितधीः of steady wisdom उच्यते is said.

He whose mind is not shaken by adversity, who does not hanker after happiness, who has become free from affection, fear, and wrath, is indeed the muni of steady wisdom.

[This and the following two slokas answer the second part of Arjuna's question, as to the conduct of one of perfect realisation.

Muni : Man of meditation.]

यः सर्वत्रानभिन्नो हस्तत्तत्प्राप्य शुभाशुभम् ॥

नाभिनन्दति न द्वेष्टि तस्य प्रज्ञा प्रतिष्ठिता ॥ ५७ ॥

II. 57.

यः Who सर्वत्र everywhere अनभिन्नो हः without attachment तत् तत् whatever शुभाशुभं good and evil प्राप्य receiving न अभिनन्दति does not rejoice न द्वेष्टि is not vexed तस्य his प्रज्ञा wisdom प्रतिष्ठिता is fixed.

He who is everywhere unattached, not pleased at receiving good, nor vexed at evil, his wisdom is fixed.

[Not pleased etc. : consequently he does not praise or blame. This is an answer to the query : "How does he speak?"]

यदा संहरते चायं कूर्मोऽङ्गानीव सर्वशः ॥

इन्द्रियाणीन्द्रियार्थेभ्यस्तस्य प्रज्ञा प्रतिष्ठिता ॥ ५८ ॥

II. 58.

यदा When च also अयं this (Yogi) कूर्मः tortoise अङ्गानि limbs इव like इन्द्रियार्थेभ्यः from sense-objects इन्द्रियाणि senses सर्वशः completely संहरते withdraws तस्य his प्रज्ञा wisdom प्रतिष्ठिता is steadied.

When also, like the tortoise its limbs, he can completely withdraw the senses from their objects, then his wisdom becomes steady.

[Withdraw the senses : bring the mind back upon the Self from all sense-objects. This is known as pratyâhâra in Yoga.

To explain the sloka more fully : a man of the highest realisation can, at any moment, shake himself clear of all impressions of the sense-world and go into Samâdhi, with the ease and naturalness of a tortoise drawing its limbs within itself.]

विषया विनिवर्तन्ते निराहारस्य देहिनः ॥

रसवर्जं रसोऽप्यस्य परं दृष्ट्वा निवर्तते ॥ ५६ ॥

II. 59.

निराहारस्य Abstinent देहिनः of the man विषयाः objects विनिवर्तन्ते fall away रसवर्जं leaving the longing (तु but) परं the Supreme दृष्ट्वा having seen अस्य of this (man of settled wisdom) रसः longing अपि even निवर्तते falls away.

Objects fall away from the abstinent man, leaving the longing behind. But his longing also ceases, who sees the Supreme.

[Abstinent man : An unillumined person abstaining from sense-pleasure for penance, or because of physical incapacity.]

यततो ह्यपि कौन्तेय पुरुषस्य विपश्चितः ॥

इन्द्रियाणि प्रमाथीनि हरन्ति प्रसभं मनः ॥ ६० ॥

II. 60.

कौन्तेय O Kaunteya यत्ततः striving विपश्चितः पुरुषस्य of a wise man अपि even हि indeed प्रमाथोनि turbulent इन्द्रियाण्ये senses प्रसभं violently मनः mind हरन्ति snatch away.

The turbulent senses, O son of Kunti, do violently snatch away the mind of even a wise man, striving after perfection.

तानि सर्वाणि संयम्य युक्त आसीत मत्परः ॥

वशे हि यस्येन्द्रियाणि तस्य प्रज्ञा प्रतिष्ठिता ॥ ६१ ॥

II. 61.

युक्तः The steadfast तानि them सर्वाणि all संयम्य having controlled मत्परः focussed on Me as the Supreme आसीत sits हि, verily यस्य whose इन्द्रियाणि senses वशे under control तस्य his प्रज्ञा wisdom प्रतिष्ठिता settled.

The steadfast, having controlled them all, sits focussed on Me as the Supreme. His wisdom is steady, whose senses are under control.

ध्यायतो विषयान्पुंसः सङ्गस्तेषूपजायते ॥

सङ्गात् संजायते कामः कामात् क्रोधोऽभिजायते ॥ ६२ ॥

II. 62.

विषयान् Objects ध्यायतः thinking पुंसः of a man तेषु in them सङ्गः attachment उपजायते is produced सङ्गात् from attachment कामः longing संजायते is born कामात् from longing क्रोधः anger अभिजायते grows.

Thinking of objects, attachment to them is formed in a man. From attachment longing, and from longing anger grows.

क्रोधाद्भवति सम्मोहः सम्मोहात्स्मृतिविभ्रमः ॥

स्मृतिभ्रंशाद्बुद्धिनाशो बुद्धिनाशात्प्रणश्यति ॥ ६३ ॥

II. 63.

क्रोधात् From anger सम्मोहः delusion भवति comes सम्मोहात् from delusion स्मृतिविभ्रमः loss of memory स्मृतिभ्रंशात् from loss of memory बुद्धिनाशः the ruin of discrimination बुद्धिनाशात् from the ruin of discrimination प्रणश्यति (he) perishes.

From anger comes delusion, and from delusion loss of memory. From loss of memory, the ruin of discrimination, and from the ruin of discrimination he perishes.

[A beautiful image appears. The tendency of the mind is to repeat it. Then, if the image is allowed to recur, a liking grows. With the growth of liking the wish to come close, to possess, appears. Any obstacle to this produces wrath. The impulse of anger throws the mind into confusion, which casts a veil over the lessons of wisdom learnt by past experience. Thus deprived of his moral standard, he is prevented from using his discrimination. Failing in discrimination, he acts irrationally, on the impulse of passion, and paves the way to moral death.

Thus Krishna traces moral degradation to those first breaths of thought, that come softly and almost unconsciously to the mind.]

रागद्वेषवियुक्तैस्तु विषयानिन्द्रियैश्चरन् ॥

आत्मवश्यैर्विधेयात्मा प्रसादमधिगच्छति ॥ ६४ ॥

II. 64.

तु But रागद्वेषवियुक्तैः free from attraction and aversion
आत्मवश्यैः self-restrained इन्द्रियैः with senses विषयान् objects
चरन् moving (amongst) विधेयात्मा the self-controlled प्रसादम् tranquillity अधिगच्छति attains.

But the self-controlled man, moving among objects with senses under restraint, and free from attraction and aversion, attains to tranquillity.

[The above is in answer to Arjuna's fourth question, "How does he move?"]

प्रसादे सर्वदुःखानां हानिरस्योपजायते ॥

प्रसन्नचेतसो ह्याशु बुद्धिः पर्यवतिष्ठते ॥ ६५ ॥

II. 65.

प्रसादे In tranquillity अस्य of him सर्वदुःखानां of all sorrows हानिः destruction उपजायते happens प्रसन्नचेतसः of the tranquil-minded हि because आशु soon बुद्धिः intellect पर्यवतिष्ठते is established in firmness.

In tranquillity, all sorrow is destroyed. For the intellect of him who is tranquil-minded, is soon established in firmness.

[That is, firmly concentrates itself on the Self.]

नास्ति बुद्धिरयुक्तस्य न चायुक्तस्य भावना ॥

न चाभावयतः शान्तेरान्तस्य कुतः सुखम् ॥ ६६ ॥

II. 66.

अयुक्तस्य Of the unsteady बुद्धिः knowledge (of the Self). नास्ति is not अयुक्तस्य of the unsteady भावना meditation च also न not अभावयतः च and of the unmeditative शान्तिः peace न not अशान्तस्य of the peaceless सुखं happiness कुतः whence.

No knowledge (of the Self) has the unsteady. Nor has he meditation. To the unmeditative there is no peace. And how can one without peace have happiness?

इन्द्रियाणां हि चरतां यन्मनोऽनुविधीयते ॥

तदस्य हरति प्रज्ञां वायुर्नावमिवाम्भसि ॥ ६७ ॥

II. 67.

हि For चरतां wandering इन्द्रियाणां senses यत् which मनः mind अनुविधीयते follows तत् that अस्य his वायुः wind अम्भसि in water नावं boat इव like प्रज्ञां discrimination हरति scatters.

For, the mind which follows in the wake of the wandering senses, carries away his discrimination, as a wind (carries away from its course) a boat on the waters.

तस्माद्यस्य महाबाहो निगृहीतानि सर्वशः ॥

इन्द्रियाणीन्द्रियाथभ्यस्तस्य प्रज्ञा प्रतिष्ठिता ॥ ६८ ॥

II. 68.

महाबाहो Mighty-armed तस्मात् therefore यस्य whose इन्द्रियाणि senses इन्द्रियार्थेभ्यः from sense-objects सर्वशः completely निगृहीतानि restrained तस्य his प्रज्ञा knowledge प्रतिष्ठिता (is) steady.

Therefore, O mighty-armed, he whose senses are completely restrained from their objects, his knowledge is steady. ७

[This does not mean that the senses remain completely estranged, but that they are all estrangeable at will.]

या निशा सर्वभूतानां तस्यां जागर्ति संयमी ॥

यस्यां जाग्रति भूतानि सा निशा पश्यतो मुनेः ॥ ६६ ॥

II. 69.

सर्वभूतानां Of all beings या what निशा night संयमी the self-controlled तस्यां in that जागर्ति keeps awake यस्यां in what भूतानि all beings जाग्रति are awake पश्यतः seeing (the Self) मुनेः of the Muni सा that निशा night.

That which is night to all beings, in that the self-controlled man wakes. That in which all beings wake, is night to the Self-seeing Muni.

[Where all beings are in darkness, there the Muni sees, and vice versa. The consciousness of the man of realisation is so full of God that he cannot see anything apart from Him. The ignorant man, on the other hand, lives in the world of plurality alone and God is a nonentity to him.

It follows, that non-susceptibility to the influences of Nature, that is, perfect self-control (spoken of in the preceding sloka) is quite as natural a trait of the illumined soul as its opposite is of the ignorant.]

As into the ocean,—brimful, and still,—flow the waters, even so the Muni into whom enter all desires, he, and not the desirer of desires, attains to peace.

[The ocean is not at all affected by the waters flowing into it from all sides. Similarly, that man alone finds true peace in whom no reaction of desire is produced by the objects of enjoyment, which he happens to come across during his sojourn on earth.]

That man who lives devoid of longing, abandoning all desires, without the sense of 'I' and 'mine,' he attains to peace.

[The man who lives,—merely to work out his past Karma.]

This is to have one's being in Brahman, O son of Prithâ. None, attaining to this, becomes deluded. Being established therein, even at the end of life, a man attains to oneness with Brahman.

The Blessed Lord said :

In the beginning (of creation), O sinless one, the twofold path of devotion was given by Me to this world ;—the path of knowledge for the meditative, the path of work for the active.

[Meditative—those who prefer meditation to external action.

Active—those who believe in external work with or without meditation.]

पुरुषः A person कर्मणां of works अनारम्भात् from non-performance नेष्कर्म्यं worklessness न not अश्नुते reaches च and संन्यसनात् from giving up एव merely सिद्धिं perfection न not समधिगच्छति attains.

Without performing work none reaches worklessness; by merely giving up action no one attains to perfection.

[Worklessness and perfection : These are synonymous terms, meaning, becoming one with the Infinite and free from all ideas of want. A man who has reached this state can have no necessity or desire for work as a means to an end. Perfect satisfaction in the Self is his natural condition. (Vide III. 17.)]

Verily none can ever rest for even an instant, without performing action; for all are made to act, helplessly indeed, by the Gunas, born of Prakriti.

[All are made to act : , All men living under bondage.]

यज्ञार्थात् For the sake of Yajna कर्मणः of action अन्यत्र otherwise अयं this लोकः world कर्मबन्धनः bound by action कौन्तेय O Kaunteya (अतः therefore) तदर्थं for that मुक्तसङ्गः devoid of attachment कर्म action समाचर perform.

The world is bound by actions other than those performed for the sake of Yajna; do thou therefore, O son of Kunti, perform action for Yajna alone, devoid of attachment.

[Yajna : means a religious rite, sacrifice, worship : Or an action done with a good or spiritual motive. It also means the Deity. The Taittiriya-Samhitâ (I. 7. 4.) says, "Yajna is Vishnu Himself."]

III. 10.

पुरा In the beginning प्रजापतिः the Prajâpati सहयज्ञाः together with Yajna प्रजाः mankind सृष्ट्वा having created उवाच said अनेन by this प्रसविष्यध्वम् shall (ye) multiply एषः this वः your इष्टकामधुक् milch cow of desires अस्तु let be.

The Prajâpati, having in the beginning created mankind together with Yajna, said,—“By this shall ye multiply : this shall be the milch cow of your desires.

[Prajâpati—the creator or Brahmâ.]

अनेन With this देवान् the Devas भावयत cherish ते those देवाः Devas वः you भावयन्तु may cherish परस्परं one another भावयन्तः cherishing परं highest श्रेयः good अवाप्स्यथ (ye) shall gain “Cherish the Devas with this, and may those Devas cherish you : thus cherishing one another, ye shall gain the highest good.

[Devas : (lit., the shining ones) beings much higher than man in the scale of evolution, who are in charge of cosmic functions.]

इष्टान्भोगान्हि वो देवा दास्यन्ते यज्ञभाविताः ॥

“The Devas, cherished by Yajna, will give you desired-for objects.” So, he who enjoys objects given by the Devas without offering (in return) to them, is verily a thief.

यज्ञशिष्टाशिनः सन्तो मुच्यन्ते सर्वकिल्बिषैः ॥

III. 13.

यज्ञशिष्टाशिनः Eating the remnants of Yajna सन्तः the good सर्वकिल्बिषैः from all sins मुच्यन्ते are freed ये who तु but आत्मकारणात् for themselves पचन्ति cook ते they पापाः sinful ones अघं sin भुञ्जते eat.

The good, eating the remnants of Yajna, are freed from all sins : but who cook food (only) for themselves, those sinful ones eat sin.

[Deva-Yajna : offering sacrifices to the gods, Brahma-Yajna : teaching and reciting the Scriptures, Pitri-Yajna : offering libations of water to one's ancestors, Nri-Yajna, the feeding of the hungry, and Bhuta-Yajna, the feeding of the lower animals ;—are the five daily duties enjoined on householders. The performance of these duties frees them from the five-fold sin, inevitable to a householder's life, due to the killing of life, from the use of, (1) the pestle and mortar, (2) the grinding-stone, (3) the oven, (4) the water-jar, and (5) the broom.]

From food come forth beings : from rain food is produced : from Yajna arises rain and Yajna is born of Karma.

[Yajna : Here it denotes not the sacrificial deeds themselves but the subtle principle, into which they are converted, after they have been performed, to appear, later on, as their fruits. This is technically known as apurva.

Karma or sacrificial deeds prescribed in the Vedas.]

कर्म ब्रह्मोद्भवं विद्धि ब्रह्माक्षरसमुद्भवम् ॥

III. 15.

कर्म Karma ब्रह्मोद्भवं risen from the Veda ब्रह्म Veda अक्षरसमुद्भवं risen from the Imperishable विद्धि know तस्मात् therefore सर्वगतं all-pervading ब्रह्म Veda नित्यं ever यज्ञे in Yajna प्रतिष्ठितं centred.

Know Karma to have risen from the Veda, and the Veda from the Imperishable. Therefore the all-pervading Veda is ever centred in Yajna.

[All-pervading Veda : because it illumines all subjects and is the store of all knowledge, being the out-breathing of the Omniscient. It is said to be ever centred in Yajna, because it deals chiefly with Yajna, as the means of achieving the end, either of prosperity or final liberation, according as it is performed with or without desire.]

एवं प्रवर्तितं चक्रं नानुवर्तयतीह यः ॥

यः Who इह here एवं thus प्रवर्तितं set revolving चक्रं wheel न not अनुवर्तयति follows पार्थ O Pârtha अघायुः living in sin इन्द्रियारामः satisfied in the senses सः he मोघं in vain जीवति lives.

He, who here follows not the wheel thus set revolving, living in sin, and satisfied in the senses, O son of Prithâ,—he lives in vain.

[The wheel of action started by Prajâpati on the basis of Veda and sacrifice.]

यस्त्वात्मरतिरेव स्यादात्मतृप्तश्च मानवः ॥

आत्मन्येव च सन्तुष्टस्तस्य कार्यं न विद्यते ॥ १७ ॥

III. 17.

तु But यः मानवः that man आत्मरतिः devoted to the Self एव alone च and आत्मतृप्तः satisfied with the Self च and आत्मनि in the Self एव alone सन्तुष्टः content स्यात् may be तस्य his कार्यं work to be done (i.e. duty) न not विद्यते exists.

But the man who is devoted to the Self, and is satisfied with the Self, and content in the Self alone, he has no obligatory duty.

नैव तस्य कृतेनार्थो नाकृतेनेह कश्चन ॥

न चास्य सर्वभूतेषु कश्चिदर्थव्यपाश्रयः ॥ १८ ॥

III. 18.

He has no object in this world (to gain) by doing (an action), nor (does he incur any loss) by non-performance of action,—nor has he (need of) depending on any being for any object.

तस्मादसक्तः सततं कार्यं कर्म समाचर ॥

असक्तो ह्याचरन् कर्म परमाप्नोति पूरुषः ॥ १९ ॥

III. 19.

तस्मात् Therefore असक्तः without attachment सततं always कार्यं which should be done, i.e. obligatory कर्म action समाचर perform हि because असक्तः without attachment कर्म action आचरन् performing पूरुषः man परम् the highest आप्नोति attains.

Therefore, do thou always perform actions which are obligatory, without attachment;—by performing action without attachment, one attains to the highest.

Verily by action alone, Janaka and others attained perfection;—also, simply with the view for the guidance of men, thou shouldst perform action.

[Guidance of men : the Sanskrit word means, gathering of men,—that is, into the right path.]

यद्यदाचरति श्रेष्ठस्तत्तदेव तरो जनः ॥

III. 21.

श्रेष्ठः The superior यत् यत् whatsoever आचरति does इतरः inferior जनः man तत् तत् that एव only (does) सः that (superior) man यत् what प्रमाणं demonstration कुरुते does तत् that लोकः the world (people) अनुवर्तते follows.

Whatsoever the superior person does, that is followed by others. What he demonstrates by action, that, people follow.

I have, O son of Prithâ, no duty, nothing that I have not gained, and nothing that I have to gain, in the three worlds ; yet, I continue in action.

यदि ह्यहं न वर्तेयं जातु कर्मण्यतन्द्रितः ॥

III. 23.

पार्थ O Pârtha ! यदि if अहं I जातु ever अतन्द्रितः without then) हि surely मनुष्याः men मम My वत्स path सर्वशः in every way अनुवर्तन्ते (would) follow.

If ever I did not continue in work, without relaxation, men, O son of Prithâ, would in every way, follow in My wake.

If I did not do work, these worlds would perish. I should be the cause of the admixture of races, and I should ruin these beings.

सक्ताः कर्मण्यविद्वांसो यथा कुर्वन्ति भारत ॥

कुर्याद्विद्वांस्तथाऽसक्तश्चिकीर्षुर्लोकसंग्रहम् ॥ २५ ॥

भारत O Bhârata ! कर्मणि to action सक्ताः attached अविद्वांसः the unwise यथा as कुर्वन्ति act असक्तः unattached लोकसंग्रहं guidance of the world चिकीर्षुः desirous of विद्वान् the wise तथा so कुर्यात् should act.

As do the unwise, attached to work, act, so should the wise act, O descendant of Bharata,

(but) without attachment, desirous of the guidance of the world.

न बुद्धिभेदं जनयेदज्ञानां कर्मसङ्गिनाम् ॥

One should not unsettle the understanding of the ignorant, attached to action; the wise, (himself) steadily acting, should engage (the ignorant) in all work.

प्रकृतेः क्रियमाणानि गुणैः कर्माणि सर्वशः ॥

अहङ्कारविमूढात्मा कर्ताहमिति मन्यते ॥ २७ ॥

III. 27.

प्रकृतेः Of the Prakriti गुणैः by the Gunas सर्वशः everywhere कर्माणि works क्रियमाणानि are performed अहङ्कार-विमूढात्मा one whose understanding is deluded by egoism अहं I कर्ता doer इति this मन्यते thinks.

The Gunas of Prakriti perform all action. With the understanding deluded by egoism, man thinks, "I am the doer."

तत्त्ववित्तु महाबाहो गुणकर्मविभागयोः ॥

गुणा गुणेषु वर्तन्त इति मत्वा न सज्जते ॥ २८ ॥

III. 28.

तु But महाबाहो mighty-armed ! गुणकर्मविभागयोः of the divisions of Guna and Karma तत्त्ववित् knower of truth गुणाः Gunas (in the shape of the senses) गुणेषु amidst the Gunas (in the shape of the objects) वर्तन्ते remain इति this मत्वा knowing न not सज्जते becomes attached.

But, one, with true insight into the domains of Guna and Karma, knowing that Gunas as senses merely rest on Gunas as objects, does not become attached.

[With true insight etc. : Knowing the truth that the Self is distinct from all Gunas, and actions.]

प्रकृतेर्गुणसंमूढाः सज्जन्ते गुणकर्मसु ॥

तानकृत्स्नविदो मन्दान् कृत्स्नविन्न विचालयेत् ॥ २६ ॥

III. 29.

प्रकृतेः Of the Prakriti गुणसंमूढाः persons deluded by Gunas गुणकर्मसु in the functions of the Gunas सज्जन्ते become attached तान् those अकृत्स्नविदः of imperfect knowledge मन्दान् the dull-witted कृत्स्नवित् man of perfect knowledge न not विचालयेत् should unsettle (the understanding).

Men of perfect knowledge should not unsettle (the understanding of) people of dull wit and imperfect knowledge, who deluded by the Gunas of Prakriti attach (themselves) to the functions of the Gunas.

[Those of imperfect knowledge—those who can only see as far as the immediate effect of actions.]

मयि सर्वाणि कर्माणि संन्यस्याऽध्यात्मचेतसा ॥

Renouncing all actions to Me, with mind centred on the Self, getting rid of hope and selfishness, fight,—free from (mental) fever.

ये मे मतमिदं नित्यमनुतिष्ठन्ति मानवाः ॥

श्रद्धावन्तोऽनसूयन्तो मुच्यन्ते तेऽपि कर्मभिः ॥ ३१ ॥

Those men who constantly practise this teaching of Mine, full of Shraddhâ and without cavilling, they too, are freed from work.

[Shraddhâ : is a mental attitude constituted primarily of sincerity of purpose, humility, reverence and faith. You have Shaddhâ for your Guru —it is sincere reverence. You have Shraddhâ for the Gita—it is admiration for those of its teachings you understand and faith in those that you do not. You give alms to a beggar with Shraddhâ—it is a sense of humility combined with the hope that what you give will be acceptable and serviceable.]

ये त्वेतदभ्यसूयन्तो नानुतिष्ठन्ति मे मतम् ॥

III. 32.

तु But ये those who एतत् this मे My मतं teaching अभ्यसूयन्तः decrying न not अनुतिष्ठन्ति practise सर्वज्ञान-विमूढान् deluded in all knowledge अचेतसः devoid of discrimination तान् them नष्टान् ruined विद्धि know.

But those who decrying this teaching of Mine do not practise (it), deluded in all knowledge, and devoid of discrimination, know them to be ruined.

सदृशं चेष्टते स्वस्याः प्रकृतेर्ज्ञानवानपि ॥

प्रकृतिं यान्ति भूतानि निग्रहः किं करिष्यति ॥ ३३ ॥

III. 33.

ज्ञानवान् A wise man अपि even स्वस्याः of his own प्रकृतेः nature सदृशम् in accordance with चेष्टते acts भूतानि beings प्रकृतिं nature यान्ति follow निग्रहः restraint किं what करिष्यति will do.

Even a wise man acts in accordance with his own nature : beings follow nature : what can restraint do?

[The reason why some people do not follow the teaching of the Lord is explained here : Their (lower) nature proves too strong for them.]

इन्द्रियस्येन्द्रियस्यार्थे रागद्वेषौ व्यवस्थितौ ॥

तयोर्न वशमागच्छेत्तो ह्यस्य परिपन्थिनौ ॥ ३४ ॥

III. 34.

इन्द्रियस्य (Of the senses इन्द्रियस्य अर्थे in the objects of the senses रागद्वेषौ attachment and aversion व्यवस्थितौ ordained by nature तयोः of those two वशं sway न not आगच्छेत् should come under तौ those two हि verily अस्य his परिपन्थिनौ foes.

Attachment and aversion of the senses for their respective objects are natural : let none come under their sway : they are his foes.

[His : of the seeker after truth.

Though, as has been said in the foregoing Sloka, some are so completely under the sway of their natural propensities, that restraint is of no avail to them, yet the seeker after truth should never think of following their example, but should always exert himself to overrule all attachment and aversion of the senses for their objects.]

श्रेयान् स्वधर्मो विगुणः परधर्मात् स्वनुष्ठितात् ॥

स्वधर्मे निधनं श्रेयः परधर्मो भयावहः ॥ ३५ ॥

III. 35.

स्वनुष्ठितात् From the well-performed परधर्मात् Dharma of another विगुणः imperfect स्वधर्मः one's own Dharma

अथान् better स्वधर्मे in one's own Dharma निधनं death अथैः better परधर्मे Dharma of another भयावहः fraught with fear.

Better is one's own Dharma, (though) imperfect, than the Dharma of another well-performed. Better is death in one's own Dharma : the Dharma of another is fraught with fear.

[The implication is that Arjuna's thought of desisting from fight and going in for the calm and peaceful life of the Brâhmana is prompted by man's natural desire to shun what is disagreeable and embrace what is agreeable to the senses. He should on no account yield to this weakness.]

अर्जुन उवाच ॥

अथ केन प्रयुक्तोऽयं पापं चरति पूरुषः ॥

अनिच्छन्नपि वाष्णोय बलादिव नियोजितः ॥ ३६ ॥

III. 36.

अर्जुनः Arjuna उवाच said :

वाष्णोय O Vârshneya! अथ now अनिच्छन् not wishing अपि even अयं this पूरुषः Parusha केन by what प्रयुक्तः impelled बलात् by force इव as it were नियोजितः constrained पापं sin चरति commits.

Arjuna said :

But by what impelled does man commit sin, though against his wishes, O Vârshneya, constrained as it were, by force?

[Vārshneya : a descendant of the race of Vrishni.]

श्रीः प्रवक्ष्यामि ॥

काम एष क्रोध एष रजोगुणसमुद्भवः ॥

महाशनो महापाप्मा विद्ध्येनमिह वैरिणम् ॥ ३७ ॥

III. 37.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

रजोगुणसमुद्भवः Born of the Rajo-guna महाशनः of great craving महापाप्मा of great sin एषः this कामः desire एषः this क्रोधः anger इह in this world एनं this वैरिणं foe विद्धि know.

The Blessed Lord said :

It is desire—it is anger, born of the Rajo-guna^६: of great craving, and of great sin; know this as the foe here (in this world).

[It is desire etc. : anger is only another form of desire,—desire obstructed. (See Note, II. 62-63).]

धूमेनाव्रियते वह्निर्यथाऽऽदर्शो मलेन च ॥

यथोल्बेनावृतो गर्भस्तथा तेनेदमावृतम् ॥ ३८ ॥

III. 38.

यथा As वह्निः fire^९ धूमेन by smoke आव्रियते is enveloped (यथा as) आदर्शः mirror मलेन by dust च and यथा as गर्भः embryo उल्बेन by the secundine आवृतः covered तथा so तेन by that इदं this आवृतं covered.

As fire is enveloped by smoke, as a mirror by dust, as an embryo by the secundine, so is it covered by that.

['It' is knowledge, and "that" is desire, as explained in the following Sloka.

Three stages of the overclouding of knowledge or Self by desire are described by the three illustrations here given. The first stage is Sâttvika,—fire enveloped by smoke :—the rise of a slight wind of discrimination dispels the smoke of desire in a Sâttvika heart. The second, the Râjasika,—the dust on a mirror, requires some time and preparation. While the third,—the Tâmasika, takes a much longer time, like the release of the embryo from the after-birth.]

आवृतं ज्ञानमेतेन ज्ञानिनो नित्यवैरिणा ॥

कामरूपेण कौन्तेय दुष्पूरेणानलेन च ॥ ३६ ॥

III. 39.

कौन्तेय O Kaunteya ! ज्ञानिनः of the wise नित्यवैरिणा by the constant foe कामरूपेण whose form is desire च and दुष्पूरेण unappeasable एतेन अनलेन by this fire ज्ञानं knowledge आवृतं covered.

Knowledge is covered by this, the constant foe of the wise, O son of Kunti, the unappeasable fire of desire.

| Desire is undoubtedly the foe of all mankind. Why it is said to be the constant foe of the wise, is that they feel it to be so even when under its sway. Fools are awakened for a moment only, when they suffer from its painful reactions.]

इन्द्रियाणि मनो बुद्धिरस्याधिष्ठानमुच्यते ॥

एतैर्विमोहयत्येष ज्ञानमावृत्य देहिनम् ॥ ४० ॥

III. 40.

इन्द्रियाणि Senses मनः mind बुद्धिः intellect अस्य its अधिष्ठानं abode उच्यते is said एषः this एतैः by these ज्ञानं knowledge आवृत्य covering देहिनं the embodied विमोहयति deludes.

The senses, the mind and the intellect are said to be its abode : through these, it deludes the embodied by veiling his wisdom.

[Like a wise general, Krishna points out the fortress of the enemy, by conquering which the enemy is easily defeated.

Through these : by vitiating the senses, mind and the intellect.]

तस्मात्त्वमिन्द्रियाण्यादौ नियम्य भरतर्षभ ॥

पाप्मानं प्रजहि ह्येनं ज्ञानविज्ञाननाशनम् ॥ ४१ ॥

III. 41.

भरतर्षभ O Bull of the Bharata race ! तस्मात् therefore त्वं you आदौ at the outset इन्द्रियाणि senses नियम्य controlling ज्ञानविज्ञाननाशनं the destroyer of knowledge and realisation पाप्मानं the sinful हि surely एनं this प्रजहि kill.

. Therefore, O Bull of the Bharata race, controlling the senses at the outset, kill it,—the sinful, the destroyer of knowledge and realisation.

इन्द्रियाणि पराण्याहुरिन्द्रियेभ्यः परं मनः ॥

मनसस्तु परा बुद्धिर्यो बुद्धेः परतस्तु सः ॥ ४२ ॥

III. 42.

इन्द्रियाणि Senses पराणि superior आहुः (they) say इन्द्रियेभ्यः to the senses मनः mind परं superior मनसः to mind तु but बुद्धिः intellect परा superior यः who तु but बुद्धेः to the intellect परतः superior सः He (the Atman).

The senses are said to be superior (to the body); the mind is superior to the senses; the intellect is superior to the mind; and that which is superior to the intellect is He (the Atman).⁶

एवं बुद्धेः परं बुद्ध्वा संस्तभ्यात्मानमात्मना ॥

जहि शत्रुं महाबाहो कामरूपं दुरासदम् ॥ ४३ ॥

III. 43.

महाबाहो O mighty-armed ! एवं thus बुद्धेः of the intellect परं superior बुद्ध्वा knowing आत्मना by the Self आत्मानं self संस्तभ्य restraining कामरूपं whose form is desire दुरासदं unseizable शत्रुं enemy जहि destroy.

Thus, knowing Him who is the superior of the intellect, and restraining the self by the Self, destroy, O mighty-armed, that enemy, the unseizable foe, of desire.

Vivasvat told it to Manu ; (and) Manu told it to Ikshvâku :

[Vivasvat : the Sun. Manu : the law-giver.
Ikshvâku was the famous ancestor of the Solar

This Yoga is said to be imperishable, because

Though I am unborn, of changeless nature and Lord of beings, yet subjugating My Prakriti, I come into being by My own Maya.

[Subjugating My Prakriti : He does not come into being as others do, bound by Karma, under the thralldom of Prakriti (Nature). He is not tied by the fetters of the Gunas—because He is the Lord of Maya.

By My own Maya : My embodiment is only apparent and does not touch My true nature.]

भारत O Bhârata ! यदा यदा whenever हि surely धर्मस्य of Dharma ग्लानिः decline अधर्मस्य of Adharma अभ्युत्थानं rise भवति is तदा then अहं I आत्मानं Myself सृजामि body forth.

Whenever, O descendant of Bharata, there is decline of Dharma, and rise of Adharma, then I body Myself forth.

[The Dharma and its opposite Adharma imply all the duties (and their opposites) as ordained for men in different stations by the definite scheme of their life and salvation.]

परित्राणाय साधूनां विनाशाय च दुष्कृताम् ॥

IV. 8.

साधूनां Of the good परित्राणाय for the protection च and दुष्कृतां of the wicked विनाशाय for the destruction धर्म-संस्थापनार्थाय for the establishment of Dharma युगे युगे in every age संभवामि come into being.

For the protection of the good, for the destruction of the wicked, and for the establishment of Dharma, I come into being in every age.

[Destruction of the wicked : in order to destroy their wickedness, and give them life eternal.]

जन्म कर्म च मे दिव्यमेवं यो वेत्ति तत्त्वतः ॥

He who thus knows, in true light, My divine birth and action, leaving the body, is not born again : he attains to Me, O Arjuna.

[He who knows &c. : He who knows the great truth,—that the Lord though apparently born is ever beyond birth and death, though apparently active in the cause of righteousness, is ever beyond all action,—becomes illumined with Self-knowledge. Such a man is never born again.]

Freed from attachment, fear and anger, absorbed in Me, taking refuge in Me, purified by the fire of Knowledge, many have attained My Being.

[Many have attained : The import is that the path of liberation here taught by Sri Krishna is not of recent origin, nor is it dependent upon His present manifestation, but has been handed down from time immemorial.]

ये यथा मां प्रपद्यन्ते तांस्तथैव भजाम्यहम् ॥

मम वर्तमानुवर्तन्ते मनुष्याः पार्थ सर्वशः ॥ ११ ॥

IV. 11.

ये Who यथा in whatever way मां Me प्रपद्यन्ते worship तान् them अहं I तथा in the same way एव verily भजामि bestow (their desires) पार्थ O Pârtha मनुष्याः men सर्वथाः in all ways मम My वर्त्म path अनुवर्तन्ते follow.

In whatever way men worship Me, in the same way do I fulfil their desires : (it is) My path, O son of Prithâ, (that) men tread, in all ways.

[In this sloka Sri Krishna anticipates the objection that God is partial to some and unkind to others, since He blesses some with Self-knowledge and leaves the rest in darkness and misery. This difference is not due to any difference in His attitude towards them, but is of their own choice.

My path : In the whole region of thought and action, wherever there is fulfilment of object, no matter what, the same is due to the Lord. As the Self within, He brings to fruition all wishes, when the necessary conditions are fulfilled.]

काङ्क्षन्तः कर्मणां सिद्धिं यजन्त इह देवताः ॥

IV. 12.

कर्मणां Of actions सिद्धिं success काङ्क्षन्तः longing for इह in this world देवताः gods यजन्ते worship हि because मानुषे in the human लोके world क्षिप्रं quickly कर्मजा born of action सिद्धिः success भवति is attained.

Longing for success in action, in this world, (men) worship the gods. Because success, resulting from action, is quickly attained in the human world.

[Because success.....human world : Worldly success is much easier of attainment than Self-knowledge. Hence it is that the ignorant do not go in for the latter.]

चातुर्वर्ण्यं मया सृष्टं गुणकर्मविभागशः ॥

तस्य कर्तारमपि मां विद्धि कर्तारमव्ययम् ॥ १३ ॥

IV. 13.

मया By Me गुणकर्मविभागशः by the differentiation of Guna and Karma चातुर्वर्ण्यं fourfold caste सृष्टं was created तस्य thereof कर्तारं author अपि even मां Me अव्ययं changeless अकर्तारं non-doer विद्धि know.

The fourfold caste was created by Me, by the differentiation of Guna and Karma. Though I am the author thereof, know Me to be the non-doer, and changeless.

[This sloka is intended to explain the diversity of human temperaments and tendencies. All men are not of the same nature, because of the preponderance of the different Gunas in them.

The caste system was originally meant to make perfect the growth of humanity, by the special culture of certain features, through the process of discriminate selection.

Though I am the author &c.: The Lord, though the author of the caste system, is yet not the author. The same dread of being taken as a doer or an agent crops up again and again. The paradox is explained in Chap. IX. 5-10. Maya is the real author, but He is taken as such, because it is His light which gives existence, not only to all actions, but to Maya herself.]

न मां कर्माणि लिम्पन्ति न मे कर्मफले स्पृहा ॥

Actions do not taint Me, nor have I any thirst for the result of action. He who knows Me thus is not fettered by action.

[Actions do not taint Me : Karma cannot introduce into Me anything foreign. I never depart from My true Self, which is All-fullness.]

एवं ज्ञात्वा कृतं कर्म पूर्वैरपि मुमुक्षुभिः ॥

IV. 15.

एवं Thus ज्ञात्वा knowing पूर्वैः by the ancient मुमुक्षुभिः seekers after freedom अपि even कर्म action कृतं was done तस्मात् therefore त्वं thou पूर्वैः by the ancients पूर्वतरं in olden times कृतं done कर्म action एव verily कुरु perform.

Knowing thus, the ancient seekers after freedom also performed action. Do thou, therefore, perform action, 'as did the ancients in olden times.

[Knowing thus : Taking this point of view, that is, that the Self can have no desire for the fruits of action and cannot be soiled by action.]

किं कर्म किमकर्मेति कवयोऽप्यत्र मोहिताः ॥ therefore) यत् which ज्ञात्वा knowing अशुभात् from evil

मोक्ष्यसे will be freed तत् that ते to you कर्म action प्रवक्ष्यामि
(I) shall tell.

Even sages are bewildered, as to what is action and what is inaction. I shall therefore tell you what action is, by knowing which you will be freed from evil.

[Evil : the evil of existence, the wheel of birth and death.]

कर्मणो ह्यपि बोद्धव्यं बोद्धव्यञ्च विकर्मणः ॥

अकर्मणश्च बोद्धव्यं गहना कर्मणो गतिः ॥ १७ ॥

IV. 17.

हि Because कर्मणः of actions अपि even (तत्त्वं the true nature) बोद्धव्यं has to be understood विकर्मणः of the forbidden action च and (अपि even) बोद्धव्यं has to be understood अकर्मणः of inaction च and (अपि even) बोद्धव्यं has to be understood कर्मणः of Karma गतिः nature गहना impenetrable.

For verily, (the true nature) even of action (enjoined by the Shastras) should be known, as also, (that) of forbidden action, and of inaction : the nature of Karma is impenetrable.

कर्मण्यकर्म यः पश्येदकर्मणि च कर्म यः ॥

“IV. 18.

यः Who कर्मणि in action अकर्म inaction पश्येत् would see यः who अकर्मणि in inaction च and कर्म action पश्येत् would see सः he मनुष्येषु among men बुद्धिमान् intelligent सः he युक्तः Yogi कृत्स्नकर्मकृत् doer of all action.

He who sees inaction in action, and action in inaction, he is intelligent among men, he is a Yogi and a doer of all action.

[An action is an action so long as the idea of actor-ness of the Self holds good. Directly the idea of actor-ness disappears ; no matter what or how much is done, action has lost its nature. It has become harmless : it can no longer bind. On the other hand, how much soever inactive an ignorant person may remain, so long as there is the idea of actor-ness in him, he is constantly doing action. Action equals to belief in the actor-ness of oneself and inaction its reverse.

He is the doer of all action : He has achieved the end of all action, which is freedom.]

fire of knowledge तं him पण्डितं wise आहुः call.

Whose undertakings are all devoid of plan and desire for results, and whose actions are burnt by the fire of knowledge, him, the sages call wise.

[Whose undertakings &c.: Who is devoid of egoism.]

त्यक्त्वा कर्मफलासङ्गं नित्यतृप्तो निराश्रयः ॥

त्यक्त्वा forsaking नित्यतृप्तः ever satisfied निराश्रयः depending on nothing कर्मणि in action अभिप्रवृत्तः engaged अपि

Forsaking the clinging to fruits of action, ever satisfied, depending on nothing, though engaged in action, he does not do anything.

निराशीर्यतचित्तात्मा त्यक्तसर्वपरिग्रहः ॥

IV. 21.

निराशीः Without hope यतचित्तात्मा one whose mind and body have been controlled त्यक्तसर्वपरिग्रहः one who has relinquished all possessions केवलं merely शारीरं bodily कर्म action कुर्वन् doing किल्बिषं evil न not आमोति incurs.

Without hope, the body and mind controlled and all possessions relinquished, he does not suffer any evil consequences, by doing mere bodily action.

[Evil consequences : resulting from good and bad actions, for both lead to bondage.]

यद्वृच्छालाभसन्तुष्टो द्वन्द्वातीतो विमत्सरः ॥

समः सिद्धावसिद्धौ च कृत्वापि न निबध्यते ॥ २२ ॥

IV. 22.

यद्वृच्छालाभसन्तुष्टः Content with what comes to him without effort द्वन्द्वातीतः unaffected by the pairs of opposites विमत्सरः free from envy सिद्धौ in success असिद्धौ in failure

निबध्यते is bound.

Content with what comes to him without effort, unaffected by the pairs of opposites, free from envy, even-minded in success and failure, though acting, he is not bound.

गतसङ्गस्य मुक्तस्य ज्ञानावस्थितचेतसः ॥

यज्ञाय चरतः कर्म समग्रं प्रविलीयते ॥ २३ ॥

IV. 23.

गतसङ्गस्य Of one who is devoid of attachment: मुक्तस्य the liberated ज्ञानावस्थितचेतसः whose mind is centred in knowledge यज्ञाय for Yajna आचरतः performing समग्रं whole कर्म Karma प्रविलीयते dissolves away.

Devoid of attachment, liberated, with mind centred in knowledge, performing work for Yajna alone, his whole Karma dissolves away.

ब्रह्मार्पणं ब्रह्म हविर्ब्रह्माग्नौ ब्रह्मणा हुतम् ॥

ब्रह्मैव तेन गन्तव्यं ब्रह्मकर्मसमाधिना ॥ २४ ॥

IV. 24.

अर्पणं Process of offering ब्रह्म Brahman हविः oblation, as clarified butter ब्रह्म Brahman ब्रह्माग्नौ in the fire of Brahman ब्रह्मणा by Brahman हुतं is offered ब्रह्मकर्मसमाधिना by the man who is absorbed in action which is Brahman तेन by him ब्रह्म Brahman एव verily गन्तव्यं should be reached.

The process is Brahman, the clarified butter is Brahman, in the fire of Brahman offered by Brahman, by seeing Brahman in action, he reaches Brahman alone.

[How can the whole Karma of a person engaged in work melt away as stated here? Because after knowledge, his whole life becomes one act of Yajna, in which the process of oblation, the offering, the fire, the doer of the sacrifice, the work, and the goal, are all Brahman. Since his Karma produces no other result than the attainment of Brahman, his Karma is said to melt away.]

दैवमेवापरे यज्ञं योगिनः पर्युपासते ॥

IV. 25.

अपरे Other योगिनः Yogis देवं pertaining to Devas एव verily यज्ञं sacrifice पर्युपासते perform अपरे others ब्रह्माग्नौ in the fire of Brahman यज्ञेन by self एव verily यज्ञं the self उपजुहति offer as sacrifice.

Some Yogis perform sacrifices to Devas alone, while others offer the self as sacrifice by the self in the fire of Brahman alone.

[Others offer &c.: The sacrifice referred to here, is, divesting the Self of Its Upadhis (limiting adjuncts), so that It is found to be the Self.]

श्रोत्रादीनीन्द्रियाण्यन्ये संयमाग्निषु जुहति ॥

IV. 26.

अन्ये Others संयमाग्निषु in the fire of control श्रोत्रादीनि organ of hearing, etc. इन्द्रियाणि senses जुहति offer as sacrifice अन्ये others शब्दादीन् sound, etc. विषयान् sense-objects इन्द्रियाग्निषु in the fire of the senses जुहति offer as sacrifice.

Some again offer hearing and other senses as sacrifice in the fire of control, while others offer sound and other sense-objects as sacrifice in the fire of the senses.

[Others offer sound &c.: Others direct their senses towards pure and unforbidden objects, and in so doing regard themselves as performing acts of sacrifice.]

सर्वाणीन्द्रियकर्माणि प्राणकर्माणि चापरे ॥

अपरे Others ज्ञानदीपिते kindled by knowledge आत्म-संयमयोगाग्नौ in the fire of control in self सर्वाणि all इन्द्रिय-कर्माणि actions of the senses प्राणकर्माणि functions of the vital energy च and जुहति offer as sacrifice.

Some again offer all the actions of the senses and the functions of the vital energy, as sacrifice in the fire of control in self, kindled by knowledge.

द्रव्ययज्ञास्तपोयज्ञा योगयज्ञास्तथाऽपरे ॥

स्वाध्यायज्ञानयज्ञाश्च यतयः संशितव्रताः ॥ २८ ॥

IV. 28.

तथा Again अपरे others द्रव्ययज्ञाः those who offer wealth as sacrifice तपोयज्ञाः those who offer austerity as sacrifice योगयज्ञाः those who offer Yoga as sacrifice संशितव्रताः persons of rigid vows यतयः persons of self-restraint स्वाध्यायज्ञानयज्ञाः those who offer study and knowledge as sacrifice च and.

Others again offer wealth, austerity, and Yoga, as sacrifice, while still others, of self-restraint and rigid vows, offer study of the scriptures and knowledge, as sacrifice.

[Offer Yoga as sacrifice : Practise the eightfold Yoga as an act of sacrifice.]

अपाने जुह्वति प्राणं प्राणेऽपानं तथाऽपरे ॥

IV. 29.

तथा Yet अपरे others अपाने into the Apâna प्राणं the Prâna प्राणे into the Prâna अपानं the Apâna जुह्वति sacrifice प्राणापानगती courses of the out-going and in-going breaths रुद्धा stopping प्राणायामपरायणाः constantly practising the regulation of the vital energy अपरे others नियताहाराः persons of regulated food प्राणान् functions of the Prânas प्राणेषु in the Prânas जुह्वति sacrifice.

Yet some offer as sacrifice, the out-going into the in-coming breath, and the in-coming into the out-going, stopping the courses of the in-coming and out-going breaths, constantly practising the regulation of the vital energy ; while others yet of regulated food, offer in the Prânas the functions thereof.

[Offer in the Prânas the functions thereof : Whatever Prana has been controlled, into it they sacrifice all other Pranas ; these latter become, as it were, merged in the former. Or, in another way : They control the different Pranas and unify them by the foregoing method ; the senses are thus attenuated and are merged in the unified Prana, as an act of sacrifice.]

All the various acts described in verses 25 to 29, as offerings of sacrifice, are only conceived as such, the study of the scriptures is regarded as an act of sacrifice, and so on.]

• सर्वेऽप्येते यज्ञविदो यज्ञक्षपितकल्मषाः ॥ ३० ॥

All of these are knowers of Yajna, having their sins consumed by Yajna, and eating of the nectar—the remnant of Yajna, they go to the Eternal Brahman. (Even) this world is not for the non-performer of Yajna, how then another, O best of the Kurus?

[They go to the Eternal Brahman : in course of time, after attaining knowledge through purification of heart.]

Even this world is not for the non-performer of Yajna : this means,—he that does not perform one of the Yajnas above mentioned, is not fit even for this wretched human world,—how then could he hope to gain a better world than this?]

Various Yajnas, like the above, are strewn in the store-house of the Veda. Know them all to be born of action, and thus knowing, thou shalt be free.

[Strewn in the store-house of the Veda : inculcated by or known through the Veda.]

Knowledge-sacrifice, O scorcher of foes, is superior to sacrifice (performed) with (material) objects. All action in its entirety, O Pârtha, attains its consummation in knowledge.

Know that, by prostrating thyself, by questions, and by service; the wise, those who have realised the Truth, will instruct thee in that knowledge.

[Prostration before the Guru, questions, and personal services to him, constitute discipleship.

Those who have realised the Truth: mere theoretical knowledge, however perfect, does not qualify a person to be a Guru: the Truth, or Brahman, must be realised, before one can claim that most elevated position.]

Knowing which, thou shalt not, O Pândava, again get deluded like this, and by which thou shalt see the whole of creation in (thy) Self and in Me.

[Which : the knowledge referred to in the preceding sloka to be learnt from the Guru.]

अपि चेदसि पापिभ्यः सर्वेभ्यः पापकृत्तमः ॥

Even if thou be the most sinful among all the sinful, yet by the raft of knowledge alone thou shalt go across all sin.

IV. 37.

अर्जुन O Arjuna यथा as समिद्धः blazing अग्निः fire एधांसि wood भस्मसात् reduced to ashes कुरुते makes तथा so ज्ञानाग्निः fire of knowledge सर्वकर्माणि all Karma भस्मसात् reduced to ashes कुरुते makes.

As blazing fire reduces wood into ashes, so, O Arjuna, does the fire of knowledge reduce all Karma to ashes.

[Excepting of course the prârabdha, or Karma which, causing the present body, has begun to bear fruits.]

न हि ज्ञानेन सदृशं पवित्रमिह विद्यते ॥

Verily there exists nothing in this world purifying like knowledge. In good time, having reached perfection in Yoga, one realises that oneself in one's own heart.

श्रद्धावांलुभते ज्ञानं तत्परः संयतेन्द्रियः ॥

ज्ञानं लब्ध्वा परां शान्तिमचिरेणाधिगच्छति ॥ ३९ ॥

IV. 39.

श्रद्धावान् The man of shraddha तत्परः devoted संयतेन्द्रियः the master of one's senses ज्ञानं knowledge लभते attains ज्ञानं knowledge लब्ध्वा having attained अचिरेण at once परां supreme शान्तिं to peace अधिगच्छति goes.

The man with shraddhâ, the devoted, the master of one's senses, attains (this) knowledge. Having attained knowledge one goes at once to the Supreme Peace.

अज्ञश्चाश्रद्धधानश्च संशयात्मा विनश्यति ॥

नायं लोकोऽस्ति न परो न सुखं संशयात्मनः ॥ ४० ॥

IV. 40.

The ignorant, the man without shraddhâ, the doubting self, goes to destruction. The doubting self has neither this world, nor the next, nor happiness.

[The ignorant : one who knows not the Self.

The man without shraddhâ : one who has no faith in the words and teachings of his Guru.

The doubting self has &c.: One of a doubting disposition fails to enjoy this world, owing to his constantly rising suspicion about the people, and things around him, and is also full of doubt as regards the next world ; so also with the ignorant and the man without shraddhâ.

योगसंन्यस्तकर्माणं ज्ञानसंछिन्नसंशयम् ॥

IV. 41.

धनञ्जय O Dhananjaya योगसंन्यस्तकर्माणि one who has renounced work by Yoga ज्ञानसंक्षिप्तसंशयं one whose doubts are rent asunder by knowledge आत्मवन्तं poised in the Self कर्माणि actions न not निबध्नन्ति bind.

With work renounced by Yoga and doubts rent asunder by knowledge, O Dhananjaya, actions do not bind him who is poised in the Self.

Therefore, cutting with the sword of knowledge, this doubt about the Self, born of ignorance, residing in thy heart, take refuge in Yoga. Arise, O Bhârata !

इति ज्ञानकर्मसंन्यासयोगो नाम चतुर्थोऽध्यायः ॥

The end of chapter four, designated THE WAY OF RENUNCIATION OF ACTION IN KNOWLEDGE.

॥ पञ्चमोऽध्यायः ॥

FIFTH CHAPTER.

अर्जुन उवाच ॥

संन्यासं कर्मणां कृष्ण पुनर्योगं च शंससि ॥

यच्छ्रेय एतयोरेकं तन्मे ब्रूहि सुनिश्चितम् ॥ १ ॥

V. 1.

अर्जुनः Arjuna उवाच said :

कृष्ण O Krishna कर्मणां of actions संन्यासं renunciation पुनः again योगं performance च and शंससि commendest एतयोः of these two यत् which श्रेयः the better एकं one तत् that (एकं one) सुनिश्चितं decisively मे to me ब्रूहि tell.

Arjuna said :

Renunciation of action, O Krishna, thou commendest, and again, its performance. Which is the better one of these? Do thou tell me decisively.

[In IV. 18, 19, 21, 22, 24, 32, 33, 37 and 41, the Lord has spoken of the renunciation of all actions ; and in IV. 42 He has exhorted Arjuna to engage in Yoga, in performance of action. Owing to the mutual opposition between the two, which makes it impossible for one man to resort to both of them at the same time, doubt arises in the mind of Arjuna, and hence the question as above.

Its performance—"Yoga" in the text: Yoga here and in the following verses means Karma-Yoga.]

श्रीभगवानुवाच ॥

संन्यासः कर्मयोगश्च निःश्रेयसकरावुभौ ॥

तयोस्तु कर्मसंन्यासात्कर्मयोगो विशिष्यते ॥ २ ॥

V. 2.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

संन्यासः Renunciation कर्मयोगः performance of action च and उभौ both निःश्रेयसकरौ leading to freedom तयोः of those two तु but कर्मसंन्यासात् from renunciation of action कर्मयोगः performance of action विशिष्यते is superior.

The Blessed Lord said :

Both renunciation and performance of action lead to freedom : of these, performance of action is superior to the renunciation of action.

[Performance of action—is superior to mere renunciation (i.e., unaccompanied with knowledge) in the case of the novice in the path of spirituality. See the 6th sloka of this chapter.]

निर्वन्द्वो हि महाबाहो सुखं बन्धात्प्रमुच्यते ॥ ३ ॥

V. 3.

यः Who न not द्वेष्टि dislikes न not कांक्षति likes सः he नित्यसंन्यासी constant Sannyasi ज्ञेयः should be known महाबाहो O mighty-armed हि verily निर्द्वन्द्वः one free from the pairs of opposites बन्धात् from bondage सुखं easily प्रमुच्यते is set free.

He should be known a constant Sannyasi, who neither likes nor dislikes : for, free from the pairs of opposites, O mighty-armed, he is easily set free from bondage.

[Constant Sannyasi : he need not have taken Sannyasa formally, but if he has the above frame of mind, he is a Sannyasi for ever and aye.

Neither likes nor dislikes : Neither hates pain and the objects causing pain, nor desires pleasure and the objects causing pleasure, though engaged in action.]

साङ्ख्ययोगौ पृथग्बालाः प्रवदन्ति न परिडिताः ॥

एकमप्यास्थितः सम्यग्भयोर्विन्दते फलम् ॥ ४ ॥

V. 4.

बालाः Children साङ्ख्ययोगौ Sankhya (knowledge) and performance of actions पृथक् distinct (इति this) प्रवदन्ति speak न not परिडिताः the wise एकं one, अपि even सम्यक् truly आस्थितः established in उभयोः of both फलं fruit विन्दते gains.

Children, not the wise, speak of knowledge and performance of action, as distinct. He who truly lives in one, gains the fruits of both.

[Children : the ignorant people devoid of insight into the purpose of the Shâstra.]

यत्साङ्गैः प्राप्यते स्थानं तद्योगैरपि गम्यते ॥

एकं साङ्गं च योगं च यः पश्यति स पश्यति ॥ ५ ॥

V. 5.

साङ्गैः By the Jnânins यत् which स्थानं plane प्राप्यते is reached योगैः by the Karmayogins अपि even तत् that गम्यते is reached यः who साङ्गं knowledge च and योगं performance of action च and एकं one पश्यति sees सः he पश्यति sees.

The plane which is reached by the Jnânins is also reached by the Karmayogins. Who sees knowledge and performance of action as one, he sees.

संन्यासस्तु महाबाहो दुःखमाप्नुमयोगतः ॥

योगरुको मुनिर्ब्रह्म न चिरेणाधिगच्छति ॥ ६ ॥

V. 6.

महाबाहो O mighty-armed अयोगतः without performance of action संन्यासः renunciation of action आप्नुं to attain दुःखं hard तु but योगयुक्तः devoted to the path of action मुनिः a man of meditation न चिरेण quickly ब्रह्म to Brahman अधिगच्छति goes.

Renunciation of action, O mighty-armed, is hard to attain to without performance of action; the man of meditation, purified by devotion to action, quickly goes to Brahman.

[It is not that renunciation of action based on knowledge is not superior to performance of action, but that the latter method is easier for a beginner, and qualifies him for the higher path, by purifying his mind. Hence it is the proper, and therefore superior, course in his case.]

योगयुक्तो विशुद्धात्मा विजितात्मा जितेन्द्रियः ॥

सर्वभूतात्मभूतात्मा कुर्वन्नपि न लिप्यते ॥ ७ ॥

V. 7.

योगयुक्तः Devoted to the path of action विशुद्धात्मा a man of purified mind विजितात्मा one with the body conquered जितेन्द्रियः one whose senses are subdued सर्वभूतात्मभूतात्मा one who realises his self as the Self in all beings कुर्वन् acting अपि though न not लिप्यते is tainted.

With the mind purified by devotion to performance of action, and the body conquered, and senses subdued, one who realises one's self, as the Self in all beings, though acting, is not tainted.

नैव किञ्चित्करोमीति युक्तो मन्येत तत्त्ववित् ॥

प्रलपन्पिबन्पूजयन्नुत्सृजन्निषन्निमिषन्नपि ॥

इन्द्रियाणीन्द्रियार्थेषु वर्तन्त इति धारयन् ॥ ९ ॥

V. 8. 9.

युक्तः Centred (in the Self) तत्त्ववित् the knower of truth पश्यन् seeing शृण्वन् hearing स्पृशन् touching जिघ्रन् smelling श्नान् eating गच्छन् going स्वपन् sleeping श्वसन् breath-

The knower of Truth, (being) centred (in the Self) should think, "I do nothing at all"—though seeing, hearing, touching, smelling, eating, going, sleeping, breathing, speaking, letting go, holding, opening and closing the eyes,—convinced that it is the senses that move among sense-objects.

ब्रह्मण्याधाय कर्माणि सङ्गं त्यक्त्वा करोति यः ॥

लिप्यते न स पापेन पद्मपत्रमिवाम्भसा ॥ १० ॥

V. 10.

यः Who ब्रह्मणि in Brahman आधाय resigning सङ्गं attachment त्यक्त्वा forsaking कर्माणि actions करोति does सः he अम्भसा by water पद्मपत्रं lotus-leaf इव like पापेन by evil न not लिप्यते soiled.

He who does actions forsaking attachment, resigning them to Brahman, is not soiled by evil, like unto a lotus-leaf by water.

[Evil: the results, good and bad, producing bondage.]

कायेन मनसा बुद्ध्या केवलैरिन्द्रियैरपि ॥

योगिनः कर्म कुर्वन्ति सङ्गं त्यक्त्वाऽऽत्मशुद्धये ॥ ११ ॥

V. 11.

योगिनः Devotees in the path of work सङ्गं attachment त्यक्त्वा forsaking आत्मशुद्धये for the purification of the heart केवलैः only कायेन by body मनसा by mind बुद्ध्या by intellect इन्द्रियैः by senses अपि even कर्म action कुर्वन्ति perform.

Devotees in the path of work perform action, only with body, mind, senses, and intellect, forsaking attachment, for the purification of the heart.

[Only with &c.—without egotism or selfishness : it applies to body, mind, senses and intellect.]

युक्तः कर्मफलं त्यक्त्वा शान्तिमाप्नोति नैष्ठिकीम् ॥

अयुक्तः कामकारेण फले सक्तो निबध्यते ॥ १२ ॥

V. 12.

युक्तः The well-poised कर्मफलं fruit of action त्यक्त्वा forsaking नैष्ठिकीं born of steadfastness शान्तिं peace आप्नोति attains अयुक्तः the unbalanced कामकारेण led by desire फले in the fruit (of action) सक्तः (being) attached निबध्यते is bound.

The well-poised, forsaking the fruit of action, attains peace, born of steadfastness; the unbalanced one, led by desire, is bound by being attached to fruit (of action).

[Born of steadfastness ∴ Sankara explains naisthikīm as meaning due to gradual perfection in the path of knowledge, having the following stages of development : (1) purity of heart, (2) gaining of knowledge, (3) renunciation of action, (4) steadiness in knowledge.]

सर्वकर्माणि मनसा संन्यस्यास्ते सुखं वशी ॥

नवद्वारे पुरे देही नैव कुर्वन्न कारयन् ॥ १३ ॥

V. 13.

वशी Subduer (of the senses) देही embodied soul मनसा by discrimination सर्वकर्माणि all actions संन्यस्य having renounced सुखं happily नवद्वारे in the nine-gated पुरे city न not एव verily कुर्वन् acting न not (एव verily) कारयन् causing (others) to act आस्ते rests.

The subduer (of the senses), having renounced all actions by discrimination, rests happily in the city of the nine gates, neither acting, nor causing (others) to act.

[All actions : 1st, nitya, or obligatory—the performance of which does not produce any merit but by non-performance produces demerit. 2nd, naimittika, those arising on the occurrence of some special events, as the birth of a son : these also are customary. 3rd, kâmya—those intended for securing some special ends : these are only optional. 4th, nishiddha—or forbidden. He rests happily in the body (of nine organic openings), seeing inaction in action : just exhausting his prârabdha—not relating or identifying himself with anything of the dual universe.]

न कर्मफलसंयोगं स्वभावस्तु प्रवर्तते ॥ १४ ॥

V. 14.

प्रभुः The Lord लोकस्य for the world न neither कर्तृत्वं agency न nor कर्माणि actions न nor कर्मफलसंयोगं union with the fruits of action सृजति creates तु but स्वभावः (Nature) universal ignorance प्रवर्तते leads to action.

Neither agency, nor actions does the Lord create for the world, nor (does He bring about) the union with the fruit of action. It is the universal ignorance that does (it all).

नादत्ते कस्यचित् पापं न चैव सुकृतं विभुः ॥

अज्ञानेनावृतं ज्ञानं तेन मुह्यन्ति जन्तवः ॥ १५ ॥

V. 15.

विभुः Omnipresent कस्यचित् of any one पापं demerit न not आदत्ते takes सुकृतं merit च एव and न not अज्ञानेन by ignorance ज्ञानं knowledge आवृतं enveloped तेन hence जन्तवः beings मुह्यन्ति get deluded.

The Omnipresent takes note of the merit or demerit of none. Knowledge is enveloped in ignorance, hence do beings get deluded.

[In unmistakable words, Krishna describes the position of Iswara, or the Lord, in relation to the Universe, in these two verses.

He is all-blissful, all-perfect ; even the shadow of a motive or relation in Him, would be contradictory to His nature. His mere proximity to Prakriti or Nature endues the latter with power and potency of causing all that is. Jiva is bound so long as it relates itself to, and identifies itself with this Nature. When it ceases to do so, it attains freedom. The whole teaching of the Gita, and therefore of the whole Hindu Scripture, on this subject, is condensed in the above.]

ज्ञानेन तु तदज्ञानं येषां नाशितमात्मनः ॥

तेषां ह्यदेत्यदज्ञानं प्रकाशयति तत्परम् ॥ १६ ॥

V. 16.

तु But आत्मनः of Self ज्ञानेन by knowledge येषां whose तत् that अज्ञानं ignorance नाशितं is destroyed तेषां their तत् that ज्ञानं knowledge परं the Supreme (Brahman) आदित्यवत् like the sun प्रकाशयति reveals.

But whose ignorance is destroyed by the knowledge of Self,—that knowledge of theirs, like the sun, reveals the Supreme (Brahman).

तद्वबुध्यस्तदात्मानस्तन्निष्ठास्तत्परायणाः ॥

गच्छन्त्यपुनरावृत्तिं ज्ञाननिर्धूतकल्मषाः ॥ १७ ॥

V. 17.

तद्वबुध्यः Those who have their intellect absorbed in That तदात्मानः those whose self is That तन्निष्ठाः those who are steadfast in That तत्परायणाः those whose consummation is That ज्ञाननिर्धूतकल्मषाः those whose impurities have been shaken off by knowledge अपुनरावृत्ति non-return गच्छन्ति attain.

Those who have their intellect absorbed in That, whose self is That, whose steadfastness is in That, whose consummation is That, their impurities cleansed by knowledge, they attain to Non-return (Moksha).

विद्याविनयसंपन्ने ब्राह्मणे गवि हस्तिनि ॥

शुनि चैव श्वपाके च पण्डिताः समदर्शिनः ॥ १८ ॥

V. 18.

पण्डिताः The knowers of the Self एव verily विद्याविनय-संपन्ने in one endowed with learning and humility ब्राह्मणे in a Brâhmana गवि in a cow हस्तिनि in an elephant शुनि in a dog च and श्वपाके in a pariah (lit. one who cooks or eats a dog) च and समदर्शिनः lookers with an equal eye (भवन्ति becomes).

The knowers of the Self look with an equal eye on a Brâhmana endowed with learning and humility, a cow, an elephant, a dog, and a pariah.

[Because they can see nothing but the Self. It makes no difference to the sun whether it be reflected in the Ganges, in wine, in a small pool, or in any unclean liquid: the same is the case with the Self. No Upâdhi (or limiting adjunct) can attach to it.]

इहैव तैर्जितः सर्गो येषां साम्ये स्थितं मनः ॥

निर्दोषं हि समं ब्रह्म तस्माद्ब्रह्मणि ते स्थिताः ॥ १९ ॥

V. ' 19.

येषां Whose मनः mind साम्ये in evenness स्थितं fixed इह in this world एव verily तेः by them सर्गः (relative) existence जितः is conquered हि indeed ब्रह्म Brahman समं even निर्दोषं without imperfection तस्मात् therefore ते they ब्रह्मणि in Brahman स्थिताः are established.

(Relative) existence has been conquered by them, even in this world, whose mind rests in evenness, since Brahman is even and without imperfection : therefore they indeed rest in Brahman.

[Relative existence : All bondage as of birth, death etc. All possibility of bondage is destroyed when the mind attains perfect evenness, which in other words means—becoming Brahman.]

न प्रहृष्येत् प्रियं प्राप्य नोद्विजेत्प्राप्य चाप्रियम् ॥

स्थिरबुद्धिरसंमूढो ब्रह्मविद्ब्रह्मणि स्थितः ॥ २० ॥

V. 20.

ब्रह्मवित् Knower of Brahman ब्रह्मणि in Brahman स्थितः established स्थिरबुद्धिः one with intellect steady असंमूढः undeluded प्रियं the pleasant प्राप्य receiving न not प्रहृष्येत् should rejoice अप्रियं the unpleasant च and प्राप्य receiving न not उद्विजेत् should be troubled.

Resting in Brahman, with intellect steady, and without delusion, the knower of Brahman neither rejoiceth in receiving what is pleasant, nor grieveth on receiving what is unpleasant.

बाह्यस्पर्शेष्वसक्तात्मा विन्दत्यात्मनि यत्सुखम् ॥

स ब्रह्मयोगयुक्तात्मा सुखमक्षयमश्नुते ॥ २१ ॥

V. 21.

बाह्यस्पर्शेषु In the contacts (of the senses) with the external objects असक्तात्मा one whose heart is unattached आत्मनि in the Self तत् that सुखं joy विन्दति realises सः he ब्रह्मयोग्युक्तात्मा heart devoted to the meditation of Brahman अक्षयं undecaying सुखं happiness अश्नुते attains.

With the heart unattached to external objects, he realises the joy that is in the Self. With the heart devoted to the meditation of Brahman, he attains undecaying happiness.

[Heart—Antah-karana.]

ये हि संस्पर्शजा भोगा दुःखयोनय एव ते ॥

आद्यन्तवन्तः कौन्तेय न तेषु रमते बुधः ॥ २२ ॥

V. 22.

कौन्तेय O Kaunteya ये which हि verily संस्पर्शजाः contact-born भोगाः enjoyments ते they दुःखयोनयः generators of misery एव only आद्यन्तवन्तः with beginning and end बुधः the wise तेषु in them न not रमते seeks pleasure.

Since enjoyments that are contact-born are parents of misery alone, and with beginning and end, O son of Kunti, a wise man does not seek pleasure in them.

शक्नोतीहैव यः सोढुं प्राक् शरीरविमोक्षणात् ॥

कामक्रोधोद्वेगं स युक्तः स सुखी नरः ॥ २३ ॥

V. 23.

यः Who शरीरविमोक्षणात् (abl.) liberation from the body प्राक् before कामक्रोधोद्वेगं born of lust and anger वेगं impulse इह in this world एव verily सोढुं to withstand शक्नोति is able सः he युक्तः steadfast in Yoga सः he सुखी happy नरः man.

He who can withstand in this world, before the liberation from the body, the impulse arising from lust and anger, he is steadfast (in Yoga), he is a happy man.

योऽन्तःसुखोऽन्तराराम तथाऽन्तर्ज्योतिरेव यः ॥

स योगी ब्रह्मनिर्वाणं ब्रह्मभूतोऽधिगच्छति ॥ २४ ॥

V. 24.

यः Who अन्तःसुखः one whose happiness is within अन्तरारामः one whose relaxation is within तथा again यः who अन्तर्ज्योतिः one whose light is within सः that योगी Yogi एव alone ब्रह्मभूतः becoming Brahman ब्रह्मनिर्वाणं bliss in Brahman, i.e., absolute freedom अधिगच्छति gains.

Whose happiness is within, whose relaxation is within, whose light is within, that Yogi alone, becoming Brahman, gains absolute freedom.

[Within : In the Self.

Absolute Freedom : Brahma-Nirvana. He attains Moksha while still living in the body.]

लभन्ते ब्रह्मनिर्वाणमुषयः शीणकल्मषाः ॥

छिन्नद्वैधा यतात्मानः सर्वभूतहिते रताः ॥ २५ ॥

V. 25.

शीणकल्मषाः Those whose imperfections are exhausted छिन्नद्वैधाः those whose doubts are dispelled यतात्मानः those whose senses are controlled सर्वभूतहिते in the good of all beings रताः engaged मुषयः Rishis ब्रह्मनिर्वाणं absolute freedom लभन्ते obtain.

With imperfections exhausted, doubts dispelled, senses controlled, engaged in the good of all beings, the Rishis obtain absolute freedom.

[Rishis : Men of right vision and renunciation.]

कामक्रोधवियुक्तानां यतीनां यतचेतसाम् ॥'

अभितो ब्रह्मनिर्वाणं वर्तते विदितात्मनाम् ॥ २६ ॥

V. 26.

कामक्रोधवियुक्तानां Of those who have been released from lust and anger यतचेतसां of those whose heart is controlled विदितात्मनां of those who have realised the Self यतीनां of the Sannyasis अभितः both here and hereafter ब्रह्मनिर्वाणं absolute freedom वर्तते exists.

Released from lust and anger, the heart controlled, the Self realised, absolute freedom is for such Sannyasis, both here and hereafter.

स्पर्शान् कृत्वा बहिर्बाह्यांश्चक्षुश्चैवान्तरे भ्रुवोः ॥

प्राणापानौ समौ कृत्वा नासाभ्यन्तरचारिणौ ॥ २७ ॥

यतेन्द्रियमनोबुद्धिर्मुनिर्मोक्षपरायणः ॥

विगतेच्छाभयक्रोधो यः सदा मुक्त एव सः ॥ २८ ॥

V. 27. 28.

बाह्यान् External स्पर्शान् (contacts) objects बहिः (outside) कृत्वा shutting out चक्षुः eye च' and भ्रुवोः of the (two) eyebrows अन्तरे in the middle एव thus नासाभ्यन्तरचारिणौ moving inside the nostrils प्राणापानौ currents of Prâna and Apâna समौ even कृत्वा having made यतेन्द्रियमनोबुद्धिः one who has controlled one's senses, mind and intellect मोक्षपरायणः one to whom Moksha is the supreme goal विगतेच्छाभयक्रोधः freed from desire, fear and anger यः who मुनिः man of meditation सः he सदा for ever मुक्तः free एव verily.

Shutting out external objects, steadying the eyes between the eyebrows, restricting the even currents of Prâna and Apâna inside the nostrils; the senses, mind, and intellect controlled, with Moksha as the supreme goal, freed from desire, fear and anger : such a man of meditation is verily free for ever.

[External objects : Sound and other sense-objects. External objects are shut out from the mind by not thinking of them. When the eyes are half-closed in meditation, the eye-balls remain fixed, and their gaze converges, as it were, between the eyebrows. Prâna is the out-going breath, Apâna the in-coming ; the restriction described is effected by Pranayama.

These two verses are the aphorisms of which the following chapter is the commentary.]

भोक्तारं यज्ञतपसां सर्वलोकमहेश्वरम् ॥

सुहृदं सर्वभूतानां ज्ञात्वा मां शान्तिमुच्छति ॥ २६ ॥

V. 29.

यज्ञतपसां Of Yajnas and asceticisms भोक्तारं dispenser सर्वलोकमहेश्वरं Great Lord of all the worlds सर्वभूतानां of all beings सुहृदं friend मां Me ज्ञात्वा knowing शान्तिं Peace मुच्छति attains.

Knowing Me as the dispenser of Yajnas and asceticisms, as the Great Lord of all worlds, as the friend of all beings, he attains Peace.

[Dispenser : Both as author and goal, the Lord is the dispenser of the fruit of all actions.

Friend : Doer of good without expecting any return.]

इति संन्यासयोगो नाम पञ्चमोऽध्यायः ॥

The end of the fifth chapter, designated THE WAY OF RENUNCIATION.

॥ षष्ठोऽध्यायः ॥

SIXTH CHAPTER.

श्रीभगवानुवाच ॥

अनाश्रितः कर्मफलं कार्यं कर्म करोति यः ॥

स संन्यासी च योगी च न निरग्निर्न चाक्रियः ॥ १ ॥

VI. 1.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

यः Who कर्मफलं fruit of action अनाश्रितः not leaning to कार्यं bounden कर्म duty करोति performs सः he संन्यासी renouncer of action च and योगी devotee to action च and न not निरग्निः one without fire न not च and अक्रियः one without action.

The Blessed Lord said :

He who performs his bounden duty without leaning to the fruit of action—he is a renouncer of action as well as a devotee to action : not he who is without fire, nor he who is without action.

[Bounden duty : Nityakarma.

Renouncer of action as well as a devotee to action : Sannyasi and Yogi.

Without fire : He that has renounced actions enjoined by the Vedas, requiring fire as adjunct. e.g., Agnihotra.

Without action : He who has renounced actions which do not require fire as adjunct, such as austerities and meritorious acts like digging wells etc.]

यं संन्यासमिति प्राहुर्योगं तं विद्धि पाण्डव ॥

न ह्यसंन्यस्तसङ्कल्पो योगी भवति कश्चन ॥ २ ॥

VI. 2.

पाण्डव O Pândava यं which संन्यास renunciation इति this प्राहुः said हं that योगं devotion to action विद्धि know हि for असंन्यस्तसङ्कल्पः one who has not forsaken Sankalpa कश्चन any one योगी a devotee to action न not भवति becomes.

Know that to be devotion to action, which is called renunciation, O Pândava, for none becomes a devotee to action without forsaking Sankalpa.

[Sankalpa—is the working of the imaging faculty, forming fancies, making plans and again brushing them aside, conceiving future results, starting afresh on a new line, leading to different issues, and so on and so forth. No one can be a Karma-Yogin or a devotee to action, who makes plans and wishes for the fruit of action.]

आरुरुक्षोर्मुनेर्योगं कर्म कारणमुच्यते ॥

योगारूढस्य तस्यैव शमः कारणमुच्यते ॥ ३ ॥

VI. 3.

योगं Concentration आरुरुक्षोः wishing to climb (i.e. to attain) मुनेः of the man of meditation कर्म work कारणं means उच्यते is said योगारूढस्य of one who has attained concentration तस्य his शमः inaction एव verily कारणं way उच्यते is said.

For the man of meditation wishing to attain purification of heart leading to concentration, work is said to be the way : For him, when he has attained such (concentration), inaction is said to be the way.

[Purification of the heart leading to concentration—Yoga. "For a Brahmana there is no wealth like unto (the eye of) one-ness, (and) even-ness, true-ness, refinement, steadiness, harmlessness, straight-forwardness, and gradual withdrawal from all action."—Mahabharata, Shanti Parva. 175, 38]

यदा हि नेन्द्रियार्थेषु न कर्मस्वनुषज्जते ॥

सर्वसंकल्पसंन्यासी योगारूढस्तदोच्यते ॥ ४ ॥

VI. 4.

यदा When हि verily न neither इन्द्रियार्थेषु in sense-objects न nor कर्मसु in actions अनुषज्जते is attached तदा then सर्वसंकल्पसंन्यासी renouncer of all Sankalpas योगारूढः to have attained concentration उच्यते is said.

Verily, when there is no attachment, either to sense-objects, or to actions, then is one having renounced all Sankalpas said to have attained concentration.

[Attained concentration : Yogârudha.

Renouncer of all Sankalpas : "O desire, I know where thy root lies : thou art born of Sankalpa. I shall not think of thee, and thou shalt cease to exist, together with thy root."—Maha-bharata. Shanti Parva. 177, 25.]

उद्धरेदात्मनाऽऽत्मानं नात्मानमवसादयेत् ॥

आत्मैव ह्यात्मनो बन्धुरात्मैव रिपुरात्मनः ॥ ५ ॥

VI. 5.

आत्मना By self आत्मानं oneself उद्धरेत् should uplift न not (तु but) आत्मानं oneself अवसादयेत् should drag down हि verily आत्मा self एव alone आत्मनः of oneself बन्धुः friend आत्मा self एव verily आत्मनः of oneself रिपुः enemy.

A man should uplift himself by his own self, so let him not weaken this self. For this self is the friend of oneself, and this self is the enemy of oneself.

[The self-conscious nature of man is here considered in two aspects as being both the object of spiritual uplift and the subject of spiritual uplift, the ego acted upon and the ego acting upon the former. This latter active principle or ego should be kept strong in its uplifting function, for it is apt to turn an enemy, if it is not a friend, and the next verse explains the reason.]

बन्धुरात्माऽऽत्मनस्तस्य येनात्मैवात्मना जितः ॥

अनात्मनस्तु शत्रुत्वे वर्तेतात्मैव शत्रुवत् ॥ ६ ॥

VI. 6.

येन By whom आत्मना by oneself एव verily आत्मा self जितः is conquered तस्य his आत्मा self आत्मनः of oneself बन्धुः friend तु but अनात्मनः of unconquered self आत्मा self एव verily शत्रुवत् like foe शत्रुत्वे in the position of a foe वर्तेत would remain.

The self (the active part of our nature) is the friend of the self, for him who has conquered himself by this self. But to the unconquered self, this self is inimical, (and behaves) like (an external) foe.

[The self is the friend of one, in whom the aggregate of the body and the senses has been brought under control, and an enemy when such is not the case.]

जितात्मनः प्रशान्तस्य परमात्मा समाहितः ॥

शीतोष्णसुखदुःखेषु तथा मानापमानयोः ॥ ७ ॥

VI. 7.

जितात्मनः Of the self-controlled प्रशान्तस्य of the serene one परमात्मा the Supreme Self शीतोष्णसुखदुःखेषु in cold and heat, pleasure and pain तथा as also मानापमानयोः in honour and dishonour समाहितः is steadfast.

To the self-controlled and serene, the Supreme Self is the object of constant realisation, in cold and heat, pleasure and pain, as well as in honour and dishonour.

[Hence he remains unruffled in pleasant and adverse environments.]

ज्ञानविज्ञानतृप्तात्मा कूटस्थो विजितेन्द्रियः ॥

युक्त इत्युच्यते योगी समलोष्टाश्मकाञ्चनः ॥ ८ ॥

VI. 8.

ज्ञानविज्ञानतृप्तात्मा One whose heart is satisfied by wisdom and realisation कूटस्थः unshaken विजितेन्द्रियः who has conquered his senses समलोष्टाश्मकाञ्चनः one to whom a lump of earth, stone, and gold are the same योगी Yogi युक्तः steadfast इति this उच्यते is said.

Whose heart is filled with satisfaction by wisdom and realisation, and is changeless, whose senses are conquered, and to whom a lump of earth, stone, and gold are the same : that Yogi is called steadfast.

[Wisdom—Jnâna : knowledge of Shâstras. Realisation—Vijnâna : one's own experience of the teachings of Shâstras.

Changeless—like the anvil. Things are hammered and shaped on the anvil, but the anvil remains unchanged : in the same manner he is called Kutastha—whose heart remains unchanged though objects are present.]

सुहृन्मित्रार्युदासीनमध्यस्थद्वेष्यबन्धुषु ॥

साधुष्वपि च पापेषु समबुद्धिर्विशिष्यते ॥ ६ ॥

VI. 9.

सुहृत् Well-wisher मित्रं friends अरिः foe उदासीनः the neutral मध्यस्थः the arbiter द्वेष्यः the hateful बन्धुः relative (सुहृन्मित्रार्युदासीनमध्यस्थद्वेष्यबन्धुषु in well-wishers, etc.) साधुषु in the righteous अपि even च and पापेषु in the unrighteous समबुद्धिः one whose mind is even विशिष्यते attains excellence.

He attains excellence who looks with equal regard upon well-wishers, friends, foes, neutrals, and arbiters, upon the hateful, the relatives, and upon the righteous and unrighteous alike.

योगी युञ्जीत सततमात्मानं रहसि स्थितः ॥

एकाकी यतचित्तात्मा निराशीरपरिग्रहः ॥ १० ॥

VI. 10.

योगी Yogi सततं constantly रहसि in solitude स्थितः remaining एकाकी alone यतचित्तात्मा one with body and mind controlled निराशीः free from hope अपरिग्रहः free from possession आत्मानं युञ्जीत should practise concentration of the heart.

The Yogi should constantly practise concentration of the heart, retiring into solitude, alone, with the mind and body subdued, free from hope and possession.

शुचौ देशे प्रतिष्ठाप्य स्थिरमासनमात्मनः ॥

नात्युच्छ्रितं नातिनीचं चेलाजिनकुशोत्तरम् ॥ ११ ॥

VI. 11.

शुचौ In a cleanly देशे spot आत्मनः one's own स्थिरं firm न not अत्युच्छ्रितं too high न not अतिनीचं too low चेलाजिनकुशोत्तरं a cloth, a skin and Kusha-grass, arranged in consecution आसनं seat प्रतिष्ठाप्य having established.

Having in a cleanly spot established his seat, firm, neither too high nor too low, made of a cloth, a skin, and Kusha-grass, arranged in consecution :

[Arranged in consecution : that is,—the Kusha-grass arranged on the ground ; above that, a tiger or deer skin, covered by a cloth.]

तत्रैकाग्रं मनः कृत्वा यतचित्तेन्द्रियक्रियः ॥

VI. 12.

तत्र There आसने on the seat उपविश्य sitting मनः mind एकाग्रं one-pointed कृत्वा making यतचित्तेन्द्रियक्रियः one who has subdued the action of mind and senses आत्मविशुद्धये for the purification of the heart योगं Yoga युञ्ज्यात् should practise.

There, seated on that seat, making the mind one-pointed and subduing the action of the imaging faculty and the senses, let him practise Yoga for the purification of the heart.

Let him firmly hold his body, head and neck erect and still, (with the eye-balls fixed, as if) gazing at the tip of his nose, and not looking around.

[Gazing at the tip of his nose,—could not be literally meant here, because then the mind would be fixed only there, and not on the Self : when the eyes are half-closed in meditation, and the eye-balls are still, the gaze is directed, as it were, on the tip of the nose.]

प्रशान्तात्मा विगतभीर्ब्रह्मचारिव्रते स्थितः ॥

With the heart serene and fearless, firm in the vow of a Brahmachari, with the mind controlled, and ever thinking of Me, let him sit (in Yoga) having Me as his supreme goal.

Thus always keeping the mind steadfast, the Yogi of subdued mind attains the peace residing in Me,—the peace which culminates in Nirvana (Moksha).

नात्यश्नतस्तु योगोऽस्ति न चैकान्तमनश्नतः ॥

VI. 16.

अर्जुन O Arjuna अत्यश्नतः of one who eats too much तु indeed न not योगः Yoga अस्ति is न not च and एकान्तं at all अत्यश्नतः of one who does not eat न not च and अतिस्वप्न-शीलस्य of one who sleeps too much न not च and एव verily जाग्रतः of the wakeful.

(Success in) Yoga is not for him who eats too much or too little—nor, O Arjuna, for him who sleeps too much or too little.

[The Yoga-shastra prescribes: "Half (the stomach) for food and condiments, the third (quarter) for water, and the fourth should be reserved for free motion of air."]

युक्ताहारविहारस्य युक्तचेष्टस्य कर्मसु ॥

VI. 17.

युक्ताहारविहारस्य Of one who is moderate in eating and recreation (such as walking, etc.) कर्मसु in actions युक्तचेष्टस्य of one who is moderate in effort (for work) युक्तस्वप्नाव-बोधस्य of one who is moderate in sleep and wakefulness दुःखहा destructive of misery योगः Yoga भवति becomes.

To him who is temperate in eating and recreation, in his effort for work, and in sleep and wakefulness, Yoga becomes the destroyer of misery.

यदा विनियतं चित्तमात्मन्येवावतिष्ठते ॥

निःस्पृहः सर्वकामेभ्यो युक्त इत्युच्यते तदा ॥ १८ ॥

VI. 18.

यदा When विनियतं completely controlled चित्तं mind आत्मनि in the Self एव verily अवतिष्ठते rests तदा then सर्वकामेभ्यः from all desires निःस्पृहः free from longing युक्तः steadfast इति this उच्यते is said.

When the completely controlled mind rests serenely in the Self alone, free from longing after all desires, then is one called steadfast, (in the Self).

“As a lamp in a spot sheltered from the wind does not flicker,”—even such has been the simile used for a Yogi of subdued mind, practising concentration in the Self.

तं That दुःखसंयोगवियोगं a state of severance from the contact of pain योगसंज्ञितं called by the name of Yoga विद्याद् should know अनिर्विण्णचेतसा with undepressed heart सः that योगः Yoga निश्चयेन with perseverance योक्तव्यः should be practised.

When the mind, absolutely restrained by the practice of concentration, attains quietude, and when seeing the Self by the self, one is satisfied in his own Self ; when he feels that infinite bliss—which is perceived by the (purified) intellect and which transcends the senses, and established wherein he never departs from his real state ; and having obtained which, regards no other acquisition superior to that, and where established, he is not moved even by heavy sorrow ;—let that be known as the state, called by the name of Yoga,—a state of severance from the contact of pain. This Yoga should be practised with perseverance, undisturbed by depression of heart.

[Which is perceived.....intellect : Which the purified intellect can grasp independently of the senses. When in meditation, the mind is deeply concentrated, the senses do not function, and are resolved into their cause,—that is, the mind, and when the latter is steady, so that there is only the intellect functioning, or in other words, cognition only exists, the indescribable Self is realised.]

mind एव alone समन्ततः from all sides इन्द्रियग्रामं group of senses विनियम्य completely restraining.

Abandoning without reserve all desires born of Sankalpa, and completely restraining, by the mind alone, the whole group of senses from their objects in all directions,

शनैः शनैरुपरमेद्बुद्ध्या धृतिगृहीतया ॥

आत्मसंस्थं मनः कृत्वा न किञ्चिदपि चिन्तयेत् ॥ २५ ॥

VI. 25.

धृतिगृहीतया Set in patience बुद्ध्या by the intellect मनः mind आत्मसंस्थं placed in the Self कृत्वा making शनैः शनैः by degrees उपरमेत् should attain quietude न not किञ्चित् anything अपि even चिन्तयेत् should think.

With the intellect set in patience, with the mind fastened on the Self, let him attain quietude by degrees : let him not think of anything.

यतो यतो निश्चरति मनश्चञ्चलमस्थिरम् ॥

Through whatever reason the restless, unsteady mind wanders away, let him, curbing it from that, bring it under the subjugation of the Self alone.

प्रशान्तमनसं ह्येनं योगिनं सुखं उत्तमम् ॥

VI. 27.

प्रशान्तमनसं One of perfectly tranquil mind शान्तरजसं one whose passions are quieted अकल्मषं one who is free from taint ब्रह्मभूतम् Brahman-become एनं this योगिनं Yogin हि verily उत्तमं supreme सुखं bliss उपैति comes.

Verily, the supreme bliss comes to that Yogi, of perfectly tranquil mind, and passions quieted, Brahman-become, and freed from taint.

[Brahman-become, i.e., one who has realised that all is Brahman.

Taint—of good and evil.]

युञ्जन्नेवं सदाऽऽत्मानं योगी विगतकल्मषः ॥

VI. 28.

एवं Thus सदा constantly आत्मानं mind युञ्जन् engaging विगतकल्मषः freed from taint योगी Yogi सुखेन easily ब्रह्मसंस्पर्श generated by the contact with Brahman अत्यन्तं intense सुखं bliss अश्नुते attains.

The Yogi freed from taint (of good and evil), constantly engaging the mind thus, with ease attains the infinite bliss of contact with Brahman.

सर्वभूतस्थमात्मानं सर्वभूतानि चात्मनि ॥

ईक्षते योगयुक्तात्मा सर्वत्र समदर्शनः ॥ २९ ॥

VI. 29.

योगयुक्तात्मा One whose heart is steadfast in Yoga सर्वत्र everywhere समदर्शनः one who sees the same आत्मानं Self सर्वभूतस्थं abiding in all beings सर्वभूतानि all beings च and आत्मनि in the Self ईक्षते sees.

With the heart concentrated by Yoga, with the eye of evenness for all things, he beholds the Self in all beings and all beings in the Self.

यो मां पश्यति सर्वत्र सर्वं च मयि पश्यति ॥

तस्याहं न प्रणश्यामि स च मे न प्रणश्यति ॥ ३० ॥

VI. 30.

यः Who मां Me सर्वत्र everywhere पश्यति sees मयि in Me च and सर्वं everything पश्यति sees तस्य his (to him) अहं I न not प्रणश्यामि vanish सः he च and मे My (to Me) न not प्रणश्यति vanishes.

He who sees Me in all things, and sees all things in Me, he never becomes separated from Me, nor do I become separated from him.

[Separated, i.e., by time, space, or anything intervening.]

सर्वभूतस्थितं यो मां भजत्येकत्वमास्थितः ॥

VI. 31.

यः Who सर्वभूतस्थितं dwelling in all beings मां Me एकत्वं unity आस्थितः established भजति worships सर्वथा in every way वर्तमानः remaining अपि even सः that योगी Yogi मयि in Me वर्तते abides.

He who worships Me, dwelling in all beings, being established in unity, whatever his mode of life, that Yogi abides in Me.

[Worships Me : realises Me as the Self of all.

Established in unity, i.e., having resolved all duality in the underlying unity.]

आत्मौपम्येन सर्वत्र समं पश्यति योऽर्जुन ॥

सुखं वा यदि वा दुःखं स योगी परमो मतः ॥ ३२ ॥

VI. 32.

अर्जुन O Arjuna यः who सर्वत्र everywhere सुखं pleasure वा or यदि if वा or दुःखं pain आत्मौपम्येन by comparison with himself समं the same पश्यति sees सः that योगी Yogi परमः highest मतः is regarded.

He who judges of pleasure or pain everywhere, by the same standard as he applies to himself, that Yogi, O Arjuna, is regarded as the highest.

[Seeing that whatever is pleasure or pain to himself, is alike pleasure or pain to all beings, he, the highest of Yogins, wishes good to all and evil to none,—he is always harmless and compassionate to all creatures.]

अर्जुन उवाच ॥

योऽयं योगस्त्वया प्रोक्तः साम्येन मधुसूदन ॥

तस्याहं न पश्यामि चञ्चलत्वात् स्थितिं स्थिराम् ॥३३॥

VI. 33.

अर्जुनः Arjuna उवाच said :

मधुसूदन O slayer of Madhu त्वया by Thee साम्येन by unity or evenness यः which अयं this योगः Yoga प्रोक्तः said एतस्य its स्थिरां lasting स्थितिं endurance चञ्चलत्वात् from restlessness अहं I न not पश्यामि see.

Arjuna said :

This Yoga which has been taught by Thee, O slayer of Madhu, as characterised by evenness, I do not see (the possibility of) its lasting endurance, owing to restlessness (of the mind).

चञ्चलं हि मनः कृष्ण प्रमाथि बलवद्दृढम् ॥

तस्याहं निग्रहं मन्ये वायोरिव सुदुष्करम् ॥ ३४ ॥

VI. 34.

कृष्ण O Krishna हि verily मनः mind चञ्चलं restless प्रमाथि turbulent बलवत् strong दृढं unyielding अहं I तस्य of that निग्रहं control वायोः of the wind इव like सुदुष्करं difficult to do मन्ये regard.

Verily, the mind, O Krishna, is restless, turbulent, strong, and unyielding; I regard it quite as hard to achieve its control, as that of the wind.

[‘Krishna,’ is derived from ‘Krish,’ to scrape : Krishna is so called, because He scrapes or draws away all sins and other evils from His devotees.]

श्रीमगवानुवाच ॥

असंशयं महाबाहो मनो दुर्निग्रहं चलम् ॥

VI. 35.

श्रीमगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

महाबाहो O mighty-armed मनः mind दुर्निग्रहं difficult of control चलं restless असंशयं undoubtedly तु but कौन्तेय O son of Kunti अभ्यासेन by practice वैराग्येण by renunciation च and गृह्यते is restrained.

The Blessed Lord said :

Without doubt, O mighty-armed, the mind is restless, and difficult to control ; but through practice and renunciation, O son of Kunti, it may be governed.

[Cf. Patanjali I. 12.

Practice : Earnest and repeated attempt to make the mind steady in its unmodified state of Pure Intelligence, by means of constant meditation upon the chosen Ideal.

Renunciation : Freedom from desire for any pleasures, seen or unseen, achieved by a constant perception of evil in them.]

असंयतात्मना योगो दुष्प्राप इति मे मतिः ॥

VI. 36.

असंयतात्मना By a man of uncontrolled self योगः Yoga

दुष्प्रापः hard to attain इति this मे My मतिः conviction वश्यात्मना by the self-controlled one तु but उपायतः by right means यतता by the striving one अवाप्तुं to obtain शक्यः possible.

Yoga is hard to be attained by one of uncontrolled self : such is My conviction ; but the self-controlled, striving by right means, can obtain it.

अर्जुन उवाच ॥

अयतिः श्रद्धयोपेतो योगाच्चलितमानसः ॥

अप्राप्य योगसंसिद्धिं कां गतिं कृष्ण गच्छति ॥ ३७ ॥

VI. 37.

अर्जुन Arjuna उवाच said :

कृष्ण O Krishna श्रद्धया by Shraddhâ उपेतः possessed अयतिः uncontrolled योगात् from Yoga चलितमानसः one whose mind wanders away योगसंसिद्धिं perfection in Yoga अप्राप्य not gaining कां which गतिं end गच्छति meets.

Arjuna said :

Though possessed of Shraddhâ but unable to control himself, with the mind wandering away from Yoga, what end does one, failing to gain perfection in Yoga, meet, O Krishna?

Does he not, fallen from both, perish, without support, like a rent cloud, O mighty-armed, deluded in the path of Brahman?

[Fallen from both : That is, from both the paths of knowledge and action.]

एतन्मे संशयं कृष्ण छेत्तुमर्हस्यशेषतः ॥

त्वदन्यः संशयस्यास्य छेत्ता न ह्युपपद्यते ॥ ३६ ॥

VI. 39.

कृष्ण O Krishna मे my एतत् this संशयं doubt अशेषतः completely छेत्तुं to dispel अर्हसि art justified त्वदन्यः but Thee अयं of this संशयस्य doubt छेत्ता dispeller न not हि verily उपपद्यते is fit.

This doubt of mine, O Krishna, Thou shouldst completely dispel ; for it is not possible for any but Thee to dispel this doubt.

[Since there can be no better teacher than the Omniscient Lord.]

श्रीभगवानुवाच ॥

पार्थ नैवेह नामुत्र विनास्तस्य विद्यते ॥

my son हि verily कल्याणकृत् doer of good कश्चित् any दुर्गतिं bad state, hence grief न not गच्छति goes.

. The Blessed Lord said :

Verily, O son of Prithâ, there is destruction for him, neither here nor hereafter : for, the doer of good, O my son, never comes to grief.

[Tâta—son. A disciple is looked upon as a son ; Arjuna is thus addressed having placed himself in the position of a disciple to Krishna.]

प्राप्य पुण्यकृतलोकानुषित्वा शाश्वतीः समाः ॥

ous लोकान् worlds प्राप्य having attained शाश्वतीः eternal समाः years उषित्वा having dwelt शुचीनां of the pure श्रीमतां of the prosperous गेहे in the home अभिजायते reincarnates.

Having attained to the worlds of the righteous, and dwelling there for everlasting years, the fallen in Yoga reincarnates in the home of the pure and the prosperous.

[Everlasting years—not absolutely, meaning a very long period.]

अथवा योगीनामेव कुले भवति धीमताम् ॥

VI. 42.

अथवा Or धीमतां of the wise योगिनां of the Yogis एव verily कुले in the family भवति is born ईदृशं such यत् which जन्म birth एतत् this हि verily लोके in the world दुर्लभतरं very rare to obtain.

Or else he is born into a family of wise Yogis only; verily, a birth such as that is very rare to obtain in this world.

[Very rare : more difficult than the one mentioned in the preceding Sloka.]

There he is united with the intelligence acquired in his former body, and strives more than before, for perfection, O son of the Kurus.

[Intelligence—Samskâra : Store of experience in the shape of impressions and habits.

Strives.....perfection : Strives more strenuously to attain to higher planes of realisation than those acquired in his former birth.]

पूर्वाभ्यासेन तेनैव ह्रियते ह्यवशोऽपि सः ॥

By that previous practice alone, he is borne on in spite of himself. Even the enquirer after Yoga rises superior to the performer of Vedic actions.

[Borne on in spite of himself : carried to the goal of the course which he marked out for himself in his last incarnation, by the force of his former Samskâras, though he might be unconscious of them—or even unwilling to pursue it, owing to the interference of some untoward Karma.

Rises &c. : lit. goes beyond the Word-Brahman, i.e., the Vedas.]

VI. 45. •

तु But प्रयत्नात् with assiduity यतमानः striving योगी Yogi संशुद्धकिल्बिषः purified of taint अनेकजन्मसंसिद्धः perfected through many births ततः then परां supreme गतिं goal याति attains.

The Yogi, striving assiduously, purified of taint, gradually gaining perfection through many births, then reaches the highest goal.

तपस्विभ्योऽधिको योगी ज्ञानिभ्योऽपि मतोऽधिकः ॥

कर्मिभ्यश्चाधिको योगी तस्माद्योगी भवार्जुन ॥ ४६ ॥

VI. 46.

योगी Yogi तपस्विभ्यः than ascetics अधिकः superior ज्ञानिभ्यः than the learned अपि even अधिकः superior कर्मिभ्यः than the performers of action च and योगी Yogi अधिकः superior मतः deemed तस्मात् therefore अर्जुन O Arjuna योगी Yogi भव be.

The Yogi is regarded as superior to those who practise asceticism, also to those who have obtained wisdom (through the Shastras). He is also superior to the performers of action, (enjoined in the Vedas). Therefore, be thou a Yogi, O Arjuna !

[Wisdom : Knowledge from precepts, but not direct insight into the Divine Truth.]

योगिनामपि सर्वेषां मद्गतेनान्तरात्मना ॥

सः he मे by Me सर्वेषां of all योगिनाम् Yogis अपि even युक्ततमः most steadfast मतः regarded.

And of all Yogis, he who with the inner self merged in Me, who with Shraddhâ devotes himself to Me, is considered by Me the most steadfast.

[Of all Yogis &c. :—of all Yogis he who devotes himself to the All-pervading Infinite, is superior to those who devote themselves to the lesser ideals, or gods, such as Vasu, Rudra, Aditya, etc.]

The Blessed Lord said :

With the mind intent on Me, O son of Prithâ, taking refuge in Me, and practising Yoga, how thou shalt without doubt know Me fully, that do thou hear.

[Fully, i.e., possessed of infinite greatness, strength, power, grace, and other infinite attributes.]

I shall tell you in full, of knowledge, speculative and practical, knowing which, nothing more here remains to be known.

[Nothing more—because he who knows the Reality, becomes Omniscient.]

One, perchance, in thousands of men, strives for perfection; and one perchance, among the blessed ones, striving thus, knows Me in reality.

[The Blessed : Siddhânâm—this word literally means the perfected ones—but here it means only those who acquiring good Karma in a past incarnation, strive for freedom in this life.]

भूमिरापोऽनलो वायुः खं मनो बुद्धिरेव च ॥

Bhumi (earth), Ap (water), Anala (fire), Vâyû (air), Kha (ether), mind, intellect, and egoism : thus is My Prakriti divided eight-fold.

[The raison d'être of this reduction of matter into five elements is quite different from that conceived by modern science. Man has five senses only, just five ways in which he can be affected by matter, therefore his perception of matter cannot be divided further. The five elements are of two kinds, subtle and gross. The gross state is said to be formed by taking half of a subtle element, and adding $\frac{1}{8}$ th to it, of each of the rest : e.g., gross Akasha = $\frac{1}{2}$ subtle Akasha + $\frac{1}{8}$ th subtle Vâyû + $\frac{1}{8}$ th subtle Tejas + $\frac{1}{8}$ th subtle Ap + $\frac{1}{8}$ th subtle Bhumi. Then again, the ether, air, light, water, and earth of modern science, do not answer to the five elements of Hindu philosophy. Akasha is just the sound-producing agency. From Akasha rises Vâyû, having the properties of sound and touch. From Vâyû springs Tejas, possessing the property of visibility, as well as those of its predecessors. From Tejas rises Ap, combining with the above properties its distinctive feature,—flavour. Bhumi comes from Ap, bringing the additional property of smell to its inheritance.]

This is the lower (Prakriti). But different from it, know thou, O mighty-armed, My higher Prakriti—the principle of self-consciousness, by which this universe is sustained.

सर्वाणि All भूतानि beings एतद्योनीनि those of which these two (Prakritis) are the womb इति this उपधारय know अहं I कृत्स्नस्य of the whole जगतः universe प्रभवः source तथा and also प्रलयः dissolution.

Know that these (two Prakritis) are the womb of all beings. I am the origin and dissolution of the whole universe.

[I am the origin &c.: In Me the whole universe originates and dissolves, as everything springs from My Prakriti.]

Beyond Me, O Dhananjaya, there is naught.
All this is strung in Me, as a row of jewels on a thread.

[Beyond Me—there is no other cause of the universe but Me.]

I am the sapidity in waters, O son of Kunti;
I, the radiance in the moon and the sun; I am the Om in all the Vedas, sound in Akasha, and manhood in mankind.

[In Me as essence, all these are woven, as being My manifestations.]

I am the sacred fragrance in earth, and the brilliance in fire am I; the life in all beings, and the austerity am I 'in ascetics.

Of the strong, I am the strength devoid of desire and attachment. I am, O bull among the Bhâratas, desire in beings, unopposed to Dharma.

Desire—Kâma: thirst for objects not present to the senses.

Attachment—Râga: for those presented to the senses.

Unopposed to Dharma: the desire which moves in harmony with the ordained duties of life.]

And whatever states pertaining to Sattva, and those pertaining to Rajas, and to Tamas, know them to proceed from Me alone; still I am not in them, but they are in Me.

[All things are in Him, yet not He in them. Logically, this can only happen in superimposition through illusion: as that of a ghost seen in the stump of a tree; the ghost is in the stump, from the point of view of the man in the dark, but the stump is never in the ghost. Similarly the universe is superimposed on the Lord, seen in His place through Maya, but He is not in it. The Lord returns to the same teaching in Chap. IX. 4, 5.]

Deluded by these states, the modifications of the three Gunas (of Prakriti), all this world does not know Me, beyond them, and immutable.

Verily, this divine illusion of Mine, constituted of the Gunas, is difficult to cross over; those who devote themselves to Me alone, cross over this illusion.

[Divine : transcending human perception.

Devote.....alone : Abandoning all formal religion (Dharma) completely take refuge in Me, their own Self, the Lord of illusion.]

They do not devote themselves to Me,—the evil-doers, the deluded, the lowest of men, deprived of discrimination by Mâyâ, and following the way of the Asuras.

[Way of the Asuras, i.e., cruelty, untruth, and the like.]

Four kinds of virtuous men worship Me, O Arjuna,—the distressed, the seeker for knowledge, the seeker for enjoyment, and the wise, O bull among the Bhâratas.

[Seeker for enjoyment: One who wishes for objects of enjoyment, both here and hereafter.

The Wise: One who has forsaken all desires, knowing them to arise from Maya.]

Of them, the wise man, ever-steadfast, (and fired) with devotion to the One, excels; for supremely dear am I to the wise, and he is dear to Me.

Noble indeed are they all, but the wise man I regard as My very Self ; for with the mind steadfast, he is established in Me alone, as the supreme goal.

At the end of many births, the man of wisdom takes refuge in Me, realising that all this is Vāsudeva (the innermost Self). Very rare is that great soul.

Others again, deprived of discrimination by this and that desire, following this or that rite, devote themselves to other gods, led by their own natures.

[Own natures : Samskâras acquired in previous lives.]

Whatever form a devotee seeks to worship with Shraddhâ,—that Shraddhâ of his do I make unwavering.

Endued with that Shraddhâ, he engages in the worship of that, and from it, gains his desires,—these being verily dispensed by Me alone.

But the fruit (accruing) to these men of little understanding is limited. The worshippers of the Devas go to the Devas ; My devotees too come to Me.

[These men of little understanding: Though the amount of exertion is the same (in the two kinds of worship), these people do not take refuge in Me, by doing which they may attain infinite results.]

अबुद्धयः The foolish मम My अव्ययं immutable अनुत्तमं unsurpassed परं supreme भावं nature अजानन्तः not knowing अव्यक्तं the unmanifested मां Me व्यक्तिं manifestation आपन्नं come to मन्यन्ते regard.

The foolish regard Me, the unmanifested, as come into manifestation, not knowing My supreme state,—the immutable and transcendental.

[The ignorant take Me as an ordinary mortal, assuming embodiment from the unmanifested state, like all other men, being impelled by the force of past Karma. This is due to their ignorance of My real nature, hence they do not worship the One without a second.]

नाहं प्रकाशः सर्वस्य योगमायासमावृतः ॥

मूढोऽयं नाभिजानाति लोको मामजमव्ययम् ॥ २५ ॥

VII. 25.

अहं I योगमायासमावृतः veiled by Yoga-Mâyâ, i.e., illusion born of Yoga or the union of the three Gunas सर्वस्य to all प्रकाशः manifest न not मूढः the deluded अयं this लोकः world अजं the unborn अव्ययं the immutable मां Me न not अभिजानाति knows.

Veiled by the illusion born of the congress of the Gunas, I am not manifest to all. This deluded world knows Me not, the Unborn, the Immutable.

[This Yoga-Mâyâ spread over the Lord, which veils the understanding of others in recognising Him, does not obscure His own knowledge, as it is His, and He is the wielder of it,—just as the glam ur (Mâyâ) caused by a juggler (Mâyâvin) does not obstruct his own knowledge. This illusion which binds others, cannot dim His vision.]

वेदाहं समतीतानि वर्तमानानि चार्जुन ॥

VII. 26.

अर्जुन O Arjuna समतीतानि the past च and वर्तमानानि the present भविष्याणि the future च and भूतानि beings अहं I वेद know तु but मां Me कश्चन any one न not वेद knows.

I know, O Arjuna, the beings of the whole past, and the present, and the future, but Me none knoweth.

इच्छाद्वेषसमुत्थेन द्वन्द्वमोहेन भारत ॥

सर्वभूतानि संमोहं सर्गे यान्ति परन्तप ॥ २७ ॥

VII. 27.

परन्तप O scorcher of foes भारत O descendant of Bharata सर्गे at birth इच्छाद्वेषसमुत्थेन arisen from desire and aversion द्वन्द्वमोहेन by the delusion of the pairs of opposites सर्वभूतानि all beings समोहं delusion यान्ति go to.

By the delusion of the pairs of opposites, arising from desire and aversion, O descendant of Bharata, all beings fall into delusion at birth, O scorcher of foes.

[To one whose mind is subject to the dualistic delusion, caused by the passions of desire and aversion, there cannot indeed arise a knowledge of things as they are, even of the external world ; far less can such an intellect grasp the transcendental knowledge of the innermost Self.]

येषां त्वन्तगतं पापं जनानां पुण्यकर्मणाम् ॥

VII. 28.

तु But पुण्यकर्मणां of men of virtuous deeds येषां whose जनानां of men पापं sin अन्तर्गतं is at an end द्वन्द्वमोहनिर्मुक्ताः freed from the delusion of the pairs of opposites ते they दृढव्रताः men of firm resolve मां Me भजन्ते worship.

Those men of virtuous deeds, whose sin has come to an end,—they, freed from the delusion of the pairs of opposites, worship Me with firm resolve.

Those who strive for freedom from old age and death, taking refuge in Me,—they know Brahman, the whole of Adhyâtma, and Karma in its entirety.

[(They know) the whole of Adhyâtma: They realise in full the Reality underlying the innermost individual Self.]

साधिभूताधिदैवं मां साधियज्ञं च ये विदुः ॥

अपि even मां Me विदुः know.

Those who know Me with the Adhibhuta, and the Adhidaiva, and with the Adhiyajna, (continue to) know Me even at the time of death, steadfast in mind.

[Their consciousness of Me continues as ever, unaffected by the change of approaching death.]

अर्जुन उवाच ॥

किं तद्ब्रह्म किमध्यात्मं किं कर्म पुरुषोत्तम ॥

VIII. 1.

अर्जुनः Arjuna उवाच said :

पुरुषोत्तम O best of Purushas तत् that ब्रह्म Brahman किं what अध्यात्मं Adhyâtma किं what कर्म Karma (च and) किं what अधिभूतं Adhibhuta किं what प्रोक्तं called किं what च and अधिदेवं Adhidaiva उच्यते is said.

Arjuna said :

What is that Brahman, what is Adhyâtma, what is Karma, O best of Purushas? What is called Adhibhuta, and what Adhidaiva?

अधियक्षः कथं कोऽत्र देहेऽस्मिन् मधुसूदन ॥

And who in what way is Adhiyajna here in this body, O destroyer of Madhu? And how art Thou known at the time of death, by the self-controlled?

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said:

individual body अध्यात्मं Adhyâtma उच्यते is said भूतभावो- द्भवकरः that which causes the existence and genesis of beings विसर्गः offering (to gods) कर्मसंज्ञितः is called Karma.

The Blessed Lord said :

The Imperishable is the Supreme Brahman. Its dwelling in each individual body is called Adhyâtma; the offering in sacrifice which causes the genesis and support of beings, is called Karma.

[Offering in sacrifice—includes here all virtuous works.

Karma: Cf. III. 14, 15.]

The perishable adjunct is the Adhibhuta, and the Indweller is the Adhidaivata; I alone am the Adhiyajna here in this body, O best of the embodied.

[Adhibhuta: that perishable adjunct which is different from, and yet depends for its existence on the self-conscious principle, i.e., everything material, everything that has birth.

Adhidaivata: The universal Self in Its subtle aspect: the Centre from which all living beings have their sense-power.

Adhiyajna: the presiding deity of sacrifice,—Vishnu.]

And he, who at the time of death, meditating on Me alone, goes forth, leaving the body, attains My Being : there is no doubt of this.

यं यं वापि स्मरन् भावं त्यजत्यन्ते कलेवरम् ॥

Remembering whatever object, at the end, he leaves the body, that alone is reached by him, O son of Kunti, (because) of his constant thought of that object.

[Constant thought : the idea is, that the most prominent thought of one's life occupies the mind at the time of death. One cannot get rid of it, even as one cannot get rid of a disagreeable thought-image in a dream ; so the character of the body to be next attained by one is determined accordingly, i.e., by the final thought.]

Therefore, at all times, constantly remember Me, and fight. With mind and intellect absorbed in Me, thou shalt doubtless come to Me.

[Remember Me and fight : Do thou constantly keep thy mind fixed on Me and at the same time perform thy Swadharma, as befits a Kshatriya ; and thus thou shalt attain the purification of the heart.]

With the mind not moving towards anything else, made steadfast by the method of habitual meditation, and dwelling in the Supreme, Resplendent Purusha, O son of Prithâ, one goes to Him.

[Method—Yoga,

Resplendent—the Being in the solar orb, same as Adhidaivata, of the fourth sloka.]

The Omniscient, the Ancient, the Overruler, minuter than an atom, the Sustainer of all, of form inconceivable, self-luminous like the sun, and beyond the darkness of Maya—he who meditates on Him thus, at the time of death, full of devotion, with the mind unmoving, and also by the power of Yoga, fixing the whole Prana betwixt the eye-brows, he goes to that Supreme, Resplendent Purusha.

[Self-luminous: Known by no agency like the understanding, or the mind or the senses, but by Self alone.

VIII. 16.

अर्जुन O Arjuna आग्रह्यभुवनात् up to (i.e., including) the realm of Brahmâ लोकाः worlds पुनरावर्तिनः subject to return तु but कौन्तेय O Kaunteya मां Me उपेत्य having attained पुनर्जन्म re-birth न not विद्यते is.

All the worlds, O Arjuna, including the realm of Brahmâ, are subject to return, but after attaining Me, O son of Kunti, there is no re-birth.

[Subject to return—because limited by time.]

सहस्रयुगपर्यन्तमहर्षद्ब्रह्मणो विदुः ॥

सहस्रयुगपर्यन्तं Ending in a thousand Yugas ब्रह्मणः of Brahmâ यत् which अहः day युगसहस्रान्तां ending in a thousand Yugas रात्रिं night (ये who) विदुः know ते those जनाः men अहोरात्रविदः knowers of day and night.

They know (the true measure of) day and night, who know the day of Brahmâ, which ends in a thousand Yugas, and the night which (also) ends in a thousand Yugas.

[Day and night—mean evolution and involution of the whole universe respectively.]

At the approach of (Brahmâ's) day, all manifestations proceed from the unmanifested state; at the approach of night, they merge verily into that alone, called the unmanifested.

भूतग्रामः स एवायं भूत्वा भूत्वा प्रलीयते ॥

The very same multitude of beings (that existed in the preceding day of Brahmâ), being born again and again, merge, in spite of themselves, O son of Prithâ, (into the unmanifested), at the approach of night, and re-manifest at the approach of day.

[Being born...themselves: They repeatedly come forth and dissolve, being forced by the effects of their own Karma.]

But beyond this unmanifested, there is that other Unmanifested, Eternal Existence—That which is not destroyed at the destruction of all beings.

[This Unmanifested—which being the seed of the manifested, is Avidyâ itself.]

What has been called Unmanifested and Imperishable, has been described as the Goal Supreme. That is My highest state, having attained which, there is no return.

And that Supreme Purusha is attainable, O son of Prithâ, by whole-souled devotion to Him alone, in Whom all beings dwell, and by Whom all this is pervaded.

Now I shall tell thee, O bull of the Bhâratas, of the time (path) travelling in which, the Yogis return, (and again of that, taking which) they do not return.

Fire, flame, day-time, the bright fortnight, the six months of the Northern passage of the sun,—taking this path, the knowers of Brahman go to Brahman.

धूमो रात्रिस्तथा कृष्णः षण्मासा दक्षिणायनम् ॥

VIII. 25.

धूमः Smoke रात्रिः night-time तथा also कृष्णः the dark (fortnight) षण्मासाः the six months दक्षिणायनम् (of) the Southern passage of the sun तत्र in this (path) योगी Yogi चान्द्रमसं lunar ज्योतिः light प्राप्य attaining निवर्तते returns.

Smoke, night-time, the dark fortnight, the six months of the Southern passage of the sun—taking this path the Yogi, attaining the lunar light, returns.

[It is difficult to decide the true significance of these two verses (24 & 25). Some are inclined to think that each of the steps means a sphere ; while others, a state of consciousness. Still others think, that the series beginning with fire means developing states of illumination and renunciation, and that beginning with smoke, increasing states of ignorance and attachment:

The two paths, Devayâna and Pitriyâna, by which the souls of the dead are supposed to travel to the other world of their deserts are mentioned in the Upanishads, prominently in the Chhandogya, V. x. 1, 2. Bâdarâyana discusses these passages in the Brahma Sutras, IV. ij. 18—21. But an interesting light has been thrown upon the question by the late Mr. Tilak's theory of the Arctic home of the ancestors of the Aryan race. He has also dealt with his subject specially, in a paper of great value which appeared in Prabuddha Bharata (Vol. IX. p. 160). Considering the importance of the doctrine and the excellent way in which it has been elucidated by Mr. Tilak, we shall briefly note below the main heads of his argument.

The words Pitriyâna and Devayâna are used many times in the Rigveda. But the distinction made in the Upanishads about the soul's path, according as a man died during the dark or the bright half of the year, was unknown to the bards of the Rigveda, who held the view that the soul of a man always travelled by the Pitriyâna road, whatever be the time of his death. It is therefore clear that the doctrine of the Upanishads was a later development, probably evolved after physical light and darkness had come to be connected with moral good and evil and the dual character of the world was established. Now, if along with this we consider that death during the Southern passage of the sun was regarded as inauspicious from the Arctic times, we can see how the distinction arose between the paths of a man's soul according as he died in the dark or the bright part of the year.

As to the series of steps in each path, since Agni was believed to be the only leader of the soul on its path, and both paths ended with the passages of the sun, the starting and halting points thus settled, it was not difficult to fill in the intermediate steps. The dual character of the world is manifested in Agni as flame and smoke. The flame was therefore the starting point of one path and smoke, of the other. Day and night, increasing and decreasing moon, Northern and Southern passages of the sun came next in natural order. The number of steps can easily be increased, and as a matter of fact has been increased in the Kaushitaki and some other Upanishads, on the same general principle.

Another point in this connection may be noted. There is nothing in the second or Pitriyâna path to correspond with Agni, in the first. We must therefore either reduce the number of steps in the first path by taking the words "fire" and "flame" in appositional relation and translate the same as "fire, that is flame," or increase the steps in the second by adding "fire" as one.]

शुक्लकृष्णे गती ह्येते जगतः शाश्वते मते ॥

एकया यात्यनावृत्तिमन्ययाऽऽवर्तते पुनः ॥ २६ ॥

VIII. 26.

हि Verily जगतः of the world शुक्लकृष्णो bright and dark एते these गती two paths शाश्वते eternal मते are considered एकया by one अनावृत्तिम् non-return याति goes to अन्यया by the other पुनः again आवर्तते returns.

Truly are these bright and dark paths of the world considered eternal : one leads to non-return ; by the other, one returns.

[The paths are eternal, because Samsâra is eternal.]

No Yogi, O son of Prithâ, is deluded after knowing these paths. Therefore, O Arjuna, be thou steadfast in Yoga, at all times.

[Knowing that one of the paths leads to Samsâra and the other to Moksha, the Yogi takes up the one leading to illumination and rejects the other.]

Whatever meritorious effect is declared (in the Scriptures) to accrue from (the study of) the Vedas, (the performance of) Yajnas, (the practice of) austerities and gifts, having known this, the Yogi rises above it all, and attains to the primeval, supreme Abode.

IX. 1.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

इदं This गुह्यतमं most profound तु indeed विज्ञान-सहितं united with realisation ज्ञानं knowledge अनसूयवे to one who does not carp ते to thee प्रवक्ष्यामि shall declare यत् which ज्ञात्वा having known अशुभात् from evil

The Blessed Lord said :

To thee, who dost not carp, verily shall I now declare this, the most profound knowledge, united with realisation, having known which, thou shalt be free from evil (Samsâra).

राजविद्या राजगुह्यं पवित्रमिदं तमम् ॥

इदम् This राजविद्या the king of sciences (i.e., the highest science) राजगुह्यं kingly secret (i.e., the deepest of all profound truths) उत्तमं supreme पवित्रम् purifier प्रत्यक्षावगमः realisable by direct perception धर्म endowed with (immense) merit कर्तुं to perform सुसहं very easy (च and) अमर्यम् of imperishable nature.

Of sciences, the highest; of profundities, the deepest; of purifiers, the supreme, is this; realisable by direct perception, endowed with (immense) merit, very easy to perform, and of an imperishable nature.

These acts do not bind Me, sitting as one neutral, unattached to them, O Dhananjaya.

[These acts—which involve the unequal creation and dissolution of the universe.

As in the case of Ishvara, so of others also, the absence of the egotistic feeling of agency, and of attachment for results, is the cause of freedom (from Dharma and Adharma).]

By reason of My proximity, Prakriti produces all this, the moving and the unmoving; the world wheels round and round, O son of Kunti, because of this.

[In verses VII to X the Lord defines His position, following the Arundhati Nyâya. When a bride is brought to her husband's house for the first time, he shows her a very tiny star, called Arundhati. To do this, he has to direct her gaze the right way, which he does by asking her to look at something near and something big, in the direction of the star, e. g., a branch of a tree. Next, he draws her attention to a large bright star observed beyond this branch, and so on, till by several steps, he succeeds in leading her eyes to the right thing. This method of leading to a subtle object through easy steps, is called Arundhati Nyâya. The Lord begins by stating that He projects all beings at the beginning of evolution : Prakriti is only an instrument in His hands. Next, He says, He is not affected by that act, since He sits by, as one neutral, perfectly unattached. Lastly, He leads up to the final truth that really He does nothing, it is Prakriti, who animated by His proximity produces all that is. It is His Light that lights up Prakriti, and makes her live and act. That is all the relation between Him and her.]

गतागतं कामकामा लभन्ते ॥ २१ ॥

IX. 21.

ते They तं that विशालं vast स्वर्गलोकं the Swarga-world भुक्त्वा having enjoyed पुण्ये merit क्षीणे at the exhaustion of मर्त्यलोकं the mortal world विशन्ति enter एवं thus त्रयीधर्मम् injunctions of the three (Vedas) अनुप्रपन्नाः abiding by कामकामाः desiring desires गतागतं state of going and that of coming लभन्ते attain to.

Having enjoyed the vast Swarga-world, they enter the mortal world, on the exhaustion of their merit : Thus, abiding by the injunctions of the three (Vedas), desiring desires, they (constantly) come and go.

[Injunctions—Ritualistic, the Karma-Kânda.]

अनन्य॥श्चेत्तन्मया मां ये जनाः पर्युपासते ॥

तेषां नित्याभियुक्तानां योगक्षेमं वहाम्यहम् ॥ २२ ॥

IX. 22.

अनन्याः Non-separate मां Me चिन्तयन्तः meditating ये who जनाः persons पर्युपासते worship (Me) in all things नित्याभियुक्तानां steadfast wholly and constantly तेषां to them अहं I योगक्षेमं the supply of what is lacking and the preservation of what is already possessed वहामि carry.

Persons who, meditating on Me as non-separate, worship Me in all beings, to them thus steadfast wholly and constantly, I carry what they lack and preserve what they already have.

[Ananyāh—as non-separate, i.e., looking upon the Supreme Being as not separate from their own self. Or Ananyāh may mean, without any other (thought). Then the translation of the Sloka should be—persons who worship Me in all beings, never harbouring any other thought, to them &c.

I carry &c.—Because while other devotees work for their own gain and safety, those who see nothing as separate from themselves, do not do so, even they do not cherish a desire for life or death ; so the Lord secures to them gain and safety.]

येऽप्यन्यदेवताभक्ता यजन्ते श्रद्धयाऽन्विताः ॥

तेऽपि मामेव कौन्तेय यजन्त्यविधिपूर्वकम् ॥ २३ ॥

IX. 23.

कौन्तेय O son of Kunti श्रद्धया with Shraddhā : अन्विताः endued (with) भक्ताः devotees ये who अन्यदेवताः other gods अपि even यजन्ते worship ते they अपि too अविधिपूर्वकम् by the wrong method मां Me एव alone यजन्ति worship.

Even those devotees, who, endued with Shraddhā, worship other gods, they too worship Me alone, O son of Kunti, (but) by the wrong method.

[Wrong method—ignorantly, not in the way by which they can get Moksha.]

अहं हि सर्वयज्ञानां भोक्ता च प्रभुरेव च ॥

IX. 24.

हि Indeed सर्वयज्ञानाम् of all Yajnas अहं I एव alone भोक्ता enjoyer च and प्रभुः Lord च and ते they तु but मां Me तत्त्वेन in reality न अभिजानन्ति do not know अतः hence च्यवन्ति (they) fall (return).

For I alone am the Enjoyer, and Lord of all Yajnas; but because they do not know Me in reality, they return, (to the mortal world).

[They return—by worshipping other gods they attain no doubt to the spheres of their sacrifice, but after the exhaustion of their results, they fall from those spheres and return to the mortal world.]

यान्ति देवव्रता देवान् पितृन्यान्ति पितृव्रताः ॥

Votaries of the Devas go to the Devas; to the Pitris, go their votaries; to the Bhutas, go the Bhuta worshippers; My votaries too come unto Me.

[Bhutas—beings lower than the Devas, but higher than human beings.

Me—The Imperishable.]

पत्र पुष्पं फलं तोयं यो मे भक्त्या प्रयच्छति ॥

तदहं भक्तुः पहतमश्नामि प्रयतात्मनः ॥ २६ ॥

IX. 26.

यः Whoever मे to Me भक्त्या with devotion पत्रं a leaf पुष्पं a flower फलं a fruit तोयं water प्रयच्छति offers अहं I प्रयतात्मनः of the pure-minded भक्त्युपहतम् the devout gift तत that अश्नामि accept. *

Whoever with devotion offers Me a leaf, a flower, a fruit, or water, that I accept;—the devout gift of the pure-minded.

[Not only the single devotion to the Supreme leads to imperishable result, but it is also so easy and simple to perform,—says Krishna in this Sloka.]

यत्करोषि यदश्नासि यज्जुहोषि द्वादसि यत् ॥

यत्तपस्यसि कौन्तेय तत्कुरुष्व मदर्पणम् ॥ २७ ॥

IX. 27.

कौन्तेय O son of Kunti यत् whatever करोषि thou doest यत् whatever अश्नासि thou eatest यत् whatever जुहोषि thou offerest in sacrifice यत् whatever ददासि thou givest away यत् whatever तपस्यसि thou practisest as austerity तत् that मदर्पणं offering unto Me कुरुष्व do.

Whatever thou doest, whatever thou eatest, whatever thou offerest in sacrifice, whatever thou givest away, whatever austerity thou practisest, O son of Kunti, do that as an offering unto Me.

शुभाशुभफलैरेवं मोक्षयसे कर्मबन्धनैः ॥

IX. 28.

एवं Thus शुभाशुभफलैः from good and evil results कर्म-बन्धनैः from the bondages of actions मोक्षयसे (thou) shalt be freed विमुक्तः liberated संन्यासयोगयुक्तात्मा with the heart

'steadfast in the Yoga of renunciation मां unto Me उपैष्यसि (thou) shalt come.

Thus shalt thou be freed from the bondages of actions, bearing good and evil results : with the heart steadfast in the Yoga of renunciation, and liberated, thou shalt come unto Me.

[The Yoga of renunciation—This way of purification of the heart by offering everything to the Lord.

Liberated &c.—thou shalt be liberated while in the body, and at its death, become Me.]

समोऽहं सर्वभूतेषु न मे द्वेष्योऽस्ति न प्रियः ॥

ये भजन्ति तु मां भक्त्या मयि ते तेषु चाप्यहम् ॥ २६ ॥

IX. 29.

अहं I सर्वभूतेषु to all beings समः the same मे to Me न not द्वेष्यः hateful न not प्रियः dear अस्ति is ये those तु but मां Me भक्त्या with devotion भजन्ति worship ते they मयि in Me च and अहं I अपि too तेषु in them.

I am the same to all beings : to Me there is none hateful nor dear. But those who worship Me with devotion, are in Me, and I too am in them.

[I am like fire. As fire gives heat to those who draw near to it, and not to those who move away from it, even so do I. My grace falls upon My devotees, but not owing to any attachment on My part. As the sun's light, though pervading everywhere, is reflected in a clean mirror, so also the Supreme Lord, present as a matter of course everywhere, manifests Himself in those persons only, from whose minds all the dirt of ignorance has been removed by devotion.]

अपि चेत् सुदुराचारो भजते मामन्यभाक् ॥

साधुरेव स मन्तव्यः सम्यग्व्यवसितो हि सः ॥ ३० ॥

IX. 30.

सुदुराचारः The very wicked अपि even चेत् if अनन्यभाक् with devotion to none else मां Me भजते worship सः he साधुः good एव verily मन्तव्यः should be regarded हि indeed सः he सम्यक् rightly व्यवसितः resolved.

Even if the very wicked worship Me, with devotion to none else, he should be regarded as good, for he has rightly resolved.

[He has rightly resolved—He is one who has formed a holy resolution, to abandon the evil ways of his life.]

क्षिप्रं भवति धर्मात्मा शश्वच्छान्तिं निगच्छति ॥

कौन्तेय प्रतिजानीहि न मे भक्तः प्रणश्यति ॥ ३१ ॥

IX. 31.

क्षिप्रं Soon धर्मात्मा righteous भवति (he) becomes शश्वत् eternal शान्तिं peace निगच्छति attains to कौन्तेय O son of Kunti मे My भक्तः devotee न प्रणश्यति is never destroyed (इति this) प्रतिजानीहि know (do thou proclaim boldly).

Soon does he become righteous, and attains to eternal Peace, O son of Kunti; boldly canst thou proclaim, that My devotee is never destroyed.

मां हि पार्थ व्यपाश्रित्य येऽपि सुः पापयोनयः ॥

पार्थ O son of Prithā ये who अपि also पापयोनयः of inferior birth स्युः might be स्त्रियः women वैश्याः Vaishyas तथा as well as शूद्राः Sudras ते they अपि even मां Me व्यपाश्रित्य taking refuge in परां the supreme गतिं goal हि indeed यान्ति attain.

For, taking refuge in Me, they also, O son of Prithā, who might be of inferior birth,—women, Vaishyas, as well as Sudras,—even they attain to the Supreme Goal.

[Of inferior birth...Sudras—Because by birth, the Vaishyas are engaged only in agriculture &c., and the women and Sudras are debarred from the study of the Vedas.]

किं पुनर्ब्राह्मणाः पुण्या भक्ता राजर्षयस्तथा ॥

What need to mention holy Brâhmanas, and devoted Râjarshis ! Having obtained this transient, joyless world, worship thou Me.

[Râjarshis—kings who had attained to sainthood (Rishihood).

What need &c.: How much more easily then do the holy Brâhmanas and the devoted royal saints attain that Goal !

Having.....world—Being born in this human body which is hard to get, one should exert oneself immediately for perfection, without depending on the future, as everything in this world is transient, and without seeking for happiness, as it is joyless.]

मन्मना भव मद्भक्तो मद्याजी मां नमस्कुरु ॥

Fill thy mind with Me, be My devotee, sacrifice unto Me, bow down to Me; thus having made thy heart steadfast in Me, taking Me as the Supreme Goal, thou shalt come to Me.

TENTH CHAPTER.

श्रीभगवानुवाच ॥

भूय एव महाबाहो शृणु मे परमं वचः ॥

यत्तेऽहं प्रीयमाणाय वक्ष्यामि हितकाम्यया ॥ १ ॥

X. 1.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

महाबाहो O mighty-armed भूयः again एव verily मे My परमं supreme वचः word शृणु hear (thou) यत् which प्रीय-माणाय who art delighted (to hear) ते to thee अहं I हित-काम्यया wishing (thy) welfare वक्ष्यामि will tell.

The Blessed Lord said :

Again, O mighty-armed, do thou listen to My supreme word, which I, wishing thy welfare, will tell thee who art delighted (to hear Me).

[Supreme—as revealing the unsurpassed truth.]

न मे विदुः सुरगणाः प्रभवं न महर्षयः ॥

अहमादिर्हि देवानां महर्षीणां च सर्वशः ॥ २ ॥

X. 2.

न Not सुरगणाः the hosts of Devas न nor महर्षयः the great Rishis मे My प्रभवं origin विदुः do know हि for अहं I देवानां of the Devas महर्षीणां of the great Rishis च and सर्वशः in every way आदिः source.

Neither the hosts of Devas, nor the great Rishis, know My origin, for in every way I am the source of all the Devas and the great Rishis.

[Prabhavam—higher origin (birth);—though birthless, yet taking various manifestations of power. Or it may mean, great Lordly power.

In every way: not only as their producer, but also as their efficient cause, and the guider of their intellect, &c.]

यो मां जमनादिं च वेत्ति लोकमहेश्वरम् ॥

असंमूढः स मर्त्येषु सर्वपापैः प्रमुच्यते ॥ ३ ॥

X. 3.

यः Who मां Me अनादिं beginningless अजं birthless च and लोकमहेश्वरं the great Lord of worlds वेत्ति knows सः he मर्त्येषु among mortals असंमूढः undeluded सर्वपापैः from all sins प्रमुच्यते is freed.

He who knows Me, birthless and beginningless, the great Lord of worlds—he, among mortals, is undeluded, he is freed from all sins.

[All sins—consciously or unconsciously incurred.]

बुद्धिर्ज्ञानमसंमोहः क्षमा सत्यं दमः शमः ॥

X. 4. 5.

बुद्धिः Intellect ज्ञानं knowledge असंमोहः non-delusion क्षमा forbearance सत्यं truth दमः restraint of the external senses शमः calmness of heart सुखं happiness दुःखं misery kinds भावाः qualities मत्तः from Me एव alone भवन्ति arise.

Intellect, knowledge, non-delusion, forbearance, truth, restraint of the external senses, calmness of heart, happiness, misery, birth, death, fear, as well as fearlessness, non-injury, evenness, contentment, austerity, benevolence, good name, (as well as) ill-fame;—(these) different kinds of qualities of beings arise from Me alone.

[Arise &c.—according to their respective Karma.]

The seven great Rishis, the ancient four, as well as the Manus, possessed of powers like Me, (due to their thoughts being fixed on Me) were born of (My) mind ; from whom are these creatures in the world.

[The ancient Four : the four first-born sons of Brahmâ, viz., Sanaka, Sanandana, Sanâtana and Sanatkumâra.]

एतां विभूतिं योगं च मम यो वेत्ति तत्त्वतः ॥

यः Who मम Mine एतां these विभूतिम् manifold manifestations of (My) being योगं Yoga power च and तत्त्वतः in reality वेत्ति knows सः he अविकम्पेन unshakable योगेन in Yoga युज्यते becomes established अत्र here न संशयः no doubt.

He who in reality knows these manifold manifestations of My being and (this) Yoga power of Mine, becomes established in the unshakable Yoga ; there is no doubt of it.

[This Yoga power—viz., that the great Rishis and the Manus possessed their power and wisdom, as partaking of a very small portion of the Lord's infinite power and wisdom.

Unshakable Yoga: Samâdhi, the state of steadiness in right realisation.]

अहं सर्वस्य प्रभवो मत्तः सर्वं प्रवर्तते ॥

X. 8.

अहं I सर्वस्य of all प्रभवः the origin मत्तः from Me सर्व everything प्रवर्तते evolves इति thus मत्वा thinking बुधाः the wise भावसमन्विताः with loving consciousness मां Me भजन्ते worship.

I am the origin of all, from Me everything evolves ;—thus thinking the wise worship Me with loving consciousness.

[Loving consciousness—of the One Self in all.]

मच्चित्ताः With (their) minds wholly in Me मद्गतप्राणाः with (their) senses absorbed in Me परस्परं mutually बोधयन्तः enlightening च and नित्यं always कथयन्तः speaking of च and तुष्यन्ति (they) are satisfied रमन्ति (they) are delighted च and.

With their minds wholly in Me, with their senses absorbed in Me, mutually enlightening, and always speaking of Me, they are satisfied and delighted.

[Satisfied : when there is cessation of all thirst.

Says the Purâna : All the pleasures of the senses in the world, and also all the great happiness in the divine spheres, are not worth a sixteenth part of that which comes from the cessation of all desires.]

तेषां सततयुक्तानां भजतां प्रीतिपूर्वकम् ॥

X. 10.

सततयुक्तानाम् Ever steadfast प्रीतिपूर्वकम् with affection भजताम् serving तेषाम् to them तं that बुद्धियोगं Buddhi Yoga ददामि (I) give येन by which ते they मां Me उपयान्ति come unto.

To them, ever steadfast and serving Me with affection, I give that Buddhi Yoga by which they come unto Me.

See II. 39.]

Out of mere compassion for them, I, abiding in their hearts, destroy the darkness (in them) born of ignorance, by the luminous lamp of knowledge.

[Luminous lamp of knowledge—characterised by discrimination ; fed by the oil of contentment due to Bhakti ; fanned by the wind of absorbing meditation on Me ; furnished by the wick of pure consciousness evolved by the constant cultivation of Brahmacharyam and other pious virtues ; held in the reservoir of the heart devoid of worldliness ; placed in the wind-sheltered recess of the mind, withdrawn from the sense-objects, and untainted by attachment and aversion ; shining with the light of right knowledge, engendered by incessant practice of concentration.—Sankara.]

X. 12. 13.

अर्जुनः Arjuna उवाच said :

भवान् Thou परं Supreme ब्रह्म Brahman परं Supreme धाम Abode परमं Supreme पवित्रं Purifier (च and) सर्वे all ऋषयः the Rishis देवर्षिः Deva-Rishi नारदः Nârada तथा as well as असितः Asita देवलः Devala व्यासः Vyâsa त्वां Thee शाश्वतं the eternal पुरुषं Purusha दिव्यं Self-luminous आदिदेव the first Deva अजं birthless विभुं the all-pervading आहुः (they) declared स्वयं Thyself च and एव also मे to me ब्रवीषि (thou) sayest.

Arjuna said :

The Supreme Brahman, the Supreme Abode, the Supreme Purifier, art Thou. All the Rishis, the Deva-Rishi Nârada as well as Asita, Devala and Vyâsa have declared Thee as the Eternal, the Self-luminous Purusha, the first Deva, Birthless and All-pervading. So also Thou Thyself sayest to me.

I regard all this that Thou sayest to me as true, O Keshava. Verily, O Bhagavân, neither the Devas nor the Dânavas know Thy manifestation.

[Bhagavân—is he in whom ever exist in their fulness, all powers, all Dharma, all glory, all success, all renunciation and all freedom. Also—he that knows the origin and dissolution, and the future of all beings, as well as knowledge and ignorance, is called Bhagavân.]

Thou shouldst indeed speak without reserve of Thy Divine attributes by which, filling all these worlds, Thou existest.

[Since none else can do so.]

How shall I, O Yogin, meditate ever to know Thee? In what 'things, O Bhagavân, art Thou to be thought of by me?

[In what things &c. : In order that the mind even thinking of external objects, may be enabled to contemplate Thee in Thy particular manifestations in them.]

विस्तरेणात्मनो योगं विभूतिं च जनार्दन ॥

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

हन्त O कुरुश्रेष्ठ best of the Kurus दिव्याः Divine आत्म-विभूतयः My attributes प्राधान्यतः according to their prominence ते to thee कथयिष्यामि (I) shall speak of हि for मे
My विस्तरस्य of manifoldness अन्तः end नास्ति there is not.

The Blessed Lord said :

I shall speak to thee now, O best of the Kurus, of My Divine attributes, according to their prominence ; there is no end to the manifoldness of My manifestation.

[According to their prominence, i.e., only where they are severally the most prominent.]

heart of all beings आत्मा the Self च and अहं I भूतानां of
(all) beings आदिः the beginning च and मध्यं the middle अन्तः the end च and अहं I एव also.

I am the Self, O Gudâkesha, existent in the heart of all beings ; I am the beginning, the middle, and also the end of all beings.

[Gudâksha—conqueror of sleep.

Beginning etc.—That is, the birth, the life, and the death of all beings.]

Arjuna said :

Those devotees who, ever-steadfast, thus worship Thee, and those also who worship the Imperishable, the Unmanifested,—which of them are better versed in Yoga?

[Thus : as declared in the last preceding verse
(xi. 55).]

The Unmanifested—Avyaktam—i.e. That which is incomprehensible to the senses, as devoid of all Upâdhis.]

श्रीभगवान् वाच ॥

The Blessed Lord said :

Those who, fixing their mind on Me, worship Me, ever-steadfast, and endowed with supreme Shraddhâ, they in My opinion are the best versed in Yoga..

But those also, who worship the Imperishable, the Indefinable, the Unmanifested, the Omnipresent, the Unthinkable, the Unchangeable, the Immovable, the Eternal,—having subdued all the senses, even-minded everywhere, engaged in the welfare of all beings,—verily, they reach only Myself.

[Worship—Upâsanâ—is approaching the object of worship by way of meditating on it, in accordance with the teachings of the Shâstras and the Guru, and dwelling steadily in the current of one thought, as continuous as a thread of oil poured from a vessel.

Unchangeable—Kutastha : lit., remaining like a mass. He who is seated in Maya as its Witness.]

Greater is their trouble whose mind is set on the Unmanifested; for the goal of the Unmanifested is very hard for the embodied to reach.

[The embodied—Those who are attached to, or have identified themselves with, their bodies.

No comparison between the worshippers of the qualified and unqualified Brahman is meant here—since by the context, both reach the same goal. The path of the qualified Brahman is described as superior only because it is easier. The path of the unqualified Brahman is harder, because of the necessity of having to abandon all attachment to the body, from the very beginning of their practice.]

Fix thy mind on Me only, place thy intellect in Me : thou shall no doubt live in Me hereafter.

[Mind—Manas : purpose and thought.

Intellect—the faculty which resolves and determines.

Live in Me—as My Self.]

If thou art unable to fix thy mind steadily on Me, then by Abhyâsa-Yoga do thou seek to reach Me, O Dhananjaya.

[Abhyâsa-Yoga: the practice of repeatedly withdrawing the mind from the objects to which it wanders, and trying to fix it on one thing.]

If thou art unable to do even this, then taking refuge in Me, and self-controlled, abandon the fruit of all action.

[In the preceding Slokas,—first, the concentration of the mind on the Lord is enjoined ; in case of inability to do that, Abhyâsa-Yoga is advised ; if one finds that to be too hard, the performance of actions for the sake of the Lord alone, has been taught. Those who cannot do this even, who want to do things impelled by personal or other desires, are directed to give up the fruits of those actions to the Lord—i.e., not to anticipate, dwell, or build on, or care for, the results, knowing them to be dependent upon the Lord. Those who cannot control their desire for work are taught to practise indifference to the effects thereof.]

Better indeed is knowledge than (blind) Abhyâsa ; meditation (with knowledge) is more esteemed than (mere) knowledge ; than meditation the renunciation of the fruit of actions; peace immediately follows renunciation.

[Renunciation of the fruit of all action, as a means to the attainment of Bliss, is merely extolled here by the declaration of the superiority of one over another. Wherefore? Because it constitutes a common factor which immediately precedes Peace, both in the case of the man of wisdom who is steadily engaged in devout*contemplation, and also of the ignorant one who, unable to tread the paths taught before, takes it up as the easier means to Bliss.]

He who hates no creature, and is friendly and compassionate towards all, who is free from the feelings of 'I and mine,' even-minded in pain and pleasure, and forbearing, ever content and steady in meditation, self-controlled, possessed of firm conviction, with mind and intellect fixed on Me,—he who is thus devoted to Me, is dear to Me.

He who is free from dependence, who is pure, prompt, unconcerned, untroubled, renouncing every undertaking,—he who is thus devoted to Me, is dear to Me.

[Free from dependence—on the body, the senses, the sense-objects, and their mutual connections.

Prompt: able to decide rightly and immediately in matters demanding prompt action.

Every undertaking—calculated to secure objects of desire, whether of this world or of the next.]

He who neither rejoices, nor hates, nor grieves, nor desires, renouncing good and evil,—he who is full of devotion, is dear to Me.

[Hates: Frets at receiving anything undesirable.

Grieves—at parting with a beloved object.

Desires—the unattained.]

He who is the same to friend and foe, and also in honour and dishonour : the same in heat and cold, in pleasure and pain ; free from attachment ; to whom censure and praise are equal ; who is silent, content with anything, homeless, steady-minded, full of devotion ;—that man is dear to Me.

[Content with anything, homeless : content with the bare means of bodily sustenance. Says the Mahabharata,—

Arjuna said :

Prakriti and Purusha, also the Kshetra and the knower of the Kshetra, knowledge, and that which ought to be known—these, O Keshava, I desire to learn.

[This verse is omitted in many editions.]

श्रीभगवानुवाच ॥

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

कौन्तेय O son of Kunti इदं this शरीरं body क्षेत्रं Kshetra इति thus अभिधीयते is called यः who एतत् this वेत्ति knows तद्विदः who know of them तं him क्षेत्रज्ञः the knower of the Kshetra इति as प्राहुः they call.

The Blessed Lord said :

This body, O son of Kunti, is called Kshetra, and he who knows it is called Kshetrajna by those who know of them (Kshetra and Kshetrajna).

[Kshetra : Literally, field ; the body is so called because the fruits of action are reaped in it as in a field.]

The 'great Elements, Egoism, Intellect, and also the Unmanifested (Mula Prakriti), the ten senses and the one (mind), and the five objects of sense; desire, hatred, pleasure, pain, the body, intelligence, fortitude,—the Kshetra has been thus briefly described with its modifications.

[The Sankhyas speak of those mentioned in the fifth Sloka as the twenty-four Tattvas or Principles.

The great Elements—Mahābhūtas—pervade all Vikâras, all modifications of matter.

Aggregate—Samghāta: combination of the body and the senses.

Desire and other qualities which the Vaiseshikas

‘speak of as inherent attributes of the Atman, are spoken of in the sixth Sloka as merely the attributes of Kshetra, and not the attributes of Kshetrajna. Desire and other qualities mentioned here, stand for all the qualities of the Antah-Karāṇa or inner sense,—as mere mental states. Each of them, being knowable, is Kshetra.

The Kshetra, of which the various modifications in their totality are spoken of as “this body” in the first Sloka, has been here dwelt upon in all its different forms, from ‘The great Elements’ to ‘fortitude.’]

Humility, unpretentiousness, non-injuriousness, forbearance, uprightness, service of the teacher, purity, steadiness, self-control;

[Achârya—one who teaches the means of attaining Moksha.

Purity—external and internal. The former consists in washing away the dirt from the body by means of water &c., and the latter—the inner purity of mind—consists in the removal from it of the dirt of attachment and other passions, by the recognition of evil in all objects of sense.]

अनहङ्कारः absence of egoism एव also च and जन्ममृत्यु- जराव्याधिदुःखदोषानुदर्शनं reflection on the evils of birth, death, old age, sickness and pain.

The renunciation of sense-objects, and also absence of egoism ; reflection on the evils of birth,
death, old age, sickness and pain ;

[Sense-objects : such as sound, touch &c., of pleasures seen or unseen.

Pain—whether Adhyatmic, i.e., arising in one's own person, or Adhibhautic, i.e. produced by external agents, or Adhidaivic, i.e., produced by supernatural beings.

Reflection...pain—or the passage may be interpreted as—reflection on the evils and miseries of birth, death, old age and sickness. Birth &c., are all miseries, not that they are miseries in themselves, but because they produce misery. From such reflection arises indifference to sense-pleasures, and the senses turn towards the Inner-most Self for knowledge.]

Non-attachment, non-identification of self with son, wife, home, and the rest, and constant even-mindedness in the occurrence of the desirable and the undesirable ;

[Identification of self—as in the case of a person who feels happy or miserable when another to whom he is attached, is happy or miserable, and who feels himself alive or dead when his beloved one is alive or dead.]

Unswerving devotion to Me by the Yoga of non-separation, resort to sequestered places, distaste for the society of men ;

[Resort...places—favourable to equanimity of mind, so that uninterrupted meditation on the Self, and the like, may be possible.

Society of men : of the unenlightened and undisciplined people, not of the pure and holy, because association with the latter leads to Jnana.]

Constant application to spiritual knowledge, understanding the end of the knowledge of Truth;—this is declared to be knowledge, and what is opposed to it is ignorance.

[These attributes—from 'Humility' to 'Understanding the end of the knowledge of Truth'—are declared to be knowledge, because they are the means conducive to knowledge.]

Without and within (all) beings; the unmov-ing and also the moving; because subtle. It is incomprehensible and It is far and near.

[Incomprehensible—to the unilluminated, though knowable in Itself.

Far—when unknown.

Near—to the illumined, because It is their own Self.]

The Light even of lights, It is said to be beyond darkness; Knowledge, and the One Thing to be known, the Goal of knowledge, dwelling in the hearts of all.

[The Light even of lights :—The illuminator of all illuminating things, such as the sun &c., and Buddhi &c. Indeed, these latter shine only when illuminated by the Light of the consciousness of the Self.]

इति क्षेत्रं तथा ज्ञानं ज्ञेयं चोक्तं समासतः ॥

मद्भक्त एतद्विज्ञाय मद्भावायोपपद्यते ॥ १८ ॥

XIII. 18.

इति Thus क्षेत्रं Kshetra तथा and ज्ञानं knowledge ज्ञेयं that which has to be known च and समासतः briefly उक्तं have been stated मद्भक्तः My devotee एतत् this विज्ञाय knowing मद्भावाय for my state उपपद्यते is fitted.

Thus Kshetra, knowledge, and That which has to be known, have been briefly stated.

Knowing this My devotee is fitted for My state.

प्रकृतिं पुरुषं चैव विद्वानादी उभावपि ॥

विकारांश्च गुणांश्चैव विद्वि मत्प्रसादोऽभवान् ॥ १६ ॥

XIII. 19.

प्रकृतिं Prakriti पुरुषं Purusha च and एव indeed उभौ both अपि also अनादो beginningless विद्वि know (thou) विकारान् (all) modifications च and गुणान् Gunas च and एव also प्रकृतिसम्भवान् born of Prakriti विद्वि know (thou).

Know thou that Prakriti and Purusha are both beginningless; and know thou also that all modifications and Gunas are born of Prakriti.

[Modifications—Vikâras: From Buddhi down to the physical body.]

कार्यकरणकर्तृत्वे हेतुः प्रकृतिरुच्यते ॥

पुरुषः सुखदुःखानां भोक्तृत्वे हेतुरुच्यते ॥ २० ॥

XIII. 20.

कार्यकरणकर्तृत्वे In the production of the body and the senses प्रकृतिः Prakriti हेतुः the cause उच्यते is said (to be) पुरुषः Purusha सुखदुःखानां of pleasure and pain भोक्तृत्वे in the experience हेतुः the cause उच्यते is said (to be).

In the production of the body and the senses, Prakriti is said to be the cause; in the experience of pleasure and pain, Purusha is said to be the cause.

[Senses—five organs of perception, five of action, mind, intellect and egoism.

Purusha : the Jiva is meant here.

Kârya : The effect, the physical body. Karana : Senses. Some read Kârana, and explain 'Kârya and Kârana' as 'effect and cause.']

पुरुषः प्रकृतिस्थो हि भुङ्क्ते प्रकृतिजात्मानम् ॥

कारणं गुणसङ्गोऽस्य सदस्योनिजन्मसु ॥ २१ ॥

XIII. 21.

हि Indeed पुरुषः Purusha प्रकृतिस्थः seated in Prakriti प्रकृतिजान् born of Prakriti गुणान् the Gunas भुङ्क्ते experiences अस्य its सदस्योनिजन्मसु of birth in good and evil wombs गुणसङ्गः attachment to the Gunas कारणं the reason.

Purusha seated in Prakriti, experiences the Gunas born of Prakriti ; the reason of the birth in good and evil wombs is its attachment to the Gunas.

[Seated in : identifying himself with.

Gunas—manifesting themselves as pleasure, pain and delusion.]

उपद्रष्टानुमन्ता च भर्ता भोक्ता महेश्वरः ॥

परमात्मेति चाप्युक्तो देहेऽस्मिन्पुरुषः परः ॥ २२ ॥

XIII. 22.

अस्मिन् देहे in this body पुरुषः Purusha परः Supreme उपद्रष्टा the Looker-on अनुमन्ता the Permitter च and भर्ता Supporter भोक्ता the Experiencer महेश्वरः the Great Lord परमात्मा the Highest Self च and इति thus अपि also इति is called."

And the Supreme Purusha in this body is also called the Looker-on, the Permitter, the Supporter, the Experiencer and the Great Lord, and as the Highest Self.

[Looker-on, the Permitter—He Himself does not participate in the activities of the bodily organs, the mind and the Buddhi, being quite apart from them, yet seeming to be so engaged. And being a looker-on, He never stands 'in the way of the activities of Prakriti as manifested in the body. Indeed, all the consciousness or intelligence that manifests itself in the activities of life is but the reflection of the All-pervading, Absolute and Perfect Intelligence—the Supreme Spirit.]

य एवं वेत्ति पुरुषं प्रकृतिं च गुणैः सह ॥

सर्वथा वर्तमानोऽपि न स भूयोऽभिजायते ॥ २३ ॥

XIII. 23.

यः who एवं thus पुरुषं the Purusha गुणैः सह with Gunas प्रकृतिं Prakriti च and वेत्ति knows सः he सर्वथा in whatever way वर्तमानः living अपि even भूयः again न not अभिजायते is born.

He who thus knows the Purusha and Prakriti with Gunas, whatever his life, is not born again.

[Whatever his life &c. : Whether he is engaged in duties and acts, prescribed or forbidden, he is not born again. For, the acts, the seeds of rebirth, of a knower of Truth are fried by the fire of knowledge, and thus cannot be effective causes to bring about births. In his case they are mere semblances of Karma ; a burnt cloth, for instance, cannot serve the purposes of a cloth.]

ध्यानेनात्मनि पश्यन्ति केचिदात्मानमात्मना ॥

अन्ये साङ्ख्येन योगेन कर्मयोगेन चापरे ॥ २४ ॥

XIII. 24.

केचित् Some ध्यानेन by meditation आत्मनि in their own intelligence आत्मना by the purified heart आत्मानं the Self पश्यन्ति behold अन्ये others सांख्येन योगेन by the path of knowledge अपरे others च again कर्मयोगेन by Karma-Yoga.

Some by meditation behold the Self in their own intelligence by the purified heart, others by the path of knowledge, others again by Karma-Yoga.

अन्ये त्वेवमजानन्तः श्रुत्वान्येभ्य उपासते ॥

तेऽपि चातितरन्त्येव मृत्युं श्रुतिपरायणाः ॥ २५ ॥

XIII. 25.

अन्ये Others तु again एवं thus अजानन्तः not knowing अन्येभ्यः from others श्रुत्वा as (they have) heard उपासते worship ते these अपि च and also श्रुतिपरायणाः regarding what they have heard as the Supreme Refuge मृत्युं death अतितरन्ति go beyond एव even.

Others again not knowing thus, worship as they have heard from others. Even these go beyond death, regarding what they have heard as the Supreme Refuge.

[Not knowing thus : not able to know the Self described above, by any one of the several methods as pointed out.

From others : Acharyas or spiritual teachers.

Regarding—following with Shraddhâ.

What they have heard, i.e., they solely depend upon the authority of others' instructions.]

यावत्सञ्जायते किञ्चित्सत्त्वं स्यावरजःभम् ॥

XIII. 26.

भरतर्षभ O bull of the Bharatas यावत् किञ्चित् whatever स्यावरजः the moving and the unmoving सत्त्वं being सञ्जायते is born तत् it क्षेत्रक्षेत्रज्ञसंयोगात् from the union of Kshetra and Kshetrajna विद्धि know (to be).

Whatever being is born, the moving or the unmoving, O bull of the Bharatas, know it to be from the union of Kshetra and Kshetrajna.

[Union.....Kshetrajna : The union of Kshetra and Kshetrajna, of the object and the subject, is of the nature of mutual Adhyâsa which consists in confounding them as well as their attributes with each other, owing to the absence of discrimination of their real nature. This false knowledge vanishes when one is able to separate Kshetra from Kshetrajna.]

समं सर्वेषु भूतेषु तिष्ठन्तं परमेश्वरम् ॥

विनश्यत्स्वविनश्यन्तं यः पश्यति स पश्यति ॥ २७ ॥

XIII. 27.

सर्वेषु All भूतेषु in beings समं equally तिष्ठन्तं existing विनश्यत्स्व in the dying अविनश्यन्तं deathless परमेश्वरं the Lord Supreme यः who पश्यति sees सः he पश्यति sees.

He sees, who sees the Lord Supreme, existing equally in all beings, deathless in the dying.

समं पश्यन् हि सर्वत्र समवस्थितमीश्वरम् ॥

न हिनस्त्यात्मनाऽऽत्मानं ततो याति परां गतिम् ॥ २८

XIII. 28.

हि Since सर्वत्र everywhere समं equally अस्तवस्थितं existent ईश्वरं the Lord पश्यन् seeing आत्मना by self आत्मानं self न not हिनस्ति injures ततः so परां highest गतिं the Goal याति (he) goes to.

Since seeing the Lord equally existent everywhere, he injures not self by self, and so goes to the highest Goal.

[He injures.....by self—like the ignorant man either by ignoring the Self in others (Avidyâ or nescience), or regarding the non-Self (physical body, &c.) as himself (Mithyâ-jnana or false knowledge)—the two veils that hide the true nature of the Self.]

प्रकृत्यैव च कर्माणि क्रियमाणानि सर्वशः ॥

यः पश्यति तथाऽऽत्मानमकर्तारं स पश्यति ॥ २९ ॥

XIII. 29.

यः Who च and कर्माणि actions प्रकृत्या by Prakriti एव alone सबशः all क्रियमाणानि being done तथा and आत्मानं the Self अक्षतारं actionless पश्यति sees सः he पश्यति sees.

And he sees, who sees Prakriti alone doing all actions, and that the Self is actionless.

यदा भूतपृथग्भायमेकस्थमनुपश्यति ॥

तत एव च विस्तारं ब्रह्म सम्पद्यते तदा ॥ ३० ॥

XIII. 30.

यदा When भूतपृथग्भावं the separate existence of all beings एकस्थं inherent in the One अनुपश्यति sees ततः from That एव alone विस्तारं (their) expansion च and तदा then ब्रह्म Brahman सम्पद्यते (he) becomes.

When he sees the separate existence of all beings inherent in the One, and their expansion from That (One) alone, he then becomes Brahman.

अनादित्वाग्निर्गुणत्वात्परमात्मायमव यः ॥

शरीरस्थोऽपि कौन्तेय न करोति न लिप्यते ॥ ३१ ॥

XIII. 31.

कौन्तेय O son of Kunti अनादित्वात् being without beginning. निर्गुणत्वात् being devoid of Gunas अयं this अव्ययः immutable परमात्मा Supreme Self शरीरस्थः existing in the body अपि though न neither करोति acts न nor लिप्यते is affected.

Being without beginning, and devoid of Gunas, this Supreme Self, immutable, O son of Kunti, though existing in the body neither acts nor is affected.

[Being without beginning—having no cause.

Neither.....affected—Because the Self is not the doer, therefore He is not touched by the fruit of action.]

यथा सर्वगतं सौक्ष्म्यादाकाशं नोपलिप्यते ॥

सर्वत्रावस्थितो देहे तथाऽऽत्मा नोपलिप्यते ॥ ३२ ॥

XIII. 32.

यथा As सर्वगतं the all-pervading आकाशं Akâsha सौक्ष्म्यात् because of its subtlety न not उपलिप्यते is tainted तथा so सर्वत्र everywhere देहे in the body अवस्थितः existent आत्मा the Self न not उपलिप्यते is tainted.

As the all-pervading Akâsha, because of its subtlety, is not tainted, so the Self existent in the body everywhere is not tainted.

यथा प्रकाशयत्येकः कृत्स्नं लोकमिमं रविः ॥

क्षेत्रं क्षेत्री तथा कृत्स्नं प्रकाशयति भारत ॥ ३३ ॥

XIII. 33.

भारत O descendant of Bharata यथा as एकः the one रविः sun इमं this कृत्स्नं all लोकं world प्रकाशयति illumines तथा so क्षेत्री he who abides in the Kshetra कृत्स्नं the whole क्षेत्रं Kshetra प्रकाशयति illumines.

As the one sun illumines all this world, so does he who abides in the Kshetra, O descendant of Bharata, illumine the whole Kshetra.

क्षेत्रक्षेत्रज्ञयोरेवमन्तरं ज्ञानचक्षुषा ॥

भूतप्रकृतिमोक्षं च ये विदुर्यान्ति ते परम् ॥ ३४ ॥

XIII. 34.

परं Thus क्षेत्रक्षेत्रज्ञयोः between the Kshetra and the Kshetrajna अन्तरं the distinction भूतप्रकृतिमोक्षं the emancipation from the Prakriti of beings च and (also) ज्ञानचक्षुषा with the eye of knowledge ये who विदुः perceive ते they परं the Supreme यान्ति go to.

They who thus with the eye of knowledge perceive the distinction between the Kshetra and the Kshetrajna, and also the emancipation from the Prakriti of beings, they go to the Supreme.

[Prakṛiti of beings: the material nature or delusion of beings due to Avidyâ.]

FOURTEENTH CHAPTER.

श्रीभगवान् उवाच ॥

परं भूयः प्रवक्ष्यामि ज्ञानानां ज्ञानमुत्तमम् ॥
यज्ज्ञात्वा मुनयः सर्वे परां सिद्धिमितो गताः ॥ १ ॥

XIV. 1.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said:

ज्ञानानां Of all knowledge उत्तमं the best परं supreme ज्ञानं knowledge भूयः again प्रवक्ष्यामि shall I tell यत् which ज्ञात्वा having known सर्वे all मुनयः the Munis इतः after this life परां high सिद्धिं perfection गताः have attained to.

The Blessed Lord said :

Again shall I tell thee that supreme knowledge which is above all knowledge, having known which all the Munis have attained to high perfection after this life.

[After this life—after being freed from this bondage of the body.]

इदं ज्ञानमुपाश्रित्य मम साधर्म्यमागताः ॥

सर्गोऽपि नोपजायन्ते प्रलये न व्यथन्ति च ॥ २ ॥

XIV. 2.

इदं This ज्ञान knowledge उपाश्रित्य abiding by मम साधर्म्य My Being आगताः having attained to सर्गे in evolution अपि न neither उपजायन्ते do they come forth प्रलये in involution न च nor व्यथन्ति are (they) troubled.

Abiding by this knowledge, having attained to My Being, neither do they come forth in evolution, nor are they troubled in involution.

मम योनिर्मेहद्ब्रह्म तस्मिन् गर्भं दधाम्यहम् ॥

XIV. 3.

भारत O descendant of Bharata महत् the Great ब्रह्म Prakriti मम My योनिः womb तस्मिन् in that अहं I गर्भ the germ दधामि place ततः thence सर्वभूतानां of all beings सम्भवः the birth भवति is.

My womb is the Great Prakriti, in that I place the germ ; from thence, O descendant of Bharata, is the birth of all beings.

[Brahma : This word is derived from Brimh, 'to expand,' and means here the vast seed or womb (the Prakriti) out of which the cosmos is evolved or expanded.

I place the germ : I infuse the reflection of My Intelligence, and this act of impregnation is the cause of the evolution of the cosmos.]

सर्वयोनिषु कौन्तेय मूर्तयः सम्भवन्ति याः ॥

तासां ब्रह्म महद्योनिरहं बीजप्रदः पिता ॥ ४ ॥

XIV. 4.

कौन्तेय O son of Kunti सर्वयोनिषु in all the wombs याः whatever मूर्तयः forms सम्भवन्ति are produced तासां their महत् the Great ब्रह्म Prakriti योनिः womb अहं I बीजप्रदः seed-giving पिता Father.

Whatever forms are produced, O son of Kunti, in all the wombs, the Great Prakriti is their womb, and I the seed-giving Father.

सत्त्वं रजस्तम इति गुणाः प्रकृतिसम्भवाः ॥

निबध्नन्ति महाबाहो देहे देहिन्मव्ययम् ॥ ५ ॥

XIV. 5.

महाबाहो O mighty-armed सत्त्वं Sattva रजः, Rajas तमः Tamas इति these प्रकृतिसम्भवाः born of Prakriti गुणाः Gunas देहे in the body अव्ययं the indestructible देहिन् the embodied निबध्नन्ति bind fast.

Sattva, Rajas, Tamas,—these Gunas, O mighty-armed, born of Prakriti, bind fast the indestructible embodied in the body.

[These Gunas—are the primary constituents of the Prakriti and are the bases of all substances ; they cannot therefore be said to be attributes or qualities inhering in the substances as opposed to the substances.

Embodied in the body: That abides in the body as if identified therewith.]

तत्र सत्त्वं निर्मलत्वात्प्रकाशकमनामयम् ॥

सुखसङ्गेन बध्नाति ज्ञानसङ्गेन चानघ ॥ ६ ॥

XIV. 6.

अनघ O sinless one तत्र of these निर्मलत्वात् from its stainlessness प्रकाशकं luminous अनामयं free from evil सत्त्वं Sattva सुखसङ्गेन by attachment to happiness ज्ञानसङ्गेन by attachment to knowledge च and बध्नाति binds.

Of these, Sattva, luminous and free from evil, from its stainlessness, binds, O sinless one, by attachment to happiness, and by attachment to knowledge.

[Binds by attachment to happiness &c. : Binds the Self by the consciousness of happiness and knowledge, in the shape of 'I am happy,' 'I am wise,' which belongs properly to the Kshetra, but which is associated with the Self, the Absolute Intelligence and Bliss, through Avidyâ.]

रजो रागात्मकं विद्धि तृष्णासङ्गसमुद्भवम् ॥

तन्निबध्नाति कौन्तेयं कर्मसङ्गेन देहिनम् ॥ ७ ॥

XIV. 7.

कौन्तेय O son of Kunti रागात्मकं of the nature of passion रजः Rajas तृष्णासङ्गसमुद्भवं giving rise to thirst and attachment विद्धि know तत् it कर्मसङ्गेन by attachment to action देहिनं the embodied निबध्नाति binds fast.

Know Rajas to be of the nature of passion, giving rise to thirst and attachment; it binds fast,

O son of Kunti, the embodied, by attachment to action.

[It binds &c.—Though the Self is not the agent, Rajas makes Him act with the idea, 'I am the doer.']

तमस्त्वज्ञानजं विद्धि मोहनं सर्वदेहिनाम् ॥

प्रमादालस्यनिद्राभिस्तन्निबध्नाति भारत ॥ ८ ॥

XIV. 8.

भारत O descendant of Bharata तमः Tamas तु and अज्ञानजं born of ignorance सर्वदेहिनां to all embodied beings मोहनं delusive विद्धि know तत् it प्रमादालस्यनिद्राभिः by miscomprehension, indolence and sleep निबध्नाति binds fast.

And know Tamas born of ignorance, delusive to all embodied beings ; it binds fast, O descendant of Bharata, by miscomprehension, indolence, and sleep.

[Delusive : causing delusion or non-discrimination.]

सत्त्वं सुखे सञ्जयति रजः कर्मणि भारत ॥

ज्ञानमावृत्य तु तमः प्रमादे सञ्जयत्युत ॥ ९ ॥

XIV. 9.

भारत O descendant of Bharata सत्त्वं Sattva सुखे to happiness सञ्जयति attaches रजः Rajas कर्मणि to action उत while तमः Tamas तु indeed ज्ञानं discrimination आवृत्य shrouding प्रमादे to miscomprehension सञ्जयति attaches.

Sattva attaches to happiness, and Rajas to action, O descendant of Bharata, while Tamas, verily, shrouding discrimination, attaches to mis-comprehension.

रजस्तमश्चाभिभूय सत्त्वं भवति भारत ॥

रजः सत्त्वं तमश्चैव तमः सत्त्वं रजस्तथा ॥ १० ॥

XIV. 10.

भारत O descendant of Bharata सत्त्वं Sattva रजः Rajas तमः Tamas च and अभिभूय predominating over भवति arises रजः Rajas सत्त्वं Sattva तमः Tamas च and तथा so तमः Tamas सत्त्वं Sattva रजः Rajas च and.

Sattva arises, O descendant of Bharata, predominating over Rajas and Tamas; and Rajas over Sattva and Tamas; so, Tamas over Sattva and Rajas.

[When one or the other of the Gunas asserts itself predominating over the other two, it produces its own effect, as Sattva, knowledge and happiness; Rajas, action; Tamas, veiling of discrimination &c.]

सर्वद्वारेषु देहेऽस्मिन्प्रकाश उपजायते ॥

ज्ञानं यदा तदा विद्याद्विवृद्धं सत्त्वमित्युत ॥ ११ ॥

XIV. 11.

यदा When अस्मिन् this देहे in body सर्वद्वारेषु through every sense ज्ञानं (of) intelligence प्रकाशः light उपजायते shines तदा then उत indeed सत्त्वं Sattva विवृद्धं (is) predominant इति that विद्यात् (it) should be known.

When through every sense in this body, the light of intelligence shines, then it should be known that Sattva is predominant.

[Every sense—lit., all the gates. All the senses are for the Self the gateways of perception.]

लोभः प्रवृत्तिरारम्भः कर्मणामशमः स्पृहा ॥

रजस्येतानि जायन्ते विवृद्धे भरतर्षभ ॥ १२ ॥

XIV. 12.

भरतर्षभ O bull of the Bháratas लोभः greed प्रवृत्तिः activity कर्मणां of actions आरम्भः the undertaking अशमः unrest स्पृहा longing एतानि these रजसि Rajas विवृद्धे having become predominant जायन्ते arise.

Greed, activity, the undertaking of actions, unrest, longing—these arise when Rajas is predominant, O bull of the Bháratas.

[Unrest—being agitated with joy, attachment &c.]

अप्रकाशोऽप्रवृत्तिश्च प्रमादो मोह एव च ॥

तमस्येतानि जायन्ते विवृद्धे कुरुनन्दन ॥ १३ ॥

XIV. 13.

कुरुनन्दन O descendant of Kuru अप्रकाशः darkness अप्रवृत्तिः inertness च and प्रमादः miscomprehension मोहः delusion एव also च and एतानि these तमसि Tamas विवृद्धे having become predominant जायन्ते arise.

Darkness, inertness, miscomprehension, and delusion,—these arise when Tamas is predominant, O descendant of Kuru.

[Darkness, inertness: Absence of discrimination, and its results, inertness &c.]

यदा सत्त्वे प्रवृद्धे तु प्रलयं याति देहभृत् ॥

तदोत्तमविदां लोकानमलान्प्रतिपद्यते ॥ १४ ॥

XIV. 14.

यदा तु When सत्त्वे Sattva प्रवृद्धं having become predominant देहभृत् the embodied प्रलयं death याति meets तदा the उत्तमविदां of the knowers of the highest अमलान् the spotless लोकान् worlds प्रतिपद्यते (he) attains

If the embodied meets death when Sattva is predominant, then he attains to the spotless regions of the worshippers of the Highest.

[Spotless regions: The Brahma-loka and the like,

The Highest—Deities such as Hiranyagarbha.]

रजसि प्रलयं गत्वा कर्मसङ्गिषु जायते ॥

तथा प्रलीनस्तमसि मूढयोनिषु जायते ॥ १५ ॥

XIV. 15.

रजसि In Rajas प्रलयं death गत्वा meeting कर्मसङ्गिषु among those attached to action जायते (he) is born तथा so तमसि in Tamas प्रलीनः dying मूढयोनिषु in the wombs of the irrational जायते (he) is born.

Meeting death in Rajas he is born among those attached to action ; so dying in Tamas, he is born in the wombs of the irrational.

[Meeting.....Rajas : If he dies when Rajas is predominant in him.]

कर्मणः सुकृतस्याहुः सात्त्विकं निर्मलं फलम् ॥

रजसस्तु फलं दुःखमज्ञानं तमसः फलम् ॥ १६ ॥

XIV. 16.

सुकृतस्य Good कर्मणः of action निर्मलं pure सात्त्विकं Sâttvika फलं the fruit आहुः they say रजसः of Rajas तु verily दुःखं pain फलं the fruit तमसः of Tamas अज्ञानं ignorance फलं the fruit.

The fruit of good action, they say, is Sâttvika and pure ; verily, the fruit of Rajas is pain, and ignorance, the fruit of Tamas.

[Rajas—means Râjasika action, and Tamas,—Tâmasika action, as this section treats of actions.]

सत्त्वात्सञ्जायते ज्ञानं रजसो लोभ एव च ॥

प्रमादमोहौ तमसो भवतोऽज्ञानमेव च ॥ १७ ॥

XIV. 17.

सत्त्वात् From Sattva ज्ञानं wisdom सञ्जायते arises रजसः from Rajas लोभः greed एव indeed च and तमसः from Tamas अज्ञानं ignorance प्रमादमोहौ miscomprehension and delusion एव even च and भवतः arise.

From Sattva arises wisdom, and greed from Râjas; miscomprehension and delusion and ignorance arise from Tamas.

ऊर्ध्वं गच्छन्ति सत्त्वस्था मध्ये तिष्ठन्ति राजसाः ॥

जघन्यगुणवृत्तिस्था अधो गच्छन्ति तामसाः ॥ १८ ॥

XIV. 18.

सत्त्वस्थाः The Sattva-abiding ऊर्ध्व upwards गच्छन्ति go
राजसाः the Râjasika मध्ये in the middle तिष्ठन्ति dwell
जघन्यगुणवृत्तिस्थाः abiding in the function of the lowest
Guna तामसाः the Tâmasika अधः downwards गच्छन्ति go.

The Sattva-abiding go upwards; the Râjasika dwell in the middle; and the Tâmasika, abiding in the function of the lowest Guna, go downwards.

नान्यं गुणेभ्यः कर्तारं यदा द्रष्टानुपश्यति ॥

गुणेभ्यश्च परं वेत्ति मद्भावं सोऽधिगच्छति ॥ १९ ॥

XIV. 19.

यदा When द्रष्टा the seer गुणेभ्यः than the Gunas अन्य other कर्तारं agent न no अनुपश्यति beholds गुणेभ्यः than the Gunas च and परं higher वेत्ति knows तदा then सः he मद्भावं
My being अधिगच्छति attains to.

When the seer beholds no agent other than the Gunas and knows That which is higher than the Gunas, he attains to My being.

[The Gunas—which transform themselves into the bodies, senses and sense-objects, and which in all their modifications constitute the agent in all actions.

Knows.....the Gunas : Sees Him who is distinct from the Gunas, who is the Witness of the Gunas and of their functions.]

गुणानेतानतीत्य त्रीन्देही देहसमुद्भवान् ॥

जन्ममृत्युजरादुःखैर्विमुक्तोऽमृतमश्नुते ॥ २० ॥

XIV. 20.

देहसमुद्भवान् Out of which the body is evolved एतान् these त्रीन् three गुणान् Gunas अतीत्य having gone beyond जन्ममृत्युजरादुःखै from birth, death, decay and pain विमुक्तः freed देही the embodied अमृतं immortality अश्नुते attains to.

The embodied having gone beyond, these three Gunas out of which the body is evolved, is freed from birth, death, decay and pain, and attains to immortality.

अर्जुनः Arjuna उवाच said :

प्रभा O Lord कैः by what लिङ्गैः marks एतान् these त्रीन् three गुणान् Gunas अतीतः भवति has gone beyond किमाचारः what (is his) conduct कथं how च and एतान् these त्रीन् three गुणान् Gunas अतिवर्तते does (he) pass beyond

Arjuna said :

By what marks, O Lord, is he (known) who has gone beyond these three Gunas? What is his conduct, and how does he pass beyond these three Gunas?

श्रीकृष्ण उवाच ॥

प्रकाशं च प्रवृत्तिं च मोहमेव च पाण्डव ॥

XIV. 22.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

पाण्डव O Pândava प्रकाशं light (the effect of Sattva) प्रवृत्तिं activity (the effect of Rajas) मोहं delusion (the effect of Tamas) एव च and also सम्प्रवृत्तानि (when) come forth न not द्वेष्टि (he) hates निवृत्तानि when absent न nor कांक्षति longs for

The Blessed Lord said :

He who hates not the appearance of light, (the effect of Sattva), activity (the effect of Rajas), and delusion (the effect of Tamas), (in his own mind), O Pândava, nor longs for them when absent ;

[This answers Arjuna's first question. The man of right knowledge does not hate the effects of the three Gunas when they clearly present themselves as objects of consciousness ; nor does he long after things which have disappeared.]

उदासीनवदानीनो गुणैर्यो न विचाल्यते ॥

XIV. 23.

यः Who उदासीनवत् like one unconcerned आसीनः sitting गुणैः by the Gunas न not विचाल्यते is moved गुणाः the Gunas वतन्ते, operate इत्येवं (knowing) that अवतिष्ठति is Self-centred न not नेङ्गते swerves ;

He who, sitting like one unconcerned, is moved not by the Gunas, who knowing that the Gunas operate, is Self-centred and swerves not ;

Alike in pleasure and pain, Self-abiding, regarding a clod of earth, a stone or gold alike ; the same to agreeable and disagreeable, firm, the same to censure and praise ;

[Self-abiding : He remains in his own true nature.]

यः Who मानापमानयोः in honour and disgrace तुल्यः the same मित्रारिपक्षयोः to friend and foe तुल्यः the same सर्वारम्भपरित्यागो relinquishing all undertakings सः he गुणातोतः gone beyond the Gunas उच्यते is said.

The same in honour and disgrace, the same to friend and foe, relinquishing all undertakings—he is said to have gone beyond the Gunas.

[Including to neither of the dual throng, he firmly treads the path of Self-knowledge, and rises above the Gunas.

These three Slokas are in answer to Arjuna's second question.]

मां च योऽव्यभिचारेण भक्तियोगेन सेवते ॥

XIV. 26.

यः Who च and मां Me अव्यभिचारेण unswerving भक्तियोगेन with devotion सेवते serves सः he एतान् these गुणान् Gunas समतीत्य going beyond ब्रह्मभूयाय for becoming Brahman कल्पते is fitted.

And he who serves Me with an unswerving devotion, going beyond the Gunas, is fitted for becoming Brahman.

[This answers Arjuna's third question.]

ब्रह्मणो हि प्रतिष्ठाहममृतस्याव्ययस्य च ॥

For I am the Abode of Brahman, the Immortal and Immutable, of everlasting Dharma and of Absolute Bliss.

[I—the Pratyagâtman, the true Inner Self.]

श्रीभगवानुवाच ॥

ऊर्ध्वमूलमधःशाखमश्वत्थं प्राप्स्यस्यम् ॥

छन्दांसि यस्य पर्णानि यस्तं वेद स वेदवित् ॥ १ ॥

XV. 1.

श्रीभगवान् The Blessed Lord उवाच said :

ऊर्ध्वमूलं Rooted above अधःशाखं branching below
अव्ययं eternal अश्वत्थं Ashvattha प्राहुः they speak of छन्दांसि
the Vedas यस्य whose पर्णानि leaves तं it यः who वेद knows सः he वेदवित् (is) Veda-knower.

The Blessed Lord said :

They speak* of an eternal Ashvattha rooted above and branching below, whose leaves are the Vedas ; he who knows it, is a Veda-knower.

[Ashvattha : literally, that which does not endure till to-morrow : the Samsâra, the ever-changing, phenomenal world.

Brahman with Its unmanifested energy of Mâyâ is meant by “above,” for It is supreme over all things ; and as such, the One above is the root of this Tree of Samsâra. Mahat, Ahankâra and the Tanmâtrâs are its branches evolving to grosser and grosser states—hence it is said to be branching “below.” As leaves protect a tree, so do the Vedas protect the Tree of Samsâra, as treating of Dharma and Adharma, with their causes and fruits.

Eternal—because this Tree of Samsâra rests on a continuous series of births without beginning and end, and it cannot be cut down except by the knowledge, “I am Brahman.”]

Below and above spread its branches, nourished by the Gunas; sense-objects are its buds; and below in the world of man stretch forth the roots, originating action.

[Below : from man downwards.

Roots : The tap-root is the Lord “above”; the secondary roots are the Samskâras, attachment and aversion etc. It is these that, being in perpetual succession the cause and consequence of good and evil deeds, bind one fast to actions—Dharma and Adharma.]

Its form is not here perceived as such, neither its end, nor its origin, nor its existence. Having cut asunder this firm-rooted Ashvattha with the strong axe of non-attachment,—then that Goal is to be sought for, going whither they (the wise) do not return again. I seek refuge in that Primeval Purusha whence streamed forth the Eternal Activity.

[As such : it cannot be said to exist, because it appears and vanishes every other moment. See commentary on II. 16.

Tat—That—Sankara and Anandagiri read 'Tatah,' and explain it as beyond or above the Ashvattha, the Tree of Samsâra.

The Eternal Activity : this ever-passing work of projection, this ever-flowing current of evolution, the world of phenomena.]

निर्मानमोहा : Free from pride and delusion जितसङ्गदोषाः with the evil of attachment conquered अध्यात्मनित्याः ever dwelling in the Self विनिवृत्तकामाः with desires completely receded सुखदुःखसंज्ञैः known as pleasure and pain द्वन्द्वैः from the pairs of opposites विमुक्ताः liberated अमूढाः the undeluded तत् that अव्ययं Eternal पदं Goal गच्छन्ति reach.

Free from pride and delusion, with the evil of attachment conquered, ever dwelling in the Self, with desires completely receded, liberated from the pairs of opposites known as pleasure and pain, the undeluded reach that Goal Eternal.

An eternal portion of Myself having become a living soul in the world of life, draws (to itself) the (five) senses with mind for the sixth, abiding in Prakriti.

[The Jiva or the individual soul is that aspect of the Supreme Self which manifests itself in every one as the doer and enjoyer, being limited by the Upâdhis set up by Avidyâ ; but in reality, both are the same. It is like the Akâsha (space) in the jar, which is a portion of the infinite Akâsha, and becomes one with the latter on the destruction of the jar, the cause of limitation.]

When the Lord obtains a body and when He leaves it He takes these and goes, as the wind takes the scents from their seats (the flowers).

[Lord : Jiva spoken of in the preceding Sloka.

When the Jiva leaves the body, then he draws round himself the senses and the Manas. When he enters another he takes these again with him, i.e., he is born with these again.]

Transmigrating from one body to another, or residing (in the same) or experiencing,—as He is united with the Gunas,—the deluded do not see Him, but those who have the eye of wisdom behold Him.

[Though Atman is nearest and comes most easily within the range of their consciousness in a variety of functions, still all do not see Him, because of their complete subservience to sense-objects.]

The Yogis striving (for perfection) behold Him dwelling in themselves ; but the unrefined and unintelligent, even though striving, see Him not.

[The unrefined: Whose mind has not been regenerated by Tapas and subjugation of the senses, whose mind is not purified.]

The light which residing in the sun, in the moon, in the fire, illumines the whole world—know that light to be Mine.

[Light—may also be understood to mean the light of consciousness.]

Entering the earth with My energy, I support all beings, and I nourish all the herbs, becoming the watery moon.

[Energy—Ojas: The energy of the Ishvara, whereby the vast heaven and the earth are firmly held.

Nourish—by infusing sap into them.

The watery moon: The Soma, moon, is considered as the repository or the embodiment of all fluids (Rasas.)]

Abiding in the body of living beings as (the fire) Vaishvânara, I, associated with Prâna and Apâna, digest the fourfold food.

[See IV. 29.

Vaishvânara : The fire abiding in the stomach.

Fourfold food : Food which has to be eaten by

(1) mastication, (2) sucking, (3) licking, and (4) swallowing.]

I am centred in the hearts of all ; memory and perception as well as their loss come from Me. I am verily that which has to be known by all the Vedas, I indeed am the Author of the Vedānta, and the Knower of the Veda am I.

[Memory—of what is experienced in the past births ; and knowledge—of things transcending the ordinary limits of space, time and visible nature.—Anandagiri.

Come from Me—as the result of their good or evil deeds.

I indeed.....Vedanta: It is I who am the Teacher of the wisdom of the Vedanta, and cause it to be handed down in regular succession.]

There are two Purushas in the world,—the Perishable and the Imperishable. All beings are the Perishable, and the Kutastha is called Imperishable.

] Two Purushas : Two categories—arranged in two separate groups of beings,—spoken of as 'Purushas,' as they are the Upâdhis of the Purusha.

Kutastha : That which manifests Itself in various forms of illusion* and deception. It is said to be imperishable, as the seed of Samsâra is endless,—in the sense that it does not perish in the absence of Brahma-Jnâna.]

But (there is) another, the Supreme Purusha, called the Highest Self,—He who, the immutable Lord, pervading the three Worlds, sustains them.

[Another : quite distinct from the two.

The three Worlds : Bhuh (the Earth), Bhuvah (the Mid-Region) and Svah (the Heaven).]

As I transcend the Perishable and am above even the Imperishable, therefore am I in the world and in the Veda celebrated as the Purushottama, (the Highest Purusha).

[The Perishable—The Tree of Samsâra called Ashvattha.

The Imperishable—Which constitutes the seed of the Tree of Samsâra.]

Thus, O sinless one, has this most profound teaching been imparted by Me. Knowing this he attains the highest intelligence and the accomplishment of all his duties, O descendant of Bharata.

[Highest intelligence—which realises the Brahman. . .

(Attains) the accomplishment.....duties : Whatever duty one has to do in life, all that duty has been done, when the Brahman is realised.]

The Blessed Lord said :

Fearlessness, purity of heart, steadfastness in knowledge and Yoga, giving away as charity, control of the senses, Yajna, reading of the Shâstras, austerity, uprightness ;

[Yoga—consists in making what has been learnt from the Shâstras and the Achârya, an object of one's own direct perception, by concentration and self-control.]

Arjuna said :

Those who setting aside the ordinance of the Shâstra, perform sacrifice with Shraddhâ, what is their condition, O Krishna? (Is it) Sattva, Rajas or Tamas?

[Setting.....Shraddhâ: not that they believe the ordinance of the Shâstra to be false, but out of laziness or thinking them to depend on too much exertion to perform strictly according to the Shâstrika ordinance, they let them alone and worship the gods, endued with Shraddhâ.]

Speech which causes no vexation, and is true, as also agreeable and beneficial, and regular study of the Vedas,—these are said to form the austerity of speech.

[Speech, to be an austerity, must form an invariable combination of all the four attributes mentioned in the Sloka ; if it lacks in one or other of them, it will no longer be an austerity of speech.]

मनःप्रसादः सौम्यत्वं मौनमात्मविनिग्रहः ॥

मनःप्रसादः Serenity of mind सौम्यत्वं kindliness मौन silence आत्मविनिग्रहः self-control भावसंशुद्धिः honesty of motive इति एतत् this मानसं mental तपः the austerity उच्यते is called.

Serenity of mind, kindliness, silence, self-control, honesty of motive,—this is called the mental austerity.

[Silence—Maunam—is the result of the control of thought so far as it concerns speech. Or it may mean, the condition of the Muni, i.e., practice of meditation.]

श्रद्धया परया तप्तं तपस्तत्त्रिविधं नरैः ॥

अफलाकांक्षिमिर्युक्तैः सात्त्विकं परिचक्षते ॥ १७ ॥

That austerity which is practised with the object of gaining welcome, honour and worship, and with ostentation, is here said to be Râjasika, unstable and transitory.

[With ostentation: for mere show, hypocritically, with no sincere belief.

Here—is explained also in the sense of 'of this world,' i.e., yielding fruit only in this world.]

मूढाद्ब्रह्मेणात्मनो यत्पीडया क्रियते तपः ॥

परस्योत्सादनार्थं वा तत्तामसः सद्वृत्तम् ॥ १९ ॥

XVII. 19.

मूढाद्ब्रह्मेण Out of a foolish notion आत्मनः of self पीडया with torture परस्य of another उत्सादनार्थं for the purpose of ruining वा or यत् which तपः austerity क्रियते is practised तत् that तामसं Tâmasika उदीहते is declared (to be).

That austerity which is practised out of a foolish notion, with self-torture or for the purpose of ruining another, is declared to be Tâmasika.

दातव्यमिति यद्दानं दीयतेऽनुपकारिणे ॥

देशे काले च पात्रे च तद्दानं सात्त्विकं स्मृतम् ॥ २० ॥

XVII. 20.

देशे In a fit place काले in a fit time च and पात्रे to a worthy person च and दातव्यं to give is right इति with this idea अनुपकारिणे to one who does no service (in return) यत् which दानं gift दीयते is given तत् that दानं gift सात्त्विकं Sâttvika स्मृतं is held to be.

To give is right,—gift given with this idea, to one who does no service in return, in a fit place and to a worthy person, that gift is held to be Sâttvika.

[Who.....return: one who cannot, or who though able is not expected to return the good.]

यत्तु प्रत्युपकारार्थं फलमुद्दिश्य वा पुनः ॥

दीयते च परिक्षिप्तं तद्दानं राजसं स्मृतम् ॥ २१ ॥

XVII. 21.

यत् What तु and प्रत्युपकारार्थं with a view to receiving in return फलं च and the fruit उद्दिश्य looking for वा or पुनः again परिक्षिप्तं reluctantly दीयते is given तत् that दानं gift राजसं Râjasika स्मृतं is held to be.

And what is given with a view to receiving in return, or looking for the fruit, or again reluctantly, that gift is held to be Râjasika.

अदेशकाले यद्दानमपात्रेभ्यश्च दीयते ॥

तत्तामसमुदाहृतम् ॥ २२ ॥

XVII. 22.

अदेशकाले At the wrong place or time अपात्रेभ्यः च and to unworthy persons असत्कृतं without regard अवज्ञातं with disdain यत् that दानं gift दीयते is given तत् that तामसं Tâmasika उदाहृतं is declared to be.

The gift that is given at the wrong place or time, to unworthy persons, without regard or with disdain, that is declared to be Tâmasika.

ॐ तत्सदिति निर्देशो ब्रह्मणस्त्रिविधः स्मृतः ॥

ब्राह्मणास्तेन वेदाश्च यज्ञाश्च विहिताः पुरा ॥ २३ ॥

XVII. 23.

ॐ Om तत् Tat सत् Sat इति this ब्रह्मणः of Brahman त्रिविधः triple निर्देशः designation स्मृतः has been declared तेन by that ब्राह्मणाः the Brâhmanas च and वेदाः the Vedas च and यज्ञाः the Yajnas पुरा of old विहिताः were made.

“Om, Tat, Sat” : this has been declared to be the triple designation of Brahman. By that were made of old the Brâhmanas and the Vedas and the Yajnas.

[Om, Tat, Sat : Om is the principal name of the Lord, because it means all that is manifest and the beyond. It also means "Yes." Tat means "That" ; the Indefinable, that which can only be described indirectly as "That which." Sat means Reality ; which is ever permanent in one mode of being.]

तस्मादोमित्युदाहृत्य यज्ञदानतपःक्रियाः ॥

प्रवर्तन्ते विधानोक्ताः सततं ब्रह्मवादिनाः ॥ २४ ॥

XVII. 24.

तस्मात् Therefore ॐ Om इति उदाहृत्य uttering ब्रह्मवादिनां of the followers of the Vedas विधानोक्ताः as enjoined in the ordinances यज्ञदानतपःक्रियाः the acts of Yajna, gift and austerity सततं always प्रवर्तन्ते proceed.

Therefore uttering Om, acts of Yajna, gift and austerity of the followers of the Vedas always proceed, as enjoined in the ordinances.

तदित्यनभिसन्धाय फलं यज्ञतपःक्रियाः ॥

दानक्रियाश्च विविधाः क्रियन्ते मोक्षकांक्षिभिः ॥ २५ ॥

XVII. 25.

तत् Tat इति thus (uttering) फलं the fruit अनभिसन्धाय without aiming at मोक्षकांक्षिभिः by the seekers of Moksha विविधा various यज्ञतपःक्रियाः acts of Yajna and austerity दानक्रियाः acts of gift च and क्रियन्ते are performed.

Uttering Tat, without aiming at fruits, are the various acts of Yajna, austerity and gift performed by the seekers of Moksha.

सद्भावे साधुभावे च सदित्येतत्प्रयुज्यते ॥

प्रशस्ते कर्मणि तथा सच्छब्दः पार्थ युज्यते ॥ २६ ॥

XVII. 26.

पार्थ O Pârtha सद्भावे in the sense of reality साधुभावे in the sense of goodness च and सत् Sat इति as एतत् this प्रयुज्यते is used तथा so also प्रशस्ते auspicious कर्मणि in (the sense of) an act च and सत् Sat शब्दः the word युज्यते is used.

The word Sat is used in the sense of reality and of goodness ; and so also, O Pârtha, the word Sat is used in the sense of an auspicious act.

यज्ञे तपसि दाने च स्थितिः सदिति चोच्यते ॥

कर्म चैव तदर्थीयं सदित्येवामिधीयते ॥ २७ ॥

XVII. 27.

यज्ञे In Yajna तपसि in austerity दाने in gift च and स्थितिः steadiness सत् Sat इति so उच्यते is called च also तदर्थीयं in connection with these, or, for the sake of the Lord कर्म action च एव as also सत् Sat इति एव so अमिधीयते is called.

Steadiness in Yajna, austerity and gift is also called 'Sat' : as also action in connection with these (or, action for the sake of the Lord) is called Sat.

अश्रद्धया हुतं दत्तं तपस्तप्तं कृतं च यत् ॥

असदित्युच्यते पार्थ न च तत्तेत्य नो इह ॥ २८ ॥

XVII. 28.

अश्रद्धया Without Shraddhâ हुतं is sacrificed दत्तं given तप्तं is practised तपः austerity च and यत् whatever कृतं performed असत् Asat इति so उच्यते is called पार्थ O Pârtha तत् it न च neither प्रेत्य hereafter (after death) नो nor इह here.

Whatever is sacrificed, given or performed, and whatever austerity is practised without Shraddhâ, it is called Asat, O Pârtha; it is naught here or hereafter.

[It is naught here or hereafter: Though costing much trouble it is of no use here as it is not acceptable to the wise ones, nor can it produce any effect conducive to good hereafter.]

Arjuna said :

I desire to know severally, O mighty-armed, the truth of Sannyâsa, O Hrishiksha, as also of Tyâga, O slayer of Keshi.

[Sannyâsa and Tyâga both mean renunciation.
Keshi—was an Asura.]

भरतसत्तम O best of the Bhâratas पुरुषव्याघ्र O tiger among men तत्र about that त्यागे in relinquishment मे from Me निश्चयं the final truth शृणु hear त्यागः relinquishment हि for त्रिविधः of three kinds सम्प्रकीर्तितः has been declared (to be).

Hear from Me the final truth about relinquishment, O best of the Bhâratas. For relinquishment has been declared to be of three kinds, O tiger among men.

यज्ञदानतपःकर्म न त्याज्यं कार्यमेव तत् ॥

यज्ञो दानं तपश्चैव पावनानि मनीषिणाम् ॥ ५ ॥

XVIII. 5.

यज्ञदानतपःकर्म The work of Yajna, gift and austerity न not त्याज्यं should be relinquished तत् it कार्य should be performed एव indeed यज्ञः Yajna दानं gift तपः austerity च and एव indeed मनीषिणां to the wise पावनानि are purifying.

The work of Yajna, gift and austerity should not be relinquished, but it should indeed be performed; (for) Yajna, gift and austerity are purifying to the wise.

एतान्यपि तु कर्माणि सङ्गं त्यक्त्वा फलानि च ॥

कर्तव्यानीति मे पार्थ निश्चितं मतमुत्तमम् ॥ ६ ॥

XVIII. 6.

पार्थ O Pârtha एतानि these कर्माणि works अपि even तु but सङ्गं attachment फलानि the fruits च and त्यक्त्वा leaving कर्तव्यानि should be performed इति such मे My निश्चितं certain उत्तमं best मतं conviction.

But even these works, O Pârtha, should be performed, leaving attachment and the fruits;—such is My best and certain conviction.

नियतस्य तु संन्यासः कर्मणो नोपपद्यते ॥

मोहस्य परित्याग तामसः परिकीर्तितः ॥ ७ ॥

XVIII. 7.

नियतस्य Obligatory कर्मणः of action तु but संन्यासः the renunciation न not उपपद्यते is proper मोहात् from delusion तस्य of the same परित्यागः abandonment तामसः Tâmasika परिकीर्तितः is declared.

But the renunciation of obligatory action is not proper. Abandonment of the same from delusion is declared to be Tâmasika.

[Since it is purifying in the case of the ignorant.]

दुःखमित्येव यत्कर्म कायकृशमयात्स्यजेत् ॥

स कृत्वा राजसं त्यागं नैव त्यागफलं लभेत् ॥ ८ ॥

XVIII. ' 8.

दुःखं (It is) painful इति because एव only कायक्लेशभयात् from fear of bodily trouble यत् which कर्म action त्यजेत् relinquishes सः he राजसं Râjasika त्यागं relinquishment कृत्वा performing त्यागफलं the fruit of relinquishment न not एव indeed लभेत् obtains.

He who from fear of bodily trouble relinquishes action, because it is painful, thus performing a Râjasika relinquishment, he obtains not the fruit thereof.

[Fruit, i.e., Moksha, which comes out of the renunciation of all actions accompanied with wisdom.]

कार्यमित्येव यत्कर्म नियतं क्रियतेऽर्जुन ॥

सङ्गं त्यक्त्वा फलं चैव स त्यागः सात्त्विको मतः ॥६॥

XVIII. 9.

अर्जुन O Arjuna सङ्गं attachment फलं fruit च एव and त्यक्त्वा leaving कार्यं it ought to be done इति because एव only यत् which नियतं obligatory कर्म action क्रियते is performed सः such त्यागः relinquishment सात्त्विकः Sâttvika मतः is regarded.

When obligatory work is performed, O Arjuna, only because it ought to be done, leaving attachment and fruit, such relinquishment is regarded as Sâttvika.

न द्वेष्टाकुशलं कर्म कुशले नानुषज्जते ॥

त्यागी सत्त्वसमाविष्टो मेधावी छिन्नसंशयः ॥ १० ॥

XVIII. 10.

सत्त्वसमाविष्टः Endued with Sattva मेधावी with a steady understanding छिन्नसंशयः with his doubts dispelled त्यागी the relinquisher अकुशलं disagreeable कर्म action न not द्वेष्टि hates कुशले to an agreeable one न nor अनुषज्जते is attached.

The relinquisher endued with Sattva and a steady understanding and with his doubts dispelled, hates not a disagreeable work nor is attached to an agreeable one.

नहि देहभृता शक्यं त्यक्तुं कर्माण्यशेषतः ॥

यस्तु कर्मफलत्यागी स त्यागीत्यभिधीयते ॥ ११ ॥

XVIII. 11.

देहभृता By an embodied being अशेषतः entirely कर्माणि actions त्यक्तुं to relinquish न not हि indeed शक्यं can be यः who तु but कर्मफलत्यागी relinquisher of the fruits of action सः he त्यागी relinquisher इति thus अभिधीयते is called.

Actions cannot be entirely relinquished by an embodied being, but he who relinquishes the fruits of action is called a relinquisher.

अनिष्टमिष्टं मिश्रं च त्रिविधं कर्मणः फलम् ॥

• भवत्यत्यागिनां प्रेत्य न तु संन्यासिनां क्वचित् ॥ १२ ॥

XVIII. 12.

अत्यागिनां To non-relinquishers प्रेत्य after death अनिष्टं disagreeable इष्टं agreeable मिश्रं mixed च and त्रिविधं threefold कर्मणाः of action फलं fruit भवति accrues तु but संन्यासेन to relinquishers क्वचित् ever न not.

The threefold fruit of action—disagreeable, agreeable and mixed,—accrues to non-relinquishers after death, but never to relinquishers.

पञ्चेतानि महाबाहो कारणानि निबोध मे ॥

साङ्ख्ये कृतान्ते प्रोक्तानि सिद्धये सर्वकर्मणाम् ॥ १३ ॥

XVIII. 13.

महाबाहो O mighty-armed साङ्ख्ये in the wisdom कृतान्ते which is the end of all action सर्वकर्मणां of all works सिद्धये for the accomplishment प्रोक्तानि as declared एतानि these पञ्च five कारणानि causes मे from Me निबोध learn.

Learn from Me, O mighty-armed, these five causes for the accomplishment of all works as declared in the wisdom which is the end of all action :—

[Wisdom : Sāṅkhya,—literally, in which all the things that are to be known are expounded, therefore, the highest wisdom.]

अधिष्ठानं तथा कर्ता करणं च पृथग्विधम् ॥

विविधाश्च पृथक् चेष्टा देवं चेवात्र पञ्चमम् ॥ १४ ॥

XVIII. 14.

.अधिष्ठानं The body तथा¹ also कर्ता the agent पृथग्विधं various करणं the senses विविधाः of a manifold kind पृथक् different चेष्टाः functions अत्र of these पञ्चमं the fifth दैवं the presiding divinity च एव and also.

The body, the agent, the various senses, the different functions of a manifold kind, and the presiding divinity, the fifth of these;

[Presiding divinity : Each of the senses has its god who presides over it, i.e., by whose aid it discharges its own functions ; e.g., the Aditya (Sun) is the presiding divinity of the eye, by whose aid it sees and acts ; and so on with the other senses.]

शरीरवाङ्मनोभिर्यत्कर्म प्रारभते नरः ॥

न्याय्यं वा विपरीतं वा पञ्चैते तस्य हेतवः ॥ १५ ॥

XVIII. 15.

नरः A man शरीरवाङ्मनोभिः by (his) body, speech and mind यत् whatever न्याय्यं right वा or विपरीतं the reverse कर्म action प्रारभते performs एते these पञ्च five तस्य its हेतवः causes.

Whatever action a man performs by his body, speech and mind—whether right or the reverse—these five are its causes.

तत्रैवं सति कर्तारमात्मानं केवलं तु यः ॥

पश्यत्यकृतबुद्धित्वाच्च स पश्यति दुर्मतिः ॥ १६ ॥

XVIII. 16.

एवं Thus सति being तत्र there (the case) केवलं the Absolute आत्मानं the Self तु verily अकृतबुद्धित्वात् through a non-purified understanding यः who कर्तारं as the agent पश्यति looks upon सः he दुर्मतिः of perverted mind न not पश्यति sees.

Such being the case, he who through a non-purified understanding looks upon his Self, the Absolute, as the agent,—he of perverted mind sees not.

यस्य नाहङ्कृतो भावो बुद्धिर्यस्य न लिप्यते ॥

हत्वापि स इमाँल्लोकान्न हन्ति न निबध्यते ॥ १७ ॥

XVIII. 17.

यस्य Whose अहङ्कृतः of egoism भावः the notion न not यस्य whose बुद्धिः intelligence न not लिप्यते is affected सः he इमान् these लोकान् people हत्वा killing अपि though न not हन्ति kills न nor निबध्यते is bound.

He who is free from the notion of egoism, whose intelligence is not affected (by good or evil), though he kills these people, he kills not, nor is bound (by the action);

[He whose self-consciousness, by the force of long, strenuous, and properly-trained self-concentration, is ever identified with Brahman, and not with the five causes of action as mentioned in Sloka 14,—he whose self-consciousness never mistakes itself with the body, mind and the like, even when performing¹ physical acts,—he is ever free from the taint of action.]

ज्ञानं ज्ञेयं परिज्ञाता त्रिविधा कर्मचोदना ॥

करणं कर्म कर्तृति त्रिविधः कर्मसंग्रहः ॥ १८ ॥

XVIII. 18.

ज्ञानं Knowledge ज्ञेयं the known परिज्ञाता the knower त्रिविधा threefold कर्मचोदना the cause of action कर्णं the instrument कर्म the object कर्ता the agent इति the त्रिविधः threefold कर्मसंग्रहः the basis of action.

Knowledge, the known and the knower form the threefold cause of action. The instrument, the object and the agent are the threefold basis of action.

[Basis—because the threefold action inheres in these three.]

ज्ञानं कर्म च कर्ता च त्रिधैव गुणभेदतः ॥

प्रोच्यते गुणसंख्याने यथावच्छृणु तान्यपि ॥ १९ ॥

XVIII. 19.

गुणसंख्याने In the (science of) enumeration of the Gunas (Sāṅkhya philosophy) ज्ञानं knowledge कर्म action च and कर्ता agent च and गुणभेदतः from the distinction of Gunas त्रिधा of three kinds एव only प्रोच्यते are declared (to be) तानि them अपि also यथावत् duly शृणु hear.

Knowledge, action and agent are declared in the Sāṅkhya philosophy to be of three kinds only, from the distinction of Gunas : hear them also duly.

[Sāṅkhya : the Science of the Gunas by Kapila. Though there is a conflict in the matter of supreme Truth—the oneness or non-duality of Brahman—between the Vedānta and the Sāṅkhya, yet the Sāṅkhya view is given here, because it is an authority on the science of Gunas.

Duly—described according to the Science, according to reason.]

सर्वभूतेषु येनैकं भावमव्ययमीक्षते ॥

That by which the One Indestructible Substance is seen in all beings, inseparate in the separated, know that knowledge to be Sāttvika.

[Inseparate : undifferentiated ; permeating all.]

पृथक्तेन तु यज्ज्ञानं नानाभावात्पृथग्विधान् ॥

वेत्ति सर्वेषु भूतेषु तज्ज्ञानं विद्धि राजसम् ॥ २१ ॥

XVIII. 21.

पृथक्तेन As different from one another तु but यत् which ज्ञानं knowledge सर्वेषु all भूतेषु in beings पृथग्विधान् of distinct kinds नानाभावान् various entities वेत्ति knows तत् that ज्ञान knowledge राजसं as Râjasika विद्धि know (thou).

But that knowledge which sees in all beings various entities of distinct kinds as different from one another, know thou that knowledge as Râjasika.

[Entities: Souls.

Different from one another: Different in different bodies.]

यत्तु कृत्स्नवदेकस्मिन् कार्यं सक्तमहैतुकम् ॥

अतत्त्वार्थवदल्पं च तत्तामसमुदाहृतम् ॥ २२ ॥

XVIII. 22.

यत् Which तु but एकस्मिन् one single कार्ये to effect कृत्स्नवत् as if it were the whole सक्तं confined अहैतुकं without reason अतत्त्वार्थवत् without foundation in truth अल्पं trivial च and तत् that तामसं Tâmasika उदाहृतं is declared.

Whilst that which is confined to one single effect as if it were the whole, without reason, without foundation in truth, and trivial,—that is declared to be Tâmasika.

[One single effect: such as the body,—thinking it to be the Self.]

नियतं सङ्गरहितमरागद्वेषतः कृतम् ॥

अफलप्रेप्सुना कर्म यत्तत्सात्त्विकमुच्यते ॥ २३ ॥

XVIII. 23.

अफलप्रेप्सुना By one not desirous of the fruit नियतं ordained सङ्गरहितं free from attachment अरागद्वेषतः without love or hatred कृतं done यत् which कर्म action तत् that सात्त्विकं Sâttvika उच्यते is declared.

An ordained action done without love or hatred by one not desirous of the fruit and free from attachment, is declared to be Sâttvika.

यत्तु कामेप्सुना कर्म साहङ्कारेण वा पुनः ॥

क्रियते बहुलायासं तद्राजसमुदाहृतम् ॥ २४ ॥

XVIII. 24.

कामेप्सुना By one desiring desires साहङ्कारेण with self-conceit वा or बहुलायासं with much effort यत् which तु but पुनः again कर्म the action क्रियते is performed तत् that राजसं Râjasika उदाहृतं is declared

But the action which is performed desiring desires, or with self-conceit and with much effort, is declared to be Râjasika.

अनुबन्धं क्षयं हिंसामनपेक्ष्य च पौरुषम् ॥

मोहादारभ्यते कर्म यत्तत्तामसमुच्यते ॥ २५ ॥

XVIII. 25.

अनुबन्धं The consequence क्षयं loss (of power and wealth) हिंसां injury (to others) पौरुषं (one's own) ability च and अनपेक्ष्य without heeding मोहात् through delusion यत् which कर्म action आरभ्यते is undertaken तत् that तामसं Tâmasika उच्यते is declared.

That action is declared to be Tâmasika which is undertaken through delusion, without heed to the consequence, loss (of power and wealth), injury (to others) and (one's own) ability.

मुक्तसङ्गोऽनहंवादी धृत्युत्साहसमन्वितः ॥

सिद्धसिद्धोऽनिर्विकारः कर्ता सात्त्विक उच्यते ॥२६॥

XVIII. 26. *

मुक्तसङ्गः Who is free from attachment अनहंवादी non-egotistic धृत्युत्साहसमन्वितः endued with fortitude and enthusiasm सिद्धसिद्धोः in success or failure निर्विकारः unaffected कर्ता an agent सात्त्विकः Sâttvika उच्यते is called.

An agent who is free from attachment, non-egotistic, endued with fortitude and enthusiasm and unaffected in success or failure, is called Sâttvika.

रागी कर्मफलप्रेप्सुर्लुब्धो हिंसात्मकोऽशुचिः ॥

हर्षशोकान्वितः कर्ता राजसः परिकीर्तितः ॥ २७ ॥

XVIII. 27.

रागी Passionate कर्मफलप्रेप्सुः desirous of the fruits of action लुब्धः greedy हिंसात्मकः malignant अशुचिः impure हर्षशोकान्वितः (easily) affected by elation or dejection कर्ता (such) an agent राजसः Râjasika परिकीर्तितः is called.

He who is passionate, desirous of the fruits of action, greedy, malignant, impure, easily elated or dejected, such an agent is called Râjasika.

[Elated or dejected—at the success or failure of the action in which he is engaged.]

अयुक्तः प्राकृतः स्तब्धः शठो नैष्कृतिकोऽलसः ॥

विषादी दीर्घसूत्री च कर्ता तामस उच्यते ॥ २८ ॥

XVIII. 28.

अयुक्तः Unsteady प्राकृतः vulgar स्तब्धः arrogant शठः dishonest नैष्कृतिकः malicious अलसः indolent विषादी desponding दीर्घसूत्री procrastinating च and कर्ता (such) an agent तामसः Tâmasika उच्यते is called.

Unsteady, vulgar, arrogant, dishonest, malicious, indolent, desponding and procrastinating, such an agent is called Tâmasika.

बुद्धे भेदं धृतेश्चैव गुणतस्त्रिविधं शृणु ॥

XVIII. 29.

धनञ्जय O Dhananjaya बुद्धेः of intellect धृतेः of fortitude च एव and also गुणतः according to the (Guna- त्रिविधं triple पृथक्त्वेन severally अशेषेण exhaustively प्रोच्यमानं as I declare भेदं the distinction शृणु hear (thou)

Hear thou the triple distinction of intellect and fortitude, according to the Gunas, as I declare them exhaustively and severally, O Dhananjaya.

[Dhananjaya : the conqueror of wealth—human and divine, earthly and celestial ; an epithet of Arjuna.]

प्रवृत्तिं च निवृत्तिं च कार्याकार्ये भयाभये ॥

बन्धं मोक्षं च या वेत्ति बुद्धिः सा पार्थ सात्त्विकी ॥३०॥

XVIII. 30.

पार्थ Q Pârtha या which प्रवृत्तिं the path of work निवृत्तिं the path of renunciation च and कार्याकार्ये right and wrong action भयाभये fear and fearlessness बन्धं bondage मोक्षं liberation च and वेत्ति knows सा that सात्त्विकी Sâttvika बुद्धिः intellect.

That which knows the paths of work and renunciation, right and wrong action, fear and fearlessness, bondage and liberation, that intellect, O Pârtha, is Sâttvika.

[Fear.....liberation—the cause of fear and the cause of fearlessness ; similarly, the cause of bondage and the cause of liberation.]

यया धर्ममधर्मं च कार्यं चाकार्यमेव च

अयथावत्प्रजानाति बुद्धिः सा पार्थ राजसी ॥३१॥

XVIII. 31.

पार्थ O Pârtha यया by which धर्म Dharma अधर्म Adharma कार्य 'right action अकार्य wrong action च and अयथावत् in a distorted way प्रजानाति apprehends सा that राजसी Râjasika बुद्धिः intellect.

That which has a distorted apprehension of Dharma and its opposite and also of right action and its opposite, that intellect, O Pârtha, is Râjasika.

अधर्मं धर्ममिति या मन्यते तमसाऽऽवृता ॥

सर्वार्थान्विपरीतांश्च बुद्धिः सा पार्थ तामसी ॥ ३२ ॥

XVIII. 32.

पार्थ O Pârtha या which अधर्म Adharma धर्म Dharma इति as मन्यते regards सर्वार्थान् all things विपरीतान् perverted च and तमसा in darkness आवृता enveloped सा that बुद्धिः intellect तामसी Tâmasika.

That which, enveloped in darkness regards Adharma as Dharma and views all things in a perverted light, that intellect, O Pârtha, is Tâmasika.

धृत्या यया धारयते मनःप्राणेन्द्रियक्रियाः ॥

योगेनाव्यभिचारिण्या धृतिः सा पार्थ सात्त्विकी ॥ ३३ ॥

XVIII. 33.

पार्थ O Pârtha अव्यभिचारिण्या unswerving यया which धृत्या by fortitude मनःप्राणेन्द्रियक्रियाः the functions of the mind, the Prâna and the senses योगेन through Yoga धारयते (one) regulates सा that धृतिः fortitude सात्त्विकी Sâttvika.

The fortitude by which the functions of the mind, the Prâna and the senses, O Pârtha, are regulated, that fortitude, unswerving through Yoga, is Sâttvika.

यया तु धर्मकामार्थान् धृत्या धारयतेऽर्जुन ॥

प्रसङ्गेन फलाकांक्षी धृतिः सा पार्थ राजसी ॥ ३४ ॥

XVIII. 34.

पार्थ O Pârtha अर्जुन O Arjuna यया which धृत्या by fortitude तु but धर्मकामार्थान् Dharma, desire and wealth धारयते (one) regulates प्रसङ्गेन from attachment फलाकाङ्क्षी desirous of the fruit of action सा that धृतिः fortitude राजसी Râjasika.

But the fortitude by which one regulates (one's mind) to Dharma, desire and wealth, desirous of the fruit of each from attachment, that fortitude, O Pârtha, is Râjasika.

यया स्वप्नं भयं शोकं विषादं मदमेव च ॥

न विमुञ्चति दुर्मेधा धृतिः सा पार्थ तामसी ॥ ३५ ॥

XVIII. 35.

पार्थ (O) Pârtha दुर्मेधाः a stupid man यया by which स्वप्नं sleep भयं fear शोकं grief विषादं despondency मदं overweening conceit एव च and also न not विमुञ्चति gives up सा that धृतिः fortitude तामसी Tâmasika.

That by which a stupid man does not give up sleep, fear, grief, despondency and also overweening conceit, that fortitude, O Pârtha, is Tâmasika.

[Does not give up sleep &c.,—is inordinately addicted to sleep &c., regarding these to be only proper.]

सुखं त्विदानीं त्रिविधं शृणु मे भरतर्षभ ॥

अभ्यासाद्भते यत्र दुःखान्तं च निगच्छति ॥ ३६ ॥

XVIII. 36.

भरतर्षभ O bull of the Bhâratas इदानीं now त्रिविधं threefold सुखं happiness तु and मे from Me शृणु hear यत्र in which अभ्यासात् by habit रमते learns to enjoy दुःखान्तं the end of pain च and निगच्छति (he) attains to.

And now hear from Me, O bull of the Bhâratas, of the threefold happiness. That happiness which one learns to enjoy by habit, and by which one comes to the end of pain ;

यत्तदग्रे विषमिव परिणामेऽमृतोपमम् ॥

तत्सुखं सात्त्विकं प्रोक्तमात्मबुद्धिप्रसादजम् ॥ ३७ ॥

XVIII. 37.

यत् Which तत् that अग्रे at first विषं poison इव like परिणामे at the end, अमृतोपमं like nectar आत्मबुद्धिप्रसादजं born of the translucence of intellect due to Self-realisation तत् that सुखं happiness सात्त्विकं Sâttvika पोक्तं is declared (to be).

That which* is like poison at first, but like nectar at the end ; that happiness is declared to be Sâttvika, born of the translucence of intellect due to Self-realisation.

विषयेन्द्रियसंयोगाद्यत्तदग्रेऽमृतोपमम् ॥

परिणामे विषमिव तत्सुखं राजसं स्मृतम् ॥ ३८ ॥

XVIII. 38.

विषयेन्द्रियसंयोगात् From the contact of object with sense यत् which तत् that अग्रे at first अमृतोपमं like nectar

परिणामे at the end विषं poison इव like तत् that सुखं happiness राजसं Râjasika स्मृतं is declared.

That which arises from the contact of object with sense, at first like nectar, but at the end like poison, that happiness is declared to be Râjasika.

[At the end like poison—because it leads to deterioration in strength, vigour, complexion, wisdom, intellect, wealth and energy.]

यदग्रे चानुबन्धे च सुखं मोहनमात्मनः ॥

निद्रालस्यप्रमादोत्थं तत्तामसमुदाहृतम् ॥ ३६ ॥

XVIII. 39.

निद्रालस्यप्रमादोत्थं Arising from निद्रा sleep आलस्यं indolence and प्रमादः miscomprehension यत् what सुखं happiness अग्रे in the beginning अनुबन्धे in the sequel च and आत्मनः to the self मोहनं causing delusion तत् that तामसं Tâmasika उदाहृतं is declared.

. That happiness which begins and results in self-delusion arising from sleep, indolence and miscomprehension, that is declared to be Tâmasika.

न तदस्ति पृथिव्यां वा दिवि देवेषु वा पुनः ॥

सत्त्वं प्रकृतिजैर्मुक्तं यदेभिः स्यान्निर्भिर्गुणैः ॥ ४० ॥

XVIII. 40.

पृथिव्यां On earth दिवि in heaven वा or देवेषु among the Devas पुनः again तत् that सत्त्वं entity न no अस्ति there is यत् which एभिः these प्रकृतिजैः born of Prakriti त्रिभिः three गुणैः (by) Gunas मुक्तं devoid of स्यात् is.

There is no entity on earth, or again in heaven among the Devas, that is devoid of these three Gunas, born of Prakriti.

ब्राह्मणक्षत्रियविशां शूद्राणां च परन्तप ॥

कर्माणि प्रविभक्तानि स्वभावप्रभवैर्गुणैः ॥ ४१ ॥

XVIII. 41.

परन्तप O scorcher of foes ब्राह्मणक्षत्रियविशां of Brāhmanas, Kshatriyas and Vaishyas शूद्राणां of Sudras च as also कर्माणि duties स्वभावप्रभवैः born of (their) own nature गुणैः according to the Gunas प्रविभक्तानि are distributed.

Of Brāhmanas and Kshatriyas and Vaishyas, as also of Sudras, O scorcher of foes, the duties are distributed according to the Gunas born of their own nature.

[According to the Karma or habits and tendencies formed by desire, action, and association in the past life manifesting themselves in the present as effects. Or, nature (Svabhāva) may here mean the Mâyâ made up of the three Gunas, the Prakriti of the Lord.]

शमो दमस्तपः शै च क्षान्तिरार्जुनमेव च ॥

ज्ञानं विज्ञानमास्तिक्य ब्रह्मकर्म स्वभावजम् ॥ ४२ ॥

XVIII. 42.

शमः Control of mind दमः control of the senses तपः austerity शौचं purity क्षान्तिः forbearance आर्जवं uprightness ज्ञानं knowledge विज्ञानं realisation आस्तिक्यं belief in a hereafter एव also च and स्वभावजं born of the nature ब्रह्मकर्म (are) the duties of Brāhmanas.

Control of mind and senses, austerity, purity, forbearance, and also uprightness, knowledge, realisation, belief in a hereafter,—these are the duties of Brāhmanas, born of (their own) nature.

शौर्यं तेजो धृतिर्दाक्ष्य युद्धे चाप्यपलायनम् ॥

दानमीश्वरभावश्च क्षात्र कर्म स्वभावजम् ॥ ४३ ॥

XVIII. 43.

शौर्यं Prowess तेजः boldness धृतिः fortitude दाक्ष्यं dexterity युद्धे in battle च and अपि also अपलायनं not flying दानं generosity ईश्वरभावः sovereignty च and स्वभावजं born of the nature क्षात्रं of Kshatriyas कर्म the duties.

Prowess, boldness, fortitude, dexterity, and also not flying from battle, generosity and sovereignty are the duties of Kshatriyas, born of (their own) nature.

कृषिगौरक्ष्यवाणिज्यं वैश्यकर्म स्वभावजम् ॥

परिवर्थात्मकं कर्तुं शूद्रस्यापि स्वभावजम् ॥ ४४ ॥

XVIII. 44.

कृषिगौरक्ष्यवाणिज्यं Agriculture, cattle-rearing and trade स्वभावजं born of the nature वैश्यकर्म the duties of Vaishyas शूद्रस्य of a Sudra अपि also परिवर्थात्मकं consisting of service कर्म action स्वभावजं born of the nature.

• Agriculture, cattle-rearing and trade are the duties of Vaishyas, born of (their own) nature; action consisting of service is also the duty of the Sudra, born of (his own) nature.

स्वे स्वे कर्मण्यभिरतः संसिद्धिं लभते नरः ॥

स्वकर्मनिरतः सिद्धिं यथा विन्दति तच्छृणु ॥ ४५ ॥

XVIII. 45.

स्वे स्वे Each his own कर्मणि to duty अभिरतः devoted नरः man संसिद्धिं the highest perfection लभते attains स्वकर्मनिरतः engaged in his own duty यथा how सिद्धिं perfection विन्दति attains तत् that शृणु hear.

Devoted each to his own duty, man attains the highest perfection. How engaged in his own duty, he attains perfection, that hear.

[Own—according to his nature.

The Apastamba Dharma-Shâstra says : "Men of several castes and orders, each devoted to his respective duties, reap the fruits of their actions after death, and then by the residual Karma attain to births in superior countries, castes and families, possessed of comparatively superior Dharma, span of life, learning, conduct, wealth, happiness and intelligence."]

यतः प्रवृत्तिर्भूतानां येन सर्वमिदं ततम् ॥

स्वकर्मणा तमभ्यर्च्य सिद्धिं विन्दति मानवः ॥ ४६ ॥

XVIII. 46.

यतः From whom भूतानां of all beings प्रवृत्तिः (is) the evolution येन by whom इदं this सर्व all ततः is pervaded मामवः man स्वकर्मणा with his own duty तं Him अभ्यर्च्य worshipping सिद्धिं perfection विन्दति attains.

From whom is the evolution of all beings, by whom all this is pervaded, worshipping Him with his own duty, a man attains-perfection.

[The highest worship to the Lord consists in the closest approach to Him. The veil of Mâyâ comprising Karma or habits, tendencies and actions prevents a man from nearing the Lord, i.e., realising his own Self. By working out one's Karma alone, according to the law of one's being, can this veil be rent and the end accomplished.]

श्रेयान् स्वधर्मो विगुणः परधर्मात्स्वनुष्ठितात् ॥

स्वभावनियतं कर्म कुर्वन्नाप्नोति किल्बिषम् ॥ ४७ ॥

XVIII. 47.

विगुणः (Though) imperfect स्वधर्मः one's own Dharma स्वनुष्ठितात् well-performed परधर्मात् than the Dharma of another श्रेयान् better (is) स्वभावनियतं ordained by his own nature कर्म the duty कुर्वन् doing किल्बिषं evil न no अप्नोति (he) incurs.

Better is one's own Dharma, (though) imperfect, than the Dharma of another well-performed. He who does the duty ordained by his own nature incurs no evil.

[As a poisonous substance does not injure the worm born in that substance, so he who does his Svadharma incurs no evil.]

सहजं कर्म कौन्तेय सदोषमपि न त्यजेत् ॥

One should not relinquish, O son of Kunti, the duty to which he is born, though it is attended with evil, for all undertakings are enveloped by evil, as fire by smoke.

[Duty etc.—this need not mean caste duty.

All undertakings : one's own as well as others' duties.

The greatest evil is bondage and this endures so long as one lives in the realm of the Gunas, except in the case of a freed soul. All action is comprised in one or the other of the Gunas. All action therefore involves the evil of bondage.]

ed जितात्मा who has subdued his heart विगतस्पृहः whose desires have fled संन्यासेन by renunciation परमां the Supreme नैष्कर्म्यसिद्धिं the perfection consisting in freedom from action अधिगच्छति (he) attains to.

· He whose intellect is unattached everywhere, who has subdued his heart, whose desires have fled, he attains to the supreme perfection, consisting of freedom from action by renunciation.

[He attains.....renunciation—This may also be interpreted to mean: he attains the supreme state in which he remains as the actionless Self, by his renunciation of all actions, for which he is prepared by his right knowledge.]

Endued with a pure intellect, subduing the body and the senses with fortitude, relinquishing sound and such other sense-objects, abandoning attraction and hatred ;

[Pure : free from doubt and misconception, being merged in Brahman through the elimination of all alien attributes ascribed to It.

Relinquishing sound &c.—abandoning all superfluous luxuries, all objects except those only which are necessary for the bare maintenance of the body, and laying aside attraction and hatred even for those objects.]

Resorting to a sequestered spot, eating but little, body, speech and mind controlled, ever engaged in meditation and concentration, possessed of dispassion ;

[Eating but little—as conducive to the serenity of thought by keeping off languor, sleepiness and the like.

Meditation—upon the nature of the Self.

Concentration—one-pointedness of thought, on one feature of the Self.

Dispassion—for the seen and the unseen.]

Forsaking egoism, power, pride, lust, wrath and property, freed from the notion of “mine,” and tranquil, he is fit for becoming Brahman.

[Power—that power which is combined with passion and desire.

Property : Though a man who is free from all passions of the mind and the senses, may own so much of external belongings as is necessary for bodily sustenance and for the observance of his religious duties (Dharma), yet this the aspirant abandons, even if this comes of itself, because he does not regard the bodily life as his ; thus he becomes a Paramahansa Parivrâjaka, a Sannyasin of the highest order.]

Brahman-become, tranquil-minded, he neither grieves nor desires; the same to all beings, he attains to supreme devotion unto Me.

[Brahman-become : not that he is yet freed and become the Absolute, but is firmly grounded in the knowledge that he is Brahman. His attainment of freedom is described in the next verse.

The Lord, O Arjuna, dwells in the hearts of all beings, causing all beings, by His Mâyā, to revolve, (as if) mounted on a machine.

[See commentary to IX. 10.

Arjuna means 'white,' and here it signifies—'O pure-hearted one.']

Thus has wisdom more profound than all pro-fundities, been declared to thee by Me; reflecting over it fully, act as thou likest.

[It: the Shâstra, the teaching as declared above.]

Occupy thy mind with Me, be devoted to Me, sacrifice to Me, bow down to Me. Thou shalt reach Myself ; truly do I promise unto thee, (for) thou art dear to Me.

[Thou shalt reach Myself : Thus acting,—i.e., looking upon the Lord alone as thy aim, means and end—thou shalt attain the Highest.

Truly do I promise unto thee.—Have implicit faith in the declarations of Me, the Lord, as I pledge thee My troth.]

Relinquishing all Dharmas take refuge in Me alone ; I will liberate thee from all sins ; grieve not.

[All Dharmas—including Adharma also : all actions, righteous or unrighteous, since absolute freedom from the bondage of all action is intended to be taught here.

Take refuge in Me alone—knowing that there is naught else except Me, the Self of all, dwelling the same in all.

Liberate thee—by manifesting Myself as thy own Self.

All sins : all bonds of Dharma and Adharma.

Sankara in his commentary here very strongly combats the opinion of those who hold that highest spiritual realisation (Jnana) and work (Karma) may go together in the same person. No work, save such as is done absolutely without attachment, self-interest or passion, solely for the benefit of mankind, can be performed by him who has realised the true nature of the Soul, viz., its freedom from all worldly conditions and limitations, and its self-dependent light and bliss. So the conclusion is, that neither the conjunction of Jnana with Karma, nor Karma alone conduces to the absolute cessation of Samsâra, but it is only the Right Knowledge of the Self which does so.]

This is never to be spoken by thee to one who is devoid of austerities, nor to one who does not render service, nor to one who cavils at Me.

[This—Shâstra which has been taught to you.

Service—to the Guru ; अशुभं वे also means,—to one who does not wish to hear.]

He who with supreme devotion to Me will teach this deeply profound philosophy to My devotees, shall doubtless come to Me alone.

[Teach—in the faith that he is thus doing service to the Lord, the Supreme Teacher.

Doubtless : or, freed from doubts.]

And he who will study this sacred dialogue of ours, by him shall I have been worshipped by the Yajna of knowledge; such is My conviction.

[Yajna of knowledge: A Yajna can be performed in four ways, such as (1) Vidhi or ritual, (2) Japa, (3) Upâmsu, or a prayer uttered in a low voice, or (4) mânasa, or prayer offered with the mind. Jnâna-yajna or the Yajna of knowledge comes under the head of mânasa, and is therefore the highest.

The study of the Gitâ will produce an effect equal to that of the Yajna of knowledge.]

my memory through Thy grace, O Achyuta.
I am firm ; my doubts are gone. I will do Thy word.

[Memory—of the true nature of the Self.

Firm—in Thy command.

The purpose of the knowledge of Shâstras is the destruction of doubts and delusions, and the recognition of the true nature of the Self. Here, the answer of Arjuna conclusively shows, that that purpose has been fulfilled in him..

The teaching of the Shâstra is over here. The rest is only to connect it with the main narrative.]

(1) O Blessed Lord, O Supreme Ruler, how may one, who is held back by his Prârabdha Karma, obtain unswerving devotion?

[Prârabdha Karma—Karma has been divided into three principal kinds, having regard to the time in which its fruit is to be reaped: Agâmi, Sanchita, and Prârabdha. Agâmi is that whose fruit will be reaped in the next incarnation. Sanchita consists of those seeds, as it were, which will bear fruit in the remote future. Prârabdha is that Karma which we have already begun to reap.]

ज्ञानसिद्धिं स लभते ततो याति परं पदम् ॥ १० ॥

(10) That man who with steady mind recites the eighteen chapters daily, attains the perfection of knowledge and thus reaches the highest plane.

पाठे समग्रेऽसम्पूर्णे ततोऽर्धं पाठमाचरेत् ॥

तदा गोदानजं पुण्यं लभते नात्र संशयः ॥ ११ ॥

(11) If the whole cannot be recited, then half of it may be read; and he who does this acquires merit, equal to that, of the gift of a cow. There is no doubt of this.

त्रिभागं पठमानस्तु गङ्गास्नानफलं लभेत् ॥

षडंशं जपमानस्तु सोमयागफलं लभेत् ॥ १२ ॥

(12) By the recitation of a third part, he may gain the same merit as by bathing in the Ganges.

By the repetition of a sixth part, he may obtain the fruit of the Soma-sacrifice.

एकाध्यायं तु यो नित्यं पठते भक्तिसंयुतः ॥

रुद्रलोकमवाप्नोति गणो भूत्वा वसेच्चिरम् ॥ १३ ॥

(13) He who reads, full of devotion, éven one chapter daily, attains to the Rudraloka, and lives there for a long time, having become one of those who wait on Shiva.

[Become &c.—lit., attained to Ganahood.]

अध्यायं श्लोकपादं वा नित्यं यः पठते नरः ॥

स याति नरतां यावन्मन्वन्तरं वसुन्धरे ॥ १४ ॥

(14) The man who daily reads a quarter of a chapter, or of a Sloka, O Earth, attains to Manhood throughout the duration of a Manu.

[Attains to Manhood: is born every time in a man-body.]

गीतायाः श्लोकदशकं सप्त पञ्च चतुष्टयम् ॥

द्वौ त्रीनेकं तदर्धं वा श्लोकानां यः पठेन्नरः ॥ १५ ॥

चन्द्रलोकमवाप्नोति वर्षाणामयुतं ध्रुवम् ॥

गीतापाठसमायुक्तो मृतो मानुषत्वं व्रजेत् ॥ १६ ॥

(15 & 16) The man who recites ten, seven, five, four, three or two Slokas, or even one or half a Sloka of the Gita, certainly lives in Chandraloka for ten thousand years. Intent on the reading of the Gita, he who leaves the body obtains the world of Man, after death.

गीताभ्यासं पुनः कृत्वा लभते मुक्तिमुत्तमाम् ॥

गीतेत्युच्चारसंयुक्तो त्रियमाणो गतिं लभेत् ॥ १७ ॥

(17) Again practising the Gita, he attains Supreme Mukti. The dying man uttering the word "Gita" will find the way (to salvation).

गीतार्थश्रवणासक्तो महापापयुतोऽपि वा ॥

वैकुण्ठं समवाप्नोति विष्णुना सह मोदते ॥ १८ ॥

(18) One who loves to hear the meaning of the Gita, even though he has been full of evil deeds, attains to heaven, and lives in beatitude with Vishnu.

गीतार्थं ध्यायते नित्यं कृत्वा कर्माणि भूरिशः ॥

जीवन्मुक्तः स विज्ञेयो देहान्ते परमं पदम् ॥ १९ ॥

(19) He who constantly meditates on the meaning of the Gita, even though he performs Karma incessantly,—he is to be regarded as a Jivanmukta, and after the destruction of his body he attains to the highest plane of knowledge.

गीतामाश्रित्य बहवो भूभुजो जनकादयः ॥

तत्कल्मषा लोके गीता याताः परं पदम् ॥ २० ॥

(20) By the help of this Gita, many kings like Janāka became free from their impurities and attained to the highest goal. It is so sung.

गीतायाः पठनं कृत्वा माहात्म्यं नैव यः पठेत् ॥

वृथा पाठो भवेत्तस्य श्रम एव ह्युदाहृतः ॥ २१ ॥

(21) He who having finished the reading of the Gita, does not read its Mâhâtmyam as declared here, his reading is in vain, it is all labour wasted.

एतन्माहात्म्यसंयुक्तं गीताभ्यासं करोति यः ॥

स तत्फलमवाप्नोति दुर्लभां गतिमान्मुखात् ॥ २२ ॥

(22) He who studies the Gita, accompanied with this discourse on its Mâhâtmyam, obtains the fruit stated herein, and reaches that goal which is difficult to be attained.

सूत उवाच ॥

माहात्म्यमेतद्गीतायाः मया प्रोक्तं सनातनम् ॥

गीतान्ते च पठेद्यस्तु यदुक्तं तत्फलं लभेत् ॥ २३ ॥

(23) Suta said: He who will read this eternal greatness of the Gita, declared by me, after having finished the reading of the Gita itself, will obtain the fruit described herein.

[These declarations will, no doubt, seem to be mere flights of extravagant fancy, if they are taken in their literal sense. They may be explained either (1) as mere Arthavâda or a statement of glorification meant to stimulate a strong desire for the study of the Gita, which being performed from day to day, may, by the force of the truth and grandeur of one or other of its teachings, strike an inner chord of the heart sometime, so much so as to change the whole nature of the man for good ; (2) or, the "reading" and "reciting" and so forth, of the whole or a part, may not perhaps be taken in their ordinary sense, as meaning lip-utterance and the like, but in view of the great results indicated, they may be reasonably construed to mean the assimilation of the essence of the Gita teachings into the practical daily life of the individual. What wonder, then, that such a one who is the embodiment of the Gita would be a true Jnanin, or a Jivanmukta, or that he would, in proportion to his success of being so, attain the intermediate spheres of evolution and finally obtain Mukti ?] .

इति श्रीवाराहपुराणे श्रीगीतामाहात्म्यं सम्पूर्णम् ॥

Thus ends in the Vârâha Purâna the discourse designated : THE GREATNESS OF THE GITA.
